AGA KHAN UNIVERSITY EXAMINATION BOARD

Notes from E-Marking Centre on HSSC-II English Compulsory Annual Examinations 2024

Introduction

This document has been produced for the teachers and candidates of Higher Secondary School Certificate (HSSC) Part II English Compulsory. It contains comments on candidates' responses to the 2024 HSSC-II Examination indicating the quality of the responses and highlighting their relative strengths and weaknesses.

E-Marking Notes

This includes overall comments on candidates' performance on every question and some specific examples of candidates' responses that support the mentioned comments. Please note that the descriptive comments represent an overall perception of the better and weaker responses as gathered from the e-marking session. However, the candidates' responses shared in this document represent some specific example(s) of the mentioned comments.

Teachers and candidates should be aware that examiners may ask questions that address the Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) in a manner that requires candidates to respond by integrating knowledge, understanding and application skills they have developed during the course of study. Candidates are advised to read and comprehend each question carefully before writing the response to fulfil the demand of the question.

Candidates need to be aware that the marks allocated to the questions are related to the answer space provided on the examination paper as a guide to the length of the required response. A longer response will not in itself lead to higher marks. Candidates need to be familiar with the command words in the SLOs which contain terms commonly used in examination questions. However, candidates should also be aware that not all questions will start with or contain one of the command words. Words such as 'how', 'why' or 'what' may also be used.

General Observations

Candidates demonstrated varying levels of understanding and skills. In Constructed Response Questions (CRQs), many showed a good grasp of textual analysis, accurately identifying main ideas and supporting details. However, some struggled with inference and implicit meaning. The paired texts revealed strengths in comparing and contrasting, with several candidates adeptly highlighting the differences. However, when asked to "draw differences between the passages," some candidates misinterpreted the instruction and provided diagrams instead of written responses. This highlights the need for closer attention to command words and instructions.

In the cloze passage, vocabulary and contextual understanding were assessed. It was observed that candidates generally found the grammatical concepts to be challenging.

In Extended Responses Questions (ERQs), report writing was generally well-attempted, whereas weak areas such as inadequate formatting, and insufficient supporting evidence were observed. Résumé composition, often accompanied by a cover letter, demonstrated a range of writing skills, from clear and concise to somewhat incoherent and lacking in relevance.

Essay writing brought out creative perspectives, but also exposed areas for improvement, including weak paragraphing structures, inadequate use of cohesive and transitional devices. These points are considered in assessing the responses (see detailed marking criteria in each question's feedback). Also, it is crucial to follow to the given space for each question. By addressing these areas, candidates can significantly enhance their performance. Overall, the responses reflected a spectrum of language proficiency, highlighting both strengths and areas for growth.

Nonetheless, it is essential for teachers to demarcate a clear division while addressing each area in CRQs as well as ERQs; and concentrate on providing candidates with practice on the relevant content/ areas of improvement to foster conceptualised understanding of English.

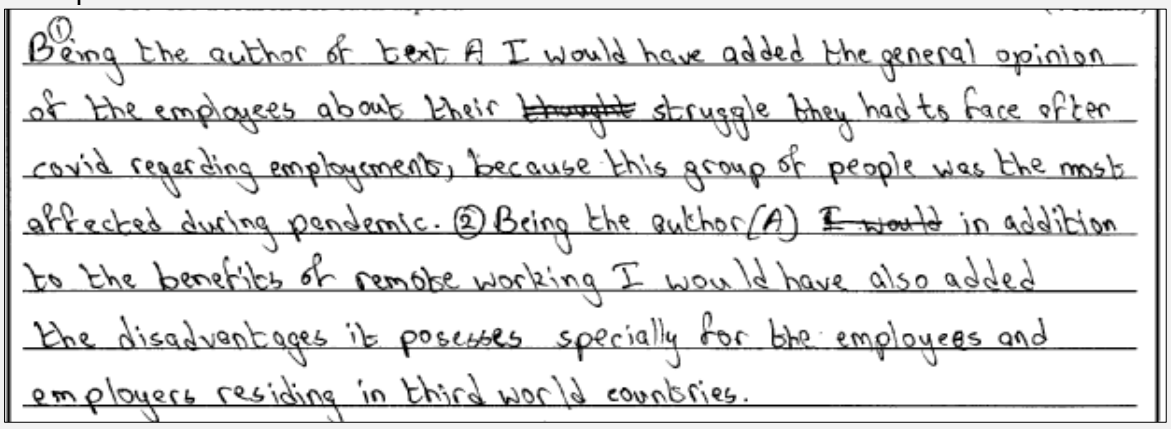

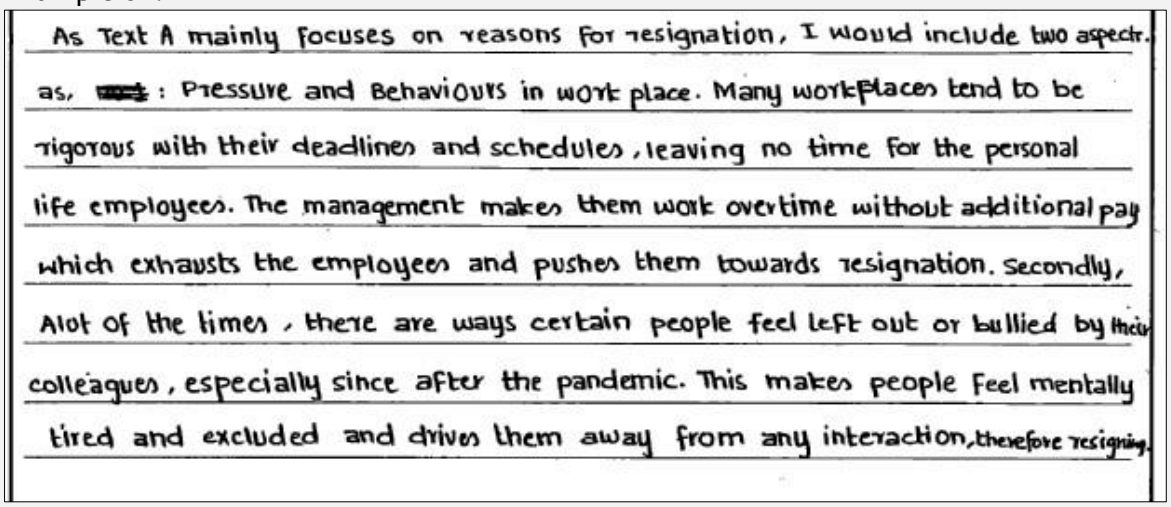

The following is a description of the task and skills required for fulfilment of those tasks.

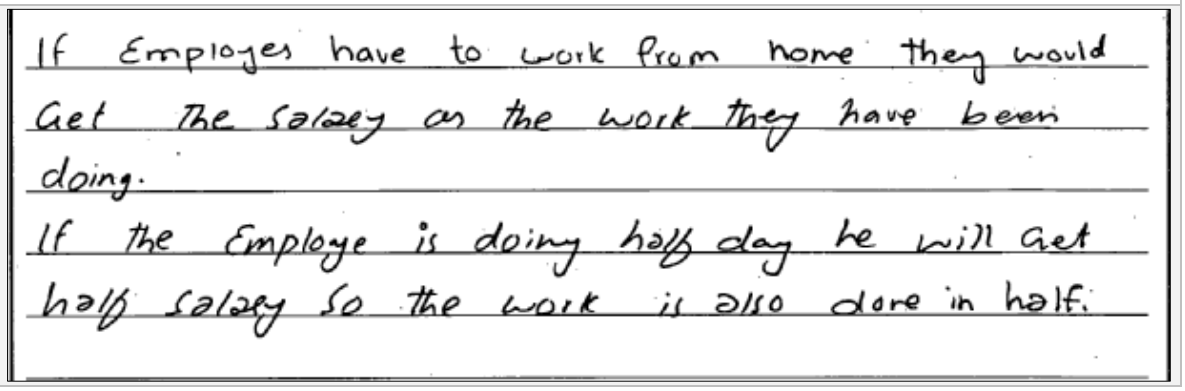

Question No	Question Type	Skills Assessed
1 (a, bi, bii, c, d)	CRQs on a Reading Passage	- Ability to understand a reading text on a literal level (main/sub ideas) - Ability to understand a reading text on inferential level (opinions, evidence, reasoning, cause and effect, reading between the lines) - Reasoning skills
2	Cloze Passage	- Ability to read and understand the given text - Ability to provide missing information as per the context of a passage
3 (a, b) 4 (a, b, c)	Letter and Essay Writing	- Ability to develop a formal piece of writing with appropriate focus, organisation and purpose - Ability to describe, narrate, express, present the facts/logic, explain the familiar topics/situations - Ability to use accurate sentence structure. Connective devices, spellings, etc.

Note: Candidates' responses shown in this report have not been corrected for grammar, spelling, format, or information.

