AGA KHAN UNIVERSITY EXAMINATION BOARD

Notes from E-Marking Centre on SSC-I Islamiyat Annual Examinations 2025

Introduction

This document has been produced for the teachers and candidates of Secondary School Certificate (SSC) Part I Islamiyat. It contains comments on candidates' responses to the 2025 SSC-I Examination indicating the quality of the responses and highlighting their relative strengths and weaknesses.

E-Marking Notes

This includes overall comments on candidates' performance on every question and some specific examples of candidates' responses that support the mentioned comments. Please note that the descriptive comments represent an overall perception of the better and weaker responses as gathered from the e-marking session. However, the candidates' responses shared in this document represent some specific example(s) of the mentioned comments.

Teachers and candidates should be aware that examiners may ask questions that address the Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) in a manner that requires candidates to respond by integrating knowledge, understanding and application skills they have developed during the course of study. Candidates are advised to read and comprehend each question carefully before writing the response to fulfill the demand of the question.

Candidates need to be aware that the marks allocated to the questions are related to the answer space provided on the examination paper as a guide to the length of the required response. A longer response will not in itself lead to higher marks. Candidates need to be familiar with the command words in the SLOs which contain terms commonly used in examination questions. However, candidates should also be aware that not all questions will start with or contain one of the command words. Words such as 'how', 'why' or 'what' may also be used. It is imperative to refer to the command word guide available on AKU-EB website for understanding the expectations of the command word.

General Observations

The overall performance of the entire cohort in the examination indicates that the majority of candidates used their time effectively by offering relevant and focused responses that attempted to address the questions as instructed. Their responses demonstrated relevance and corresponded with the requirements. However, the candidates seemed challenged in the questions related to Quranic ayaat and collective justice. It was also observed that candidates struggled to construct their responses as per the command words used in the questions.

Note: Candidates' responses shown in this report have not been corrected for grammar, spelling, format, or information.

Overall Performance	The majority of candidates provided clear and concise responses, demonstrating a solid understanding of the topic. They not only comprehended the question about 'the recitation of the Holy Qur'an' guiding every spiritual aspect of life but also articulated their arguments effectively. Their satisfactory performance indicates a good grasp of the subject matter and an ability to effectively communicate their understanding.
Description of Better Responses	In better responses, candidates explained that the recitation of the Holy Qur'an serves as a means of spiritual guidance, helping individuals to remain steadfast in worship, stay away from evil thoughts, draw closer to Allah Ta'ala, and purify their hearts and souls. Additionally, they highlighted that the Holy Qur'an is Al-Shifa (a healing) for spiritual ailments.

Description of Weaker Responses	In weaker responses, candidates failed to fully understand the requirements of the question. Instead of presenting arguments for the recitation of the Holy Qur'an as a source of guidance for spiritual matters, they focused on its worldly aspects, such as inheritance, dowry (مہر), and other social injunctions. Some candidates merely provided a basic introduction to the Holy Qur'an, describing it as a book of information, guidance, and law, rather than addressing the question's specific focus.

Question No. 1b
Question Text	Translation: "Righteousness is not that you turn your faces toward the east or the west, but righteousness is one who believes in Allah, the Last Day, the angels, the Book and the Prophets and gives wealth in spite of love for it, to relatives, orphans, the needy, the traveller, those who ask (for help) and for freeing slaves, establishes prayer and gives Zakat …" (Al-Baqarah: 177) In light of the given ayah (translation), answer the following questions: i. What is the MAIN teaching of the given ayah (translation)? ii. Describe any TWO practical implementation of the given ayah in daily life.
	1.2.5
SLO Text	Apply the moral teachings and values of the selected ayaat in an individual and collective life mentioned in sub-topic 1.2.
Max Marks	3
Cognitive Level	A