DETAILED COMMENTS

Constructed Response Questions (CRQs)

Question No. 1a
Question Text	If you were the author of Text A, what TWO aspects would you have added in the Text? Provide a reason for each aspect.
SLO No.	5.1.16
SLO Text	Analyse and add relevant information from outside the text to expressive/ reflective, persuasive/ argumentative and/ or analytic text.
Max Marks	4
Cognitive Level	*A
Checking Hints	1 mark for stating each point (2 required) 1 mark for a reason for each point (2 required) (Note: If the candidate has mentioned another VALID point, marks were awarded accordingly.)
Overall Performance	It was well attempted question by the candidates. Responses offered an insightful understanding of the passage and presented other aspects. However, few were unable to elaborate it properly.
Description of Better Responses	Candidates' responses varied, but they were similar in suggesting additional aspects, such as the struggles employees faced during the COVID period and the disadvantages of remote work, especially in third-world countries. Other aspects included the statistical data to show the number of people resigning, various jobs that people can do remotely to show that people have countless opportunities of working from home without leaving their residence and paying for commute. Moreover, strategies to develop senior-leadership skills was also mentioned because people need to be aware of how to polish their innate skills that will hone their managerial skillset.
Images of Better Responses	Example 01:  ① Being the author of text A I would have added the general opinion of the employees about their ~~thought~~ struggle they had to face after covid regarding employement, because this group of people was the most affected during pandemic. ② Being the author (A) ~~I would~~ in addition to the benefits of remote working I would have also added the disadvantages it posesses specially for the employees and employers residing in third world countries. Example 02:  As Text A mainly focuses on reasons for resignation, I would include two aspects. as, ~~one~~ : Pressure and Behaviours in work place. Many workplaces tend to be rigorous with their deadlines and schedules, leaving no time for the personal life employees. The management makes them work overtime without additional pay which exhausts the employees and pushes them towards resignation. Secondly, Alot of the times, there are ways certain people feel left out or bullied by their colleagues, especially since after the pandemic. This makes people feel mentally tired and excluded and drives them away from any interaction, therefore resigning.

Description of Weaker Responses	Weaker responses reinstated what the author stated in the article by copying phrases from the passage. Few mentioned some irrelevant or vague aspects as highlighted in the image below.
Image of Weaker Response

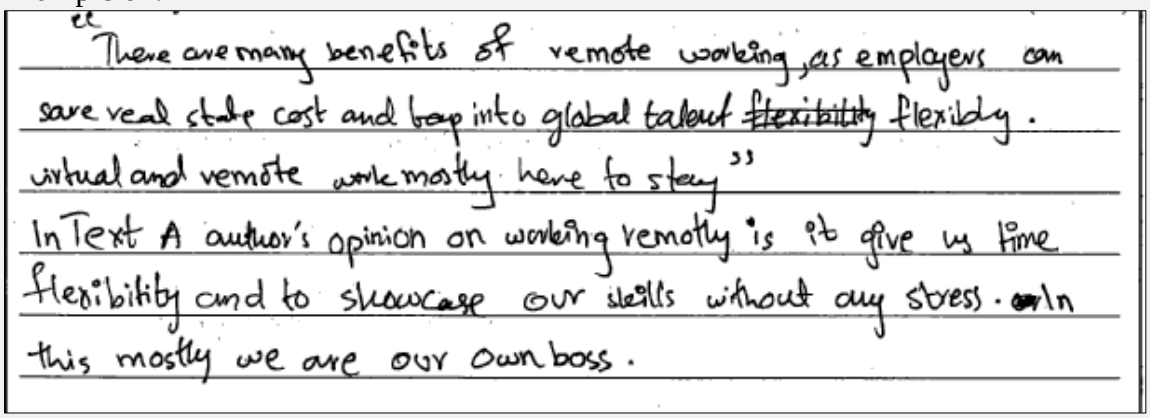

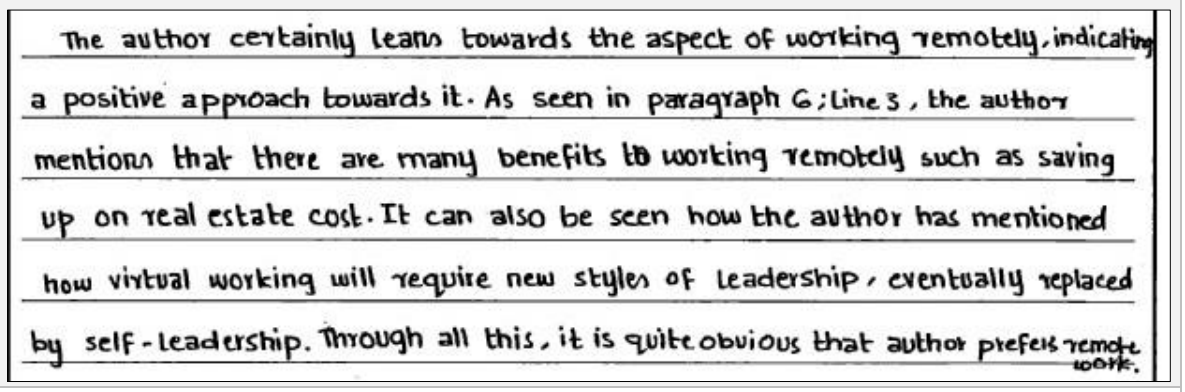

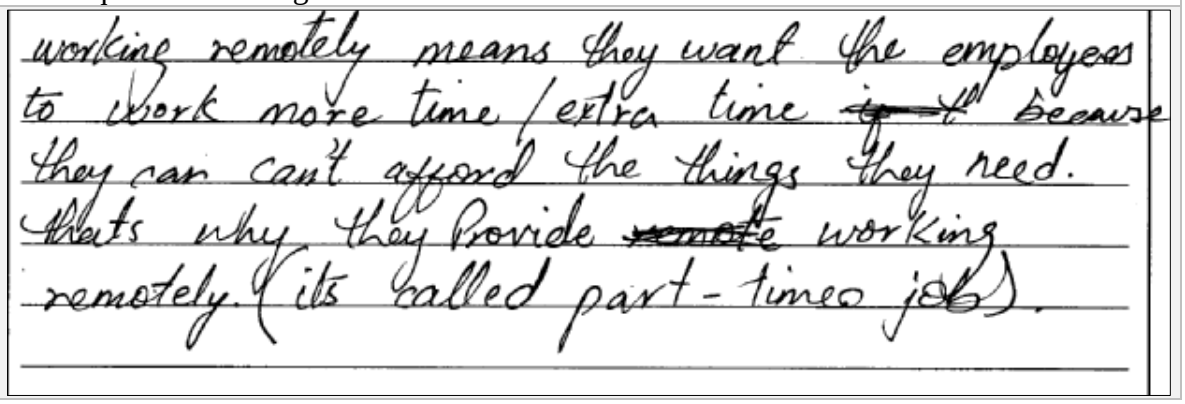

If Employes have to work from home they would Get The salary as the work they have been doing.
If the Employe is doing half day he will Get half salary so the work is also done in half.

Question No. 1bi
Question Text	By referring to Text A, i. Describe the author's opinion on working remotely. Provide a textual reference to support your answer.
SLO No.	5.1.11
SLO Text	Discuss author's purpose in a range of texts by identifying his/ her opinion and facts presented.
Max Marks	3
Cognitive Level	U
Checking Hints	2 marks for describing (1 mark for only stating) 1 mark for the textual reference Note: If the candidate is discussing the advantages award marks.

Overall Performance	Generally, the question was well-attempted. However, some candidates mentioned only the references from the text without describing the author's opinion on working remotely.
Description of Better Responses	Better responses included the references from the text by describing the author's opinion on working remotely. They further described the textual reference such as the author has a positive/ optimistic/ favourable approach towards remote/ online work, or work from home and believes this could help companies/ employers retain their staff. Hence, promoting healthy work relationships.
Images of Better Responses	Example 01:  "There are many benefits of remote working, as employers can save real state cost and tap into global talent ~~flexibility~~ flexibly. virtual and remote work mostly here to stay" In Text A author's opinion on working remotly is it give us time flexibility and to showcase our skills without any stress. In this mostly we are our own boss. Example 02:  The author certainly leans towards the aspect of working remotely, indicating a positive approach towards it. As seen in paragraph 6; Line 3, the author mentions that there are many benefits to working remotely such as saving up on real estate cost. It can also be seen how the author has mentioned how virtual working will require new styles of leadership, eventually replaced by self-leadership. Through all this, it is quite obvious that author prefers remote work.
Description of Weaker Responses	In weaker responses, candidates were unable to comprehend the requirement of the question; the responses concluded the meaning or reason of remote working, instead of mentioning the author's opinion. They focused on other unrelated aspects such as remote work equate to working overtime.
Image of Weaker Responses	 working remotely means they want the employees to work more time / extra time ~~to~~ because they can can't afford the things they need. thats why they provide ~~remote~~ working remotely. (its called part-time jobs).

Any Additional Suggestion:
Candidates are advised not to replicate the passage in their responses. Teachers are encouraged to focus on candidates' abilities to answer the questions in their own words. Utilise the Teacher's Guidebook on the AKU-EB website for assistance.
Highlight Key Phrases: Teach students to identify words or phrases that indicate the author's opinion.
Analyse Tone and Language: Encourage students to pay attention to the tone (e.g., positive, negative, neutral) and word choice, as these often reflect the author's attitude or stance.\
Summarize Main Points: Have students practice summarizing the main points of a passage, focusing specifically on what the author is trying to convey as their main opinion.

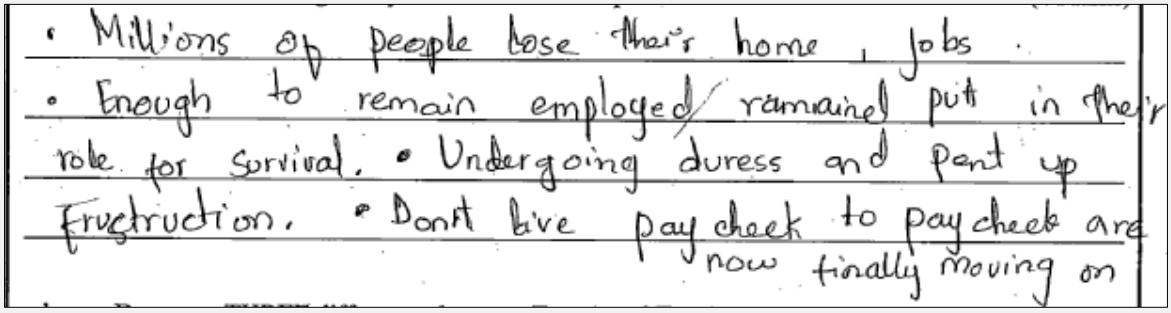

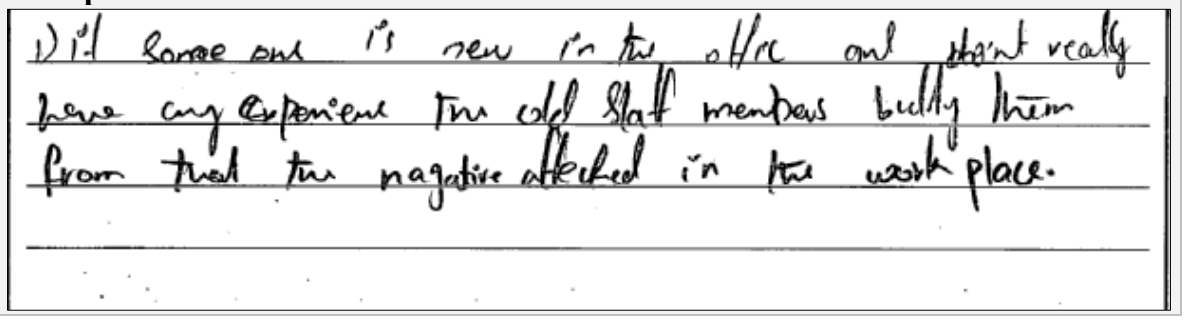

Question No. 1bii
Question Text	ii. Do you think that remote work is the future of doing business or networking? Give THREE reasons to support your answer.
SLO No.	5.1.8
SLO Text	Evaluate the issues/ ideas presented in the text with examples from everyday life.
Max Marks	3
Cognitive Level	A
Checking Hints	1 mark for each reason (any 3 required) Note: - Any other VALID reason should be awarded marks. - If the candidate has given an opinion only, award 1 mark.
Overall Performance	Overall, it was a well-attempted question. It was observed that the candidates argued both 'for' and 'against' the future of remote working. However, some responses restated references that were already given in the passage instead of justifying their stance.
Description of Better Responses	Most of the candidates' responses saying 'Yes' included the points such as people can give time to their families and save up on fuel costs. They also recommended that since freelancing is becoming popular, people can work from any part of the world as it increases productivity with higher motivation level. They can also manage better work-life balance. They further suggested that there will be less sickness-related absences. While the candidates saying 'No' mentioned the reasons such as it is not suitable for everyone especially those people who have no access to technology or there might be connectivity issues because of internet speed. Other suggested that people will feel isolated leading to more depressive thoughts or there will be a lot of distractions at home. On the other hand, few candidates showed the other side that the employers will face challenge in monitoring their staff performance.

Images of Better Response	Example 01:  4. Yes, remote work is the future of doing business or networking as: i, Employee can save their time by remotely working in a company and develop skills that are required in future and explore new things. ii, Companys don't have maintain their resources for huge number of employees. iii, Remote working provides ease of working and flexibility to both companies companies and employee's. Example 02:  Yes! I certainly believe that remote work is the future of doing business by looking at the benefits it provides to the employers & workforce, which includes, the cost reduction of, such as, travel expenses, gas expenses etc. This would aid in the savings of the workforce. ⇒ Moreover the employees do feel comfortable at their homes, and if their comfort zone is changed into workplace they would definitly flourish. ⇒ the employers would also save great amount of money which could increase the bonus of employee Example 03:  No, I dont think so ~~for~~ future of business depends upon remotely working as due to the introduction of flexibility people will lose self-discipline in them, as they have to work from home they wouldn't even be properly dressed in a formal attire. (2) punctuality will also be reduced due to flexibility as employees would become more lazy and (3) productivity will also decrease. Businesses main roots are their productivity, creativity and quality. Without these skills the companies wouldn't survive.
Description of Weaker Responses	Weaker responses included the statements from the passage. A few could not infer the question by just bifurcating "remote business or networking" as two different aspects of working.
Image of Weaker Response	 yet it is opinion based but I think that it is the way by People do business because after pandemic situation people save their real state cost and convert into global Talent flexibility.

Question Text	With reference to the information presented in Text B, state any FOUR ways in which people's mental health is affected in the workplace.
SLO No.	5.1.8
SLO Text	Evaluate the issues/ ideas presented in the text with examples from everyday life.
Max Marks	4
Cognitive Level	U
Checking Hints	1 mark for each way (any 4 required) Note: If the candidate mentioned aspects of Text B, marks were awarded. Any other VALID way was awarded marks accordingly.
Overall Performance	The overall response of this question was good. Responses offered an insightful understanding of the mental health issues at the workplace.
Description of Better Responses	In better responses, the candidates mentioned key issues such as bullying, workload, micromanagement, unrealistic deadlines, depression, weak cognitive functioning, changes in physical appearance/ bodily functions, barriers in social interaction, lack of personal and professional motivation among others.
Image of Better Response
Description of Weaker Responses	Weaker responses included one or two ways only. Few mentioned only the effects of COVID-19 on individuals which was not a requirement of the question.

Images of Weaker Response	Example 01:  • Millions of people lose their home, jobs • Enough to remain employed/ remained put in their role for survival. • Undergoing duress and pent up frustration. • Don't live pay check to pay check are now finally moving on Example 02:  1) If some one is new in the office and don't really have any experience the old staff members bully them from that the negative affected in the work place.

Question No. 1d
Question Text	Draw any THREE differences between Text A and Text B.
SLO No.	5.1.4
SLO Text	Synthesise information (treatment, scope and organisation of ideas) from two texts based on the same theme/ topic.
Max Marks	3
Cognitive Level	A
Checking Hints	1 mark for each difference (any 3 required) If the candidate did not explicitly state the terms 'Text A', and 'Text B', but drew differences, marks were awarded.

Overall Performance	This was a much better attempted question as candidates exhibited in-depth analysis and synthesised the information from the two texts. However, there were candidates who misunderstood the command word 'draw'. Despite this, where accurate, such responses were awarded marks. The marks were awarded where candidates drew the differences through pictorial illustrations.
Description of Better Responses	Better responses included the references from the text by describing the differences between the two texts such as Text A has paragraph, whereas Text B is an infographic; Text A is about resignations, while Text B is about mental health issues in the workplace.
Images of Better Responses	Example 01:  1) Text A conveys its information in a textual manner, whereas text B shows information in the form of infographics. 2) Text A lays emphasis and effects of the idea 'The great Resignation'. Text B shows signs of an employee suffering from bad mental health. 3) Text A talk about the strategies carried out by the employers after the pandemic, text B offers solutions for the employees bad mental health. Example 02:  ⇒TextB provides information regarding emotional support and to detect signs of that a team member be experiencing issues related to mental health, while on the other hand Text A has no emotional element and presents fact & information. ⇒ Text A focuses on issues of resignation & its causes while text B contains no information regarding any resignation issue, instead it focuses to maintain employee-employer relation. ⇒ Text A refers to that change of work environment from physical to remote while text B contains no info regarding it. but it focuses to maintain physical environment.
Description of Weaker Responses	Weaker responses failed to draw differences. Instead, the command word 'draw' was misinterpreted as drawing an illustration. A number of candidates drew the diagrams and illustrations which did not highlight the differences. In other instances, it was observed that the candidates only mentioned one difference rather than three.