Checking Hints	Give ONE mark for writing of MAIN Teaching of the given ayah. Give ONE mark for the practical application of the given ayah (TWO required).
Overall Performance	Overall, candidates performed well in this question by mentioning the relevant guidelines regarding the main teaching and practical implementation of the given ayah. However, majority of the candidates were not able to score full marks due to either wrongly identifying the main teaching or not being able to provide with two practical applications of the ayah.
Description of Better Responses	In well-crafted responses, candidates demonstrated a clear and comprehensive understanding of the question, effectively addressing both its components: the MAIN teaching of the given ayah and its practical application in daily life. They identified the core concept of righteousness (taqwa) as central to the ayah, emphasising the importance of maintaining a balance between the rights of Allah Ta'ala (حقوق الله) and the rights of fellow human beings (حقوق العباد). Additionally, candidates elaborated on the practical implications of this teaching, highlighting that true righteousness goes beyond mere beliefs and extends to active practice of Allah's commandments. They provided examples such as helping those in need, offering physical and emotional support to others, and utilising personal skills and resources for the welfare of society.
Images of Better Responses	Image (i)  i. What is the MAIN teaching of the given ayah (translation)? (1 Mark) We should believe in Allah and all His creations, and we should help the needy people and give zakat and establish prayers. ii. Describe any TWO practical implementation of the given ayah in daily life. (2 Marks) 1. We should give 2.5 % of our wealth to the needy and poor people to help them as a zakat or charity. 2. Not acting on your desire for money, to give it to those who are need and seek help. - Those whose voice are ignored, help them and hee them by raising their voice, support them.
Description of Weaker Responses	Small number of candidates failed to grasp the instructions mentioned in the given ayah and, consequently, were unable to identify its MAIN teaching. Instead of presenting a holistic understanding of righteousness as a balance between the rights of Allah (حقوق الله) and the rights of human beings (حقوق العباد), they narrowly interpreted righteousness as being limited to acts of worship, particularly focusing on turning one's face towards the Qibla for Salah (prayer). Additionally, some candidates inappropriately mixed their responses with unrelated ayaat from Surah Al-Nisa, which diverted their answers from the actual requirements of the question.
Image of Weaker Responses	 i. What is the MAIN teaching of the given ayah (translation)? (1 Mark) It mainly mean, Righteousness in not done by Salah, but by beleive in Tawheed and all written in Quran. ii. Describe any TWO practical implementation of the given ayah in daily life. • Identify the expectation of command words (use Command Word Guide) • Ensure the content is taught at the relevant cognitive level • Identify necessary content required (skills + concepts) • Review past paper questions on the concept • Utilise the resource guide for additional materials	• Story Board • Cause and Effect • Fish and Bone • Concept Mapping • Audio Visual Resources • Think, Pair and Share • Knowledge Platform videos • Questioning Technique (Socratic approach) • Practical Demonstration	• Past paper questions • Discussion on E-Marking Notes • AKU-EB Digital Learning Solution powered by Knowledge Platform https://akueb.knowledgeplatform.com/login

Any Additional Suggestion:
To improve students' understanding, teachers should carefully consider the context of the ayaat included in the syllabus and ensure their instruction remains focused on these specific ayaat and the selected key words. By doing so, they can help students develop a deeper comprehension of the intended message without diverting to unrelated content, thereby enabling more accurate and relevant responses. This approach is essential, as it has come to attention that students tend to overlook the contextual background.

Question No. 2a
Question Text	According to Hadith No.7 in the syllabus, Salah (prayer) is called as the pillar of Deen. State any TWO benefits of congregational Salah (prayer).
SLO No.	2.2.2
SLO Text	Explain the key messages of the Ahadith mentioned in sub-topic 2.2.
Max Marks	2
Cognitive Level	R
Checking Hints	Give ONE mark for writing benefits of Salah (prayer) (TWO required).
Overall Performance	This question was related to Hadith No. 7 given in the syllabus. There was a mixed response from the candidates, reflecting that many were not able to clearly distinguish between individual and congregational Salah. However, those who understood congregational Salah provided accurate and comprehensive answers, demonstrating a clear grasp of the concepts and the ability to articulate their understanding effectively.
Description of Better Responses	Candidates discussed several key benefits of congregational Salah (prayer), emphasising its role in fostering unity, brotherhood, equality, punctuality, and discipline among Muslims. They highlighted how performing Salah (prayer) collectively strengthens the sense of community and reinforces social bonds, promoting mutual respect and cooperation within society. Additionally, few candidates mentioned that congregational Salah (prayer) carries greater spiritual merit and reward compared to individual Salah (prayer).