Question No. 2
Question Text	Read the passage carefully and fill in each of the blanks with ONE suitable word.
SLO No.	6.1.14
SLO Text	Use accurately: a. punctuation (full stops, commas, capitalisation, hyphen, colon); b. spelling; c. subject-verb agreement and tenses; d. sentence construction; e. conjunctions; f. adverbial and subjective clauses; g. conditional clauses; h. words/ phrases to indicate degrees of possibility using adverbs (e.g. perhaps, surely) and modal verbs (e.g. might, should, will, must).
Max Marks	10 marks
Cognitive Level	A
Checking Hints	1 mark for each correct blank (10 required)
Overall Performance	The candidates were given a cloze passage to assess their application of grammar rules. This question could be regarded as the most challenging for the candidates. It should be communicated that whilst solving a cloze passage, candidates must pay attention to the meaning of the passage and its context. Moreover, capitalisation error and spelling mistakes are highly discouraged as it detriments the purpose of grammar rules.
Description of Better Responses	It was observed in better responses that the candidates chose appropriate words, prepositions and forms of words to fill in the blanks. It was noted that the candidates only used one word in each blank.

Description of Weaker Responses	Weaker responses showed lack of the candidates' comprehension skills while completing the given cloze passage. Few candidates wrote two words in one given space which was not required by the question. Candidates should focus on the context of the cloze passage to deduce appropriate terminologies to be used in the given spaces. The candidates also failed to properly adhere to the rules of subject-verb agreement within the passage particularly in blank 10.

Extended response questions offered a choice between parts 'a' and 'b' in Q.3; and between parts 'a', 'b', and 'c' in Q.4.

Question No. 3 (a)
Question Text	You had gone for a two-month internship programme to a non-governmental organisation (NGO) in your city that aims to raise awareness on child labour. The manager of the organisation has tasked you to collect information and data about the number of children working in the city. Write a report to the manager on the given task. In your report, – discuss a key finding of your research. – suggest TWO strategies to raise awareness on child labour. – mention a challenge you faced during gathering.
SLO No.	6.1.3
SLO Text	Write reports demonstrating conventions of report writing.
Max Marks	15
Cognitive Level	A

Ideas are expressed in a logical sequence. • Content reflects appropriate vocabulary, informal tone and style to take into account the nature of relationship with, and the interests of, the recipient. • A variety of sentence structures is used, mostly with control, in all paragraphs. • A range of connectives (if, because, and, but etc.) and cohesive markers (nevertheless, moreover, and therefore etc.) are used to provide details and expand ideas. Average (3-4) • Ideas are expressed clearly but comparatively the expression is plain or there are redundant phrases. • Content reflects appropriate vocabulary, style and tone but usually the ideas are not well connected or the relationship with the recipient is not taken into account. • A variety of sentence structures is used with moderate accuracy / internal consistency. • Few connectives are used to provide details and expand ideas.

	Below Average (1-2) • Sentence structures and language are repetitive or unclear and there are various errors. • Content represents generalized, redundant or disconnected ideas. The style, tone and vocabulary are inappropriate. • Ideas are difficult to interpret because of flawed language. • No internal cohesion or consistency observed. Give 0 if the answer script is blank/ completely irrelevant / illegible.
Overall Performance	Overall, the response to this question proved candidates' ability to provide reasoning behind child labour and in-depth understanding of the strategies involved to raise awareness on the issue. This prompt was attempted by few candidates. Note: It was observed that even in better responses, a few candidates wrote their names, schools and/ or address. It is prohibited to reveal your identity. Teachers need to inform the candidates to avoid using their real names, schools or addresses in the examination. They are further advised to encourage students to write their report using passive voice.
Description of Better Responses	In better responses, the candidates followed the format of a report and demonstrated maturity while responding to the writing task. Their ideas were clearly expressed in a wide range of effective expressions. Content was expressed in appropriate vocabulary, formal tone and style by taking into account the nature of the recipient. Even in better responses, the reports were written in first-person narrative and adopting an informal tone. The candidates discussed the key findings that included normalisation of child labour in some social classes and the need to earn money in this global recession. They also tried to mention the areas they gathered the data from. Moreover, they also mentioned a challenge they had to face during this process such as weather conditions, condition of the roads, etc. Furthermore, they thoroughly explained the strategies to raise awareness on child labour.

Images of Better Responses

Example 01:

To: ABC organization

From: XYZ

Date: 25 May 2024

Subject: The report on the findings of the two-month internship programme

I am XYZ, a resident of ABC area. I am writing this report on the basis of my role as an active member of the two-month internship programme conducted by your organization aimed at collecting the data about child labour throughout the city. We all worked determinedly to fulfill our tasks on this serious issue of our city.

On my observation, I found out the percentage of working children to be relatively more in rural, semi-urban or underprivileged area due to some obvious reasons i.e poverty, unaffordability, unawareness, scarcity of necessities and facilities, etc. Almost every other house had a child working to earn an extra source of income to feed their families besides the small work their families owned. Also, the working conditions and the environment in which the children were forced to work was detrimental to their health, that is quite frustrating. The urbans areas also had some middle class families and lower classes having the young children to work alongside their studies to have a side hussle in order to live with such high inflation rates. In short, child labour is becoming increasingly normalized.

The issue needs to be urgently addressed to prevent the long-lasting impacts it offers. Sessions should be conducted, campaigns should be created and displaying the videos that show ~~the~~ such small stories and suggest the outcomes of child labour ~~should~~ can be beneficial since, the people of rural areas need more detail to the consequences. Another way that can be adopted is presenting the opportunities their children can get in future if they work hard in education and flourish academically. This might heighten the level of their awareness. Above all, the emotional one-one talk with the families will significantly shape their perspectives.

The challenges we confronted while gathering the information about the number of children working in our city were quite serious. The families have normalized this practice to the extent, where a simple approach in raising their awareness is not of any use. They do not have any idea about how severe the consequences can be. Because it is their family tradition, they hardly have an idea about how dangerous and destructive their impacts can be for their children. It can result in complete destruction of their children's potential. Besides this, many children were so pressurized that they were not able to express themselves when we talked to them politely and inferred about the circumstances. The financial weakness in such households has created a huge gap between them and the awareness and updated world outside.

Thus, this national issue needs to be addressed as soon as possible. All the mandatory steps should be taken by the government and all the & appropriate ways should be adopted to increase the awareness about this tribulation. The families should be provided the financial assistance so that low-income and fixed-income backgrounds with less wages can live a quality life and utilize their full potential to develop themselves personally, financially, and professionally to turn these children into valuable asset of our country.

I hope this report will get your attention and soon we will be observing the declining rates of child labour.

Respectfully yours.

Option A

Topic:- Raising awareness on child labour

To:- Manager of ABC NGO

From:- An Intern of ABC NGO

Date:- 25th - May - 2024

INTRODUCTION

On September 1st, 2024, a child labour awareness program by your NGO started its journey which ended by the October 31st. This long & comprehensive trip left an impact on me. The purpose of writing this is to inform you about the diring situation of child labour in our city. Additionally, number of children working for their day-to-day sustenance and the challenges faced by our team on this venture.

NUMBER OF CHILDREN BEING SUBJECTED TO CHILD LABOUR

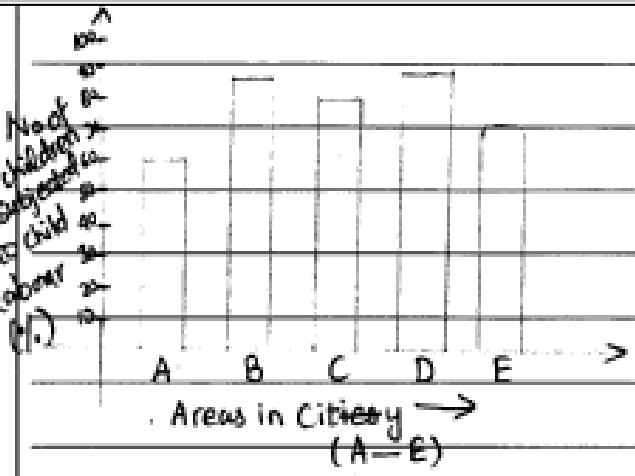

When we started our journey, we weren't really aware of the innumerable amount of children that aren't studying and are out of schools just because of their pitiful financial conditions. The increasing number of children doing tedious tasks for sustenance, is truly devastating and heart-breaking In an estimate, if we take a particular town then 70% out of 100% are out of school and wasting their lives by doing jobs in factories (construction of) where they have to pick heavy bricks on their head.

Despite doing so much hardwork, the superior among them don't even give ~~money~~ half of what they deserve. Children of ages 7 – 10 are targeted & are victims of child labour.

CHALLENGES FACED BY OUR TEAM

The biggest challenge we faced in gathering our information regarding child labour was how common it has been made. This is nothing but snatching a child's right to study & get education without being stressed about their financial situations. Also, when we ~~are~~ were researching, we found two types of parents & their behaviour to their child being subjected to child labour. First kind was the one who didnot have an ounce of sympathy & pity for their children. The children are being neglected of their right & freedom. These parents were merciless as they were not doing any sort of job, despite of their financial situation, and were usurping their child's money to run the house or more specifically to cater their needs. Second category was ones who were helpless as they were doing jobs but still weren't able to make as much money, which is why their children were working. They are obviously not to blame because of their helplessness but the first category was truly heartless & didn't deserve their hardworking children.

FINDINGS

RECOMMENDATIONS

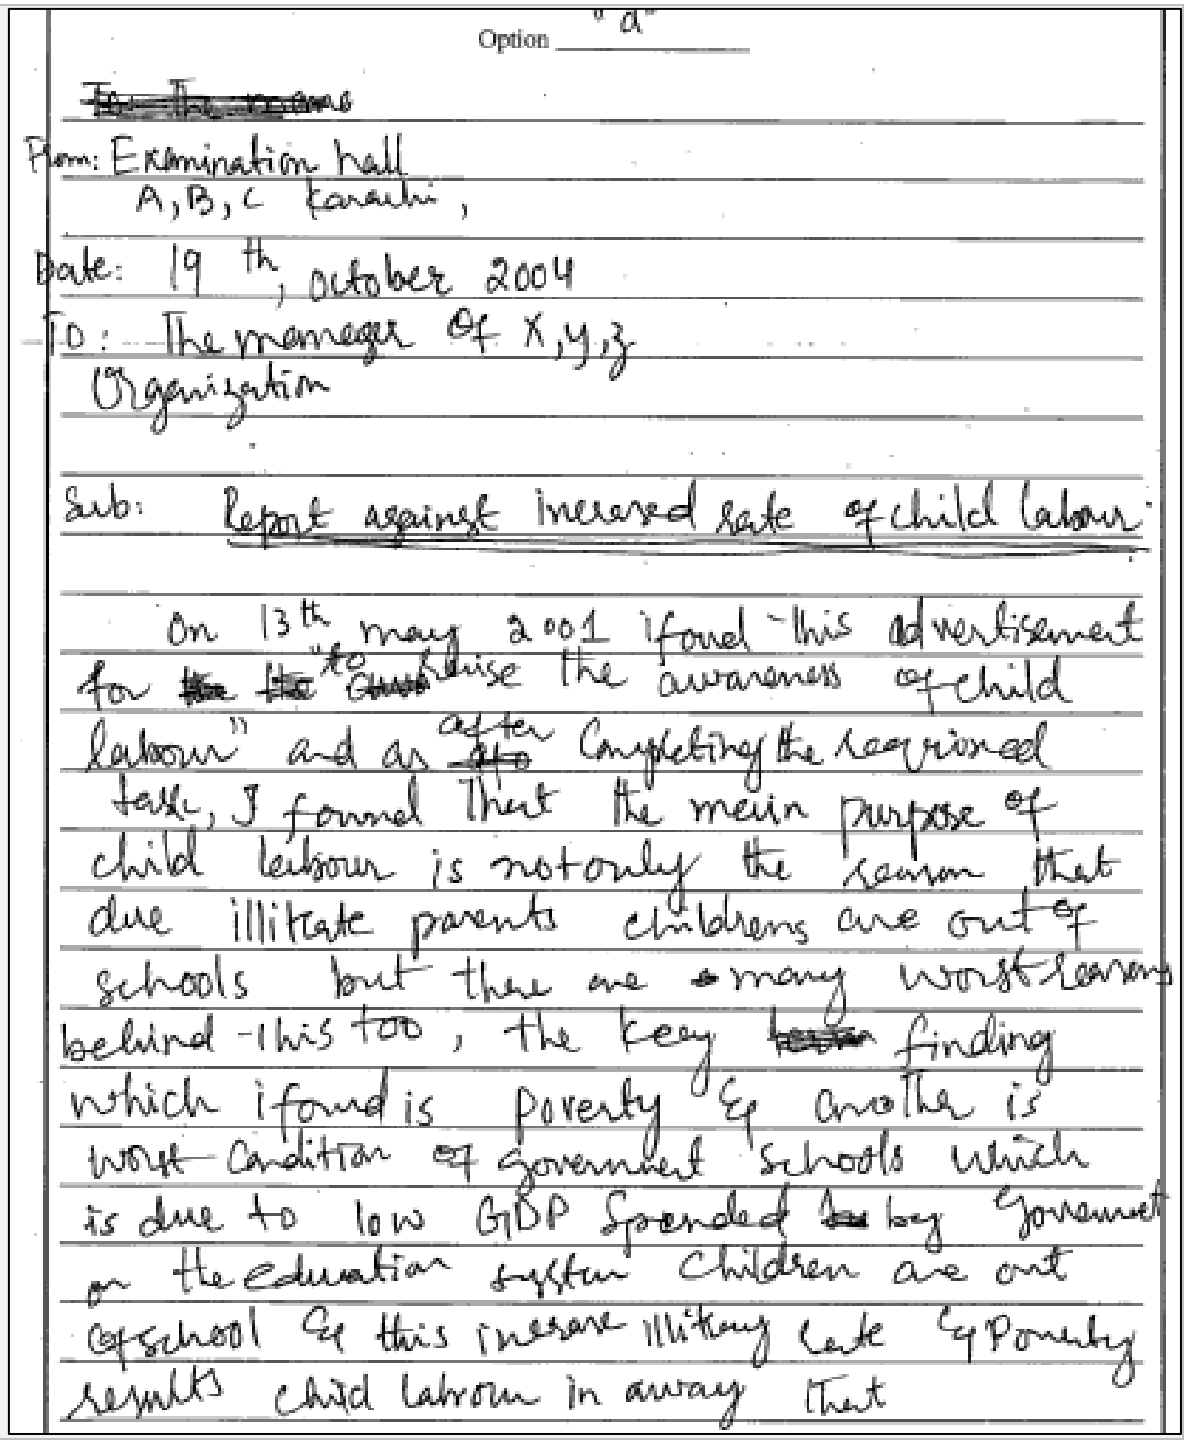

Firstly, posters & boards should be put up in affected areas & volunteers should explain parents of these children about child labour and how its damaging their child. This is direly needed to decrease the number of children being subjected to this cruelty. Secondly, government should impose punishments (fines) on parents who despite knowing disadvantages of child labour, are still not taking a stand against it. Also, free education and financially supporting such families should be taken in consideration.

CONCLUSION

If we take a stand together against this injustice then a change can be made, and child labour can be wiped out from our city.

Subject: Applying for the post of sales manager in your agency

Dear Mr. Asad,

I found the job advertisement on 18th of May via the Daily Bulletin and I am applying for the post of the Sales Manager.

I am eager to work with your television agency to experience my academic studies and bring them into practical work by first hand experience.

You should consider me as your sales manager as I have management and leadership skills. I had led many different types of programs at college and ~~se~~ university level and had managed the whole event. I had volunteered in the program management society of my college and was the member of the team for four years. I had also conducted the empowerment programs at the university level which helped the participants to embrace their skills and also helped me in my management and leadership skills.

My management style also assists me a lot as I am a peoples person and I listen to my teams advices and with their help and guidance I made the whole program accordingly. Moreover, if it is needed I can also manage the things in a budget friendly way without interrupting in the grace of the program.

I have graduated in business advertisements and have a creative mind which can design a lot of different sorts of advertisements for your agency which can boost its popularity gradually.

I hope to have a prompt response. My enclosure passage will guide you more about my skills.

It was night time when I first saw him. Awestruck. You could even say I felt "star struck". Infront of me, as I looked like a mess, there he was, looking like a star in human form. Looking quiet, yet having a certain mischevious glint in his eyes. What made him stand out, was the freckles which adorned his face, it reminded me of the stars, my only solace in the entire world. I could trace constellations on his face. I wanted to be his friend.

Just then his words broke me out from my daze. "Hello" he said in a timid voice. He probably noticed me talking to the stars earlier. But unlike everyone else's reaction to finding out my weird habit, which was usually calling it a childish, stupid, or a waste of time, he approached me with excitement.

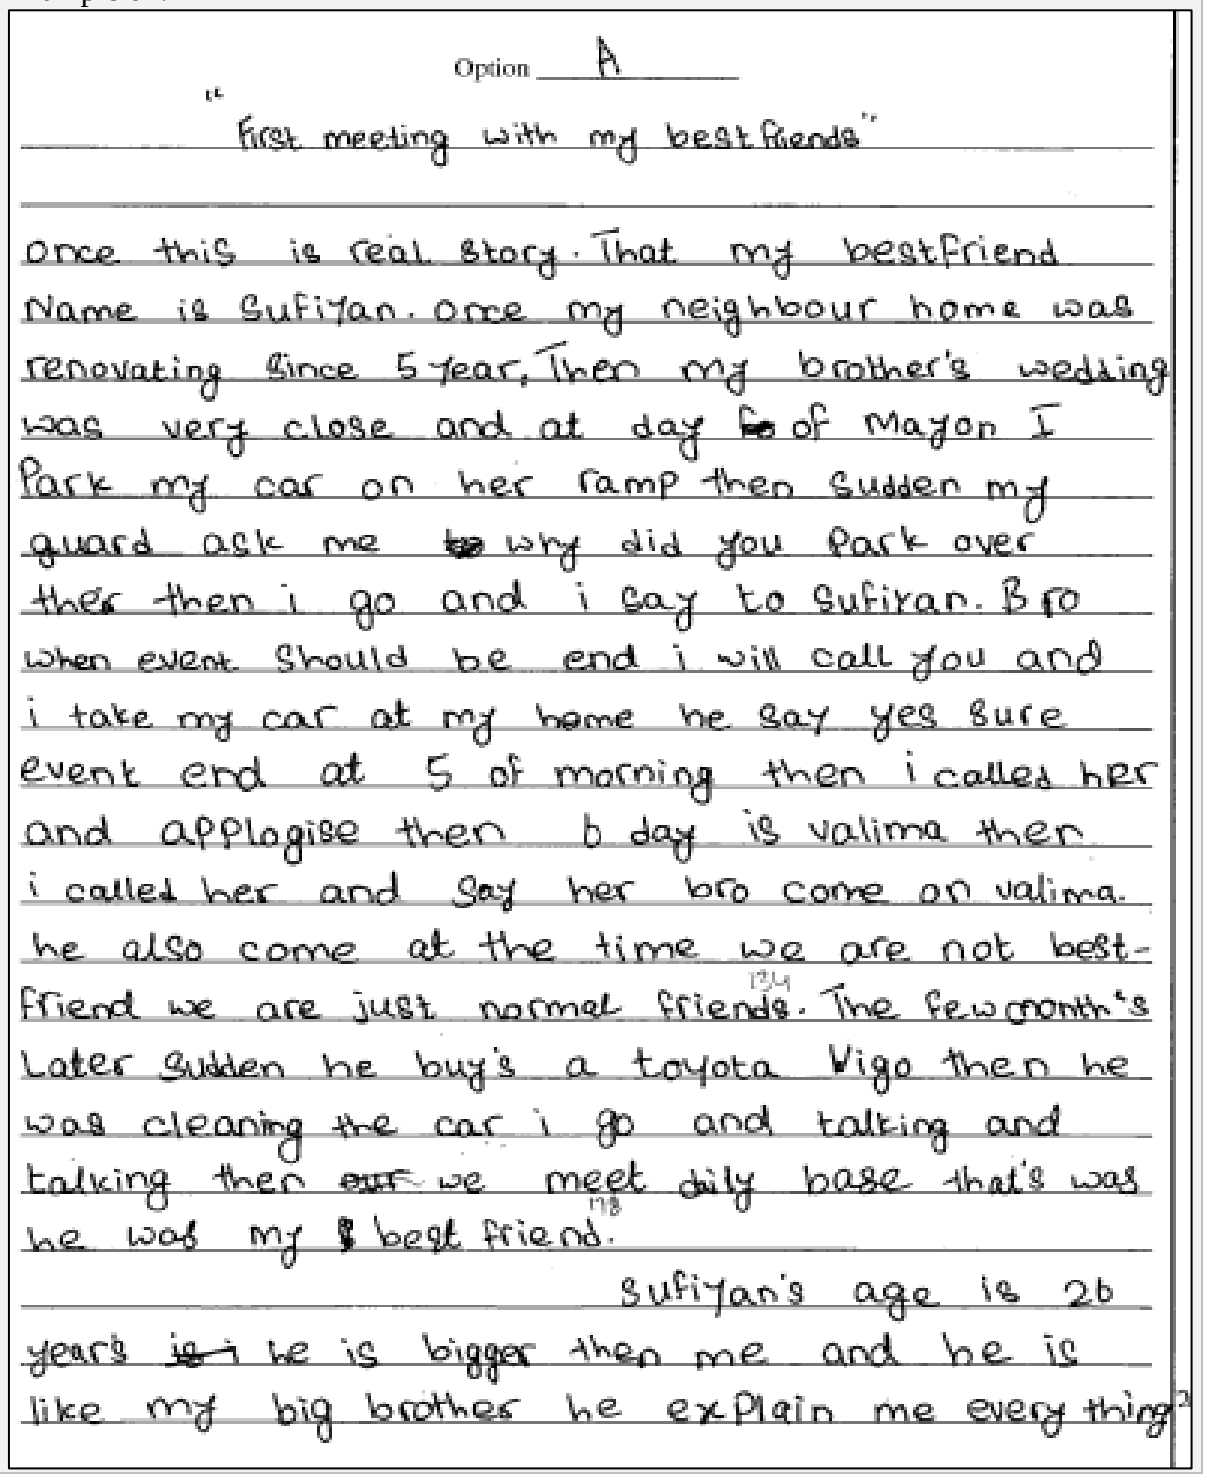

To my surprise he told me that he talked to the stars as well. One more reason to be his friend, I thought. He started telling me about stars, in a way I didn't know before. If him being the personification of comfort wasn't enough of a reason to befriend him, then the way he told me things, making them seem vivid and alive sure was. What had been a night of panic and sadness had turned into something new. I was barely able to utter some words of gratitude when he decided to leave. I remember regretting not asking for his name that night. What I did have was these keychains, he gave me, which I treasured dearly, one day until I met him again after a long time.

It was no mistake. It was the same boy I had met years ago, although not as small, he looked exactly the same. There he was again, the same mischievious, and rebellious glint in his eyes, the same star-freckled face. It was the same face I was trying to hard to recall. There he was, right infront of me, extending his hand. "Hey! I'm Asterius" He gave me the answer I had been looking for all those years. The interaction gave me "Deja Vu".

After that I made sure to never let go of him ever again. The two things he taught me are, no matter how lost you are, and how far you think your answer is, you'll find it, or as he says "The stars will align, and you will find your way. And another thing he taught me was no matter how much you think you are alone and isolated, there is someone out there, who thinks exactly like you, someone who does not think of you as an outcast, there's someone who understands you and your ways, someone, even if they are far, and perhaps even out of sight, theres is someone who cares about you. Stars are often born in pairs so, out there someone is waiting for you. Someone who is looking at the same night sky as you.

And, who knows, they might even become your best friend or soulmate, someone who might change your world view, who may change your perception of being "Star crossed."

Description of Weaker Responses	Weaker responses demonstrated weak reflective writing skills. Most mentioned the meeting as it were a routine task that happened and did not describe the impact on their lives as a result of their best friends. It was also noted that many candidates whose responses lacked depth wrote simple sentences and lacked proper sentence construction.

Financially being independent is every person's fundamental right either men or women. Unfortunately, in this globalized world dominated by men, women are not given the golden opportunity to earn and feed their family. This essay will delve into the two reasons behind the low percentage of women in the country's workforce and provide three strategies for increasing the number of women in the workforce.

To begin with, the major reason behind the low percentage of women in the country's workforce is that ~~(limited participation)~~ lack of awareness in the country. The lack of awareness in the state especially in backward areas of Pakistan where people believe women should not be given the right to get education and when education is not ensuring so it leads to limited participation of women in labour force as this action hinders their right to polish their talents and skills. Hence, women are compelled to stay at home and cannot say anything for their right.

Furthermore, the second major reason behind the limited participation of women in labour force is they are bound not to be independent. Most of men do not cherish when their women become independent and they just want their women to be financially dependent on their partners. A recent research has shown that less than 20% women are in the workforce of Pakistan. While other approximately 80% women are just meant to be doing domestic activities and are not given the golden opportunity to explore the globe due to this mindset.

Moreover, in order to eliminate this gender disparity we can follow some increment strategies to increase the number of women in the country's workforce. First and foremost, the country should provide awareness to the citizen that working in the workforce is not a sin or bad element, besides it is every individual's right for either men or women to decide which field he/she wants to adopt as her dream career. Secondly, the country's workforce can ensure greater participation of women in labour force by increasing the number of seats for women in the workforce so that numerous ladies can participate in this. Thirdly, the workforce should ensure/increase security and protection for women so that women can feel safe, secure protected in that particular field and place. In addition to this, ~~from~~ within the workforce there should not be gender discrimination and gender inequality because it leads to low self-esteem and low-self determination of women which can have offensive impact on the country.

On the whole, a world dominated by men, women are just assume to be house wife which is unfair. The low percentage of women in workforce of the country is due to lack of awareness and no support from their partner or from their family ~~is~~ which undermines ~~there~~ their goal to work in workforce. Let's together stand up and support our women she can be your mom, sister or wife anybody and help them to achieve their goals. and Hence, eliminate this gender inequality around the globe and pave the way for our future generation. If we will not do it, who will do it?

Example 02:

Option b

Some are born great, some achieve greatness and some have greatness thrust upon them. Humans are the best creation of God. He has blessed both men and women equally but only some are able to identify their capabilities and gain benefits from them.

If we look around the world, men and women both are equally contributing in the work force and equally in their country's economy. This is the major reason for western countries being developed while the south Asian countries including Pakistan being underdeveloped or still developing.

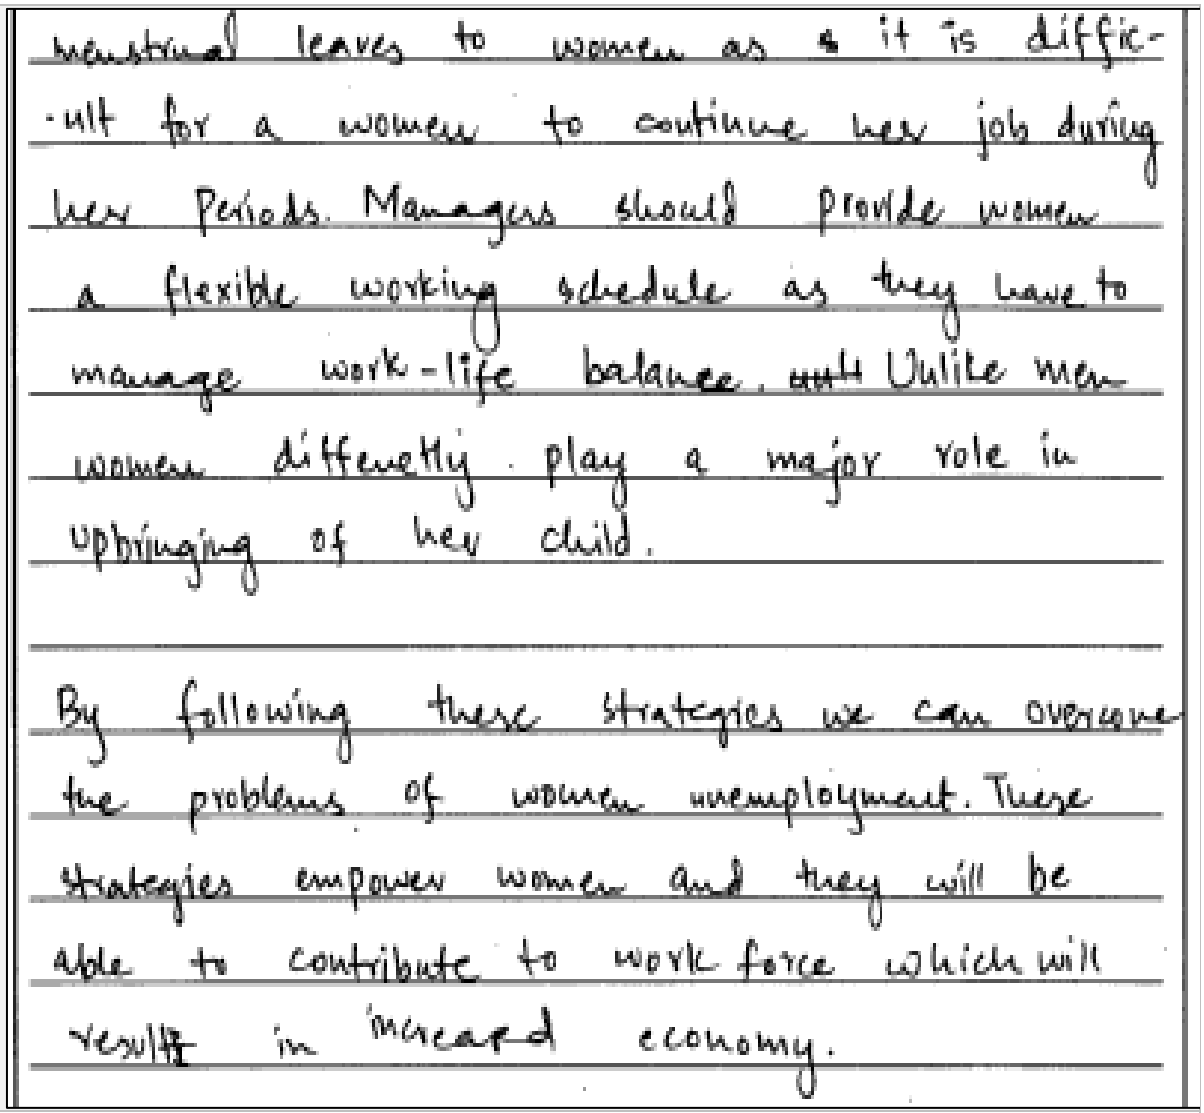

In western countries, women are raised to be able to handle housechores as well as their jobs. Meanwhile men are raised to help their ~~wif~~ wives with house chores, upbringing of kids as well as their jobs. This enables both of them to be mentally ready for what their future demands from them.

In Pakistan, this behaviour is very uncommon.

Usually man wants a wife who can handle all these responsibilities while he handles the outdoor matters. This is the reason why girls are brought out in a way that they have to do house chores and upbringing of kids. Eventhough, girls are acing in academics but because of the demands of in-laws and her husband she can't focus on her career and hence has to quit her job even if she is doing. Another reason for women not contributing to the home work force is the discriminatory factor. Some people due to their egos can't see women above them on a higher rank. This environment discourages women to become a part of work force.

To avoid these problems, people should stop thinking conservatingly and should broad their mindsets. For this, their upbringing should be include how and what to expect from your future life partner and what not to.

Working environment should be women friendly and non-discriminating. Mangers should provide menstrual leaves to women as it is difficult for a women to continue her job during her Periods. Managers should provide women a flexible working schedule as they have to manage work-life balance. Unlike men women differently play a major role in upbringing of her child.

By following these strategies we can overcome the problems of women unemployment. These strategies empower women and they will be able to contribute to work force which will results in increased economy.

Description of Weaker Responses	Weaker responses failed to present the reasons and importance of the women workforce, merely sharing personal thoughts. These responses lacked proper paragraphing, internal cohesion, and consistency. The content was often generalised, redundant, or disconnected, and the vocabulary selection was inappropriate.

Pakistan has come on 145th rank out of 146 countries in World economic forum Global Gender Gap report 2022 because of women make up less than 20% we of the work force i women not having employment or working. In There are many reasons behind women not working The main reason is ~~that~~ the no facilities for women on work place like. there are is no transportation facility to women to go to work ~~place~~ yes if there is this facility but it is not safe for women mean there is no any security for women transporting and now to Another is that the work places are not made as women so they can work comfortably by the work palaces if there is a women working in a Office and man are also noticing the women have insecurities there at work palace and Another factor of this low percentage is that there are most of city other in pakistan that are not graduate they live in the 19 or before 20 mind set

Women parents or his partner closed allow them to get their feet out of home if girl is not married and for suppose she is educated although their parent will not allow her to work because the mind set of the backward fathers they says that as she gets study we will get her marry and after marriage and childs it is difficult for women also to go to workplace for work ~~as~~ as ~~men~~ who they think who will take care of child. The mind set in those areas is the factor of the low percentage and most of cities of pakistan have that mind set in those area it is said that she is a girl she can't ~~wo~~ or can ~~go~~ work how she will go outside and as being a women how she will deal with others they are afraid of their thing and don't let these women work this all can be solved by some of the strategies that there should be proper facilities for women as in other countries to go on work place and at work palace the goverments should ~~give~~ give women proper transport facilities to travel

And by awareness in those cities that women are something they are not weak they can bear this or faces the problem and deal with others ~~by~~ by women ~~in~~ impowered it can the numbers can also increase in the report

Option B

Pakistan is a Islamic country, But it cannot ~~fol~~ following the islamic rules and regulation and implement them as they want to do so. There is no equality Justice, Soverity. The major inequality is between men and women. ~~Even those~~ Quaid-e-Azam said in their speech that in this country every Person get equal rights and their is no difference between men or women

Now a days according ~~to the survey~~ pakistan is ranking on Global gender gap report. Because the ~~uneducated~~ uneducated peoples or man make miths the the girls are not ~~allowed~~ allowed to go work. They can not go to ~~the~~ the workplaces, Moreover they cannot allowed to do work with men Why?

In pakistan mostly people are mostly uneducated and cannot avired that a women have same right of living like a men have. Secondly at ~~If~~ workplaces ~~the~~ women take risk and go to do work ~~as~~ in offices

Overall Performance	Overall, this question was well-attempted. Candidates discussed how societal pressure affects a person's mental health by resonating with daily life experiences, what they observe, and what society expects from them. Moreover, they discussed the strategies to tackle such pressure. This was also attempted by few candidates.
Description of Better Responses	Better responses demonstrated a variety of sentence structures to communicate their ideas effectively, employing proper punctuation, spelling, and grammar. They mentioned techniques such as re-evaluating, reassessing, and critically observing society to understand how people can bring positive change. Additionally, they offered suggestions when dealing with stress such as practicing mindfulness and meditation, maintaining a healthy lifestyle with regular exercise and a balanced diet, seeking social support from friends and family, engaging in hobbies and activities that bring joy, and setting realistic goals to manage workload effectively. Even in better responses, candidates made few errors in spelling.

Option "C"

Societal pressure is one of the biggest setbacks that comes along in life of an teenager, adult and even old age people. The saicty is mix of people and their values, based upon that perceptions and ideas are formed, from which individuals are forced to walk on them and make their way to success.

Societal pressures are mixed with deep down generational traumas which are never healed and are passed down without any doubt and thought. They affect a individuals life in so many ways. It affects their personal, professional and although their mental lives. Individuals are no longer gaining experiences from their own lessons instead they are forced to listen the old talks that are no longer initiated in the 21st century. These pressures makes a person lost their capabilities and talents just because they are not meeting the expectations of the society. People no longer dream to be a millionaire because they think the society needs an helpful decent guy who only achieve his dreams until they are accomplished. They don't let us try and that makes our self esteem low.

Professional life are often categorized as the parents responsibility. They choose what we are going to study, and the career we are going to pursue. The backbone of the experiences is coming from the society because we as adults are never trusted by our actions. "Our dreams are never important because they know the best" Our Personal Lives are mostly affected by the society. How are we going to do certain things that are important to us. mostly as an female they ask "when are you going to marry"? This questions lives in my head rent free because the disturbance this causes ~~to~~ my makes my head go crazy. The pressure to say something ~~something~~ in an argument which leds to something's "bad" comes back at us because as an society "we cannot stand up for ourselves".

The ways we can deal with societal pressure is that (1) We should know what path are we going to go to get. Because if we are confuse in that, we are in a cage then. We need to see what is important for us, so we cannot get into a pressure that we don't want to go. (2) knowing the ~~wr~~ right and wrong. This makes alot difference when we are dealing with societal pressure. If we are unable to determine what right and wrong is then we are certainly obsessed by the decisions society makes for us.

(3) Standing for yourself.

This is the most important thing that can help you cope up with societal pressure. If you are not confident in yourself and always doubting your inner self then people are going to ~~take~~ take advantage of you and never let you work on your decisions.

The biggest thing that makes us overcome the fear of coping societal pressure is that believing in yourself, and knowing yourself that much. If you are into some trouble, "you" know that you can fix it!

Our or future generations wants us to be brave and confident, and people who are ready for anything.

Society is some way right but making your decisions based on the views of society and not yours is the biggest regret you can give yourself.

Societal pressure is an hard thing to cope up with but when we are determined into getting something we really want, then none no one can get that from you. Our lives, are our reflection of who we are and we cannot make that life a blur image.

Example 02:

Option C

"Meri beti toh doctor banegi ji", "Painting mai kya rakha hain" and "business chor kya shopkeeper banne hain" are some of the dialogues that a secondary school student often listen often. The dialogues are classified under the title of 'awkward parenting' or broadly under 'societal pressure'. This pressure has detrimental effects on a young individual & whose mind has not yet ripened. These societal ill'd actions of impacts an individual's well being from every aspect; its personal and professional life and mental health.

Parents usually say you have to return our sacrifices through your performance and choosing a profession we like. Similarly, society's gimmicks that parents are educating you, investing of their money you must be a doctor. These talks put a gloomy impacts on child's personal and professional life. Such individual bounds herself just to satisfy their parents and not without any personal will. He avoid socializing and work hard with a subject that has never been parallell with her potentials. This impacts her personality as she manifests an introvert and weak person individual having zero potential of decision making. Similarly, when this individual follow the path which her parents have structured for her she gets into a profession that was not attracted her for an instant. So, as per human nature when you go with things you never liked will result in showing zero interest. This lack of interest will definitely result give rise to low performance. Ultimately, failure to continue it.

It is to be mentioned that failure, being introvert or weak personality we are not the ultimate real consequences but such individual carry mental illness in one or other step of life. When society pressurize and immature individual to follow the path express a personality or choose a profession, puts such the person in mental stress which gradually go towards severity and gonde it gets depression. This mental illness is may be the result of failure to perform of regret of of not making right decision in right time. Such depressed individual then become unable to go with a flow with in life or end life due to unbearable failures in life.

Above mentioned outcomes reflect that the act of societal pressure [illegible] is dangerous for individual and as well as for society. So, it must be addressed or dealt in a proper way. Adding to it, society must be made aware regarding impacts of societal pressure and must be educated about it which this term and how their acts are proved to be hazardous for society. Students must be counselled regarding options to prioritize their potentials instead of their society's wills. Similarly, parents must be educated regarding parenting and as to let childerens chose their dreams and to let them make decision for themselves without thinking about society or family.

This is a world of skills and now there are multiple dimensions and professions. Working with skills not only have positive impacts on individual but whole society. So, to develop a prosperous society, we must end the culture of 'societal pressure' or 'awkward parenting'. The term just comprises of two words but it has long lasting effects on an individual and whole society. So, this culture must be diminished.

Description of Weaker Responses	Weaker Responses did not exhibit internal consistency in their writing. Such candidates missed either the ways or steps taken to bring change in the society. Some responses showed a lack of focus in the middle of the essay and concluding with a completely irrelevant outcome which was not required.

Annexure A: Pedagogies Used for Teaching the SLOs

Pedagogy: Storyboard
Description: A visual pedagogy that uses a series of illustrated panels to present a narrative, encouraging creativity and critical thinking. It helps learners organise ideas, sequence events, and comprehend complex concepts through storytelling.
Example: In a Literature class, students are tasked with creating storyboards to visually retell a novel. They draw key scenes, write captions, and present their stories to the class, enhancing their reading comprehension and fostering their imagination.

Pedagogy: Cause and Effect
Description: This pedagogy explores the relationships between actions and consequences. By analysing cause-and-effect relationships, learners develop a deeper understanding of how events are interconnected and how one action can lead to various outcomes.
Example: In a History class, students study the causes and effects of the Industrial Revolution. They research and discuss how technological advancements in manufacturing led to significant societal changes, such as urbanisation and labour reform movements.

Pedagogy: Fish and Bone
Description: A method that breaks down complex topics into main ideas (the fish) and supporting details (the bones). This visual approach enhances comprehension by highlighting essential concepts and their relevant explanations.
Example: During a Biology class on human anatomy, the teacher uses the fish and bone technique to teach about the human skeletal system. Teacher presents the main components of the human skeleton (fish) and elaborates on each bone's structure and function (bones).

Pedagogy: Concept Mapping
Description: An effective way to visually represent relationships between ideas. Learners create diagrams connecting key concepts, aiding in understanding the overall structure of a subject and fostering retention.
Example: In a Psychology assignment, students use concept mapping to explore the various theories of personality. They interlink different theories, such as Freud's psychoanalysis, Jung's analytical psychology, and Bandura's social-cognitive theory, to see how they relate to each other.

Pedagogy: Audio Visual Resources
Description: Incorporating multimedia elements like videos, images, and audio into lessons. This approach caters to different learning styles, making educational content more engaging and memorable.
Example: In a General Science class, the teacher uses a documentary-style video to teach about the solar system. The video includes stunning visual animations of the planets, interviews with astronomers, and background music, enhancing students' interest and understanding of space.

Pedagogy: Think, Pair, and Share
Description: A collaborative learning technique where students ponder a question or problem individually, then discuss their thoughts in pairs or small groups before sharing with the entire class. It fosters active participation, communication skills, and diverse perspectives.
Example: In a Literature in English class, the teacher poses a thought-provoking question about a novel's moral dilemma. Students first reflect individually, then pair up to exchange their opinions, and finally participate in a lively class discussion to explore different viewpoints.

Pedagogy: Questioning Technique (Socratic Approach)
Description: Based on Socratic dialogue, this method stimulates critical thinking by posing thought-provoking questions. It encourages learners to explore ideas, justify their reasoning, and discover knowledge through a process of inquiry.
Example: In an Ethics class, the instructor uses the Socratic approach to lead a discussion on the meaning of justice. By asking a series of probing questions, the students engage in a deeper exploration of ethical principles and societal values.

Pedagogy: Practical Demonstration
Description: A hands-on approach where learners observe real-life applications of theories or skills. Practical demonstrations enhance comprehension, skill acquisition, and problem-solving abilities by bridging theoretical concepts with real-world scenarios.
Example: In a Food and Nutrition class, the instructor demonstrates the proper technique for filleting a fish. Students observe and then practice the skill themselves, learning the practical application of knife skills and culinary precision.

(Note: The examples provided in this annexure serve as illustrations of various pedagogies. It is important to understand that these pedagogies are versatile and can be applied across subjects in numerous ways. Feel free to adapt and explore these techniques creatively to enhance learning outcomes in your specific context.)