Images of Better Responses	Image (i) 1. Salah teaches us punctuality and teaches us to prioritize our time well which helps us in our worldly life. 2. Salah is direct communication to Allah. It brings us closer to Allah, makes us feel connected to Him and love Him more. Image (ii) When people stand together in congregational prayers, they are motivated by each other punctuality and modesty. In congregations, all the people stand at the same level regardless of social and financial status, thus encouraging a sense of equality.
Description of Weaker Responses	In weaker responses, few candidates demonstrated difficulty in distinguishing between private (individual) Salah and congregational Salah. Instead of addressing the specific virtues and collective benefits of congregational Salah, they focused on the merits of individual Salah, such as attaining inner peace, strengthening one's personal connection with Allah Ta'ala, and earning good deeds. While these are valid aspects of private worship, they did not align with the requirements of the question, which sought to evaluate understanding of the unique spiritual, social, and communal benefits associated with praying in congregation.

Any Additional Suggestion:

When teaching Ahadith, teachers should include the relevant Hadith numbers and emphasise the key points, particularly by highlighting the MAIN teachings. They should also explain both the individual and collective applications of the Hadith, using practical examples where appropriate, to help students clearly understand its meaning and relevance in real-life contexts.

Question No. 2b

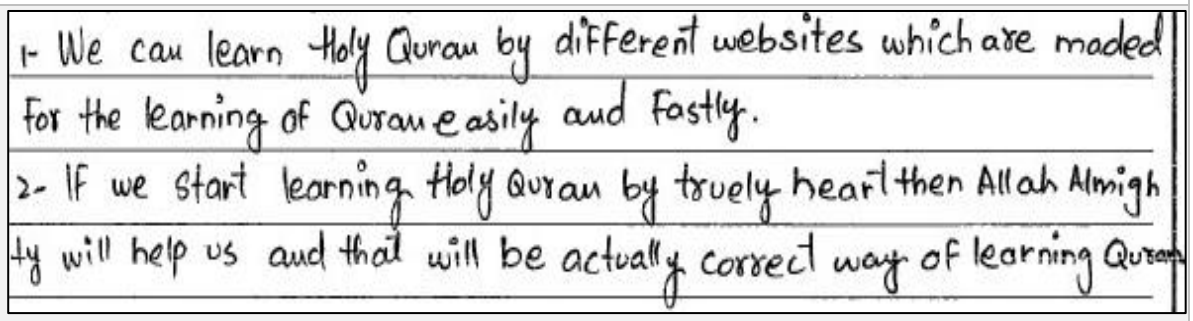

Question Text	كُلُّكُمْ رَاعٍ وَكُلُّكُمْ مَسْؤُولٌ عَنْ رَعِيَّتِهِ۔ (Hadith: 10) Analyse any TWO social applications of the given Hadith.
SLO No.	2.2.5
SLO Text	Analyse the lessons that we can take from these Ahadith for social and moral aspects of our lives.
Max Marks	2
Cognitive Level	A
Checking Hints	Give ONE mark for analysing related to social application of the given Hadith (TWO required).
Overall Performance	This question, which focused on social practices and the concept of responsibility in the Hadith. Overall, the performance of the students was satisfactory, though some found it difficult to fully grasp the essence of the Hadith. However, those who were able to understand it provided well-structured and thoughtful responses, demonstrating both clarity and depth in their understanding. Their responses demonstrated a clear and comprehensive understanding of the Hadith, effectively addressing both individual and collective dimensions of social responsibilities. The depth and relevance of their answers reflected a strong grasp of the Hadith's teachings and their practical application in daily life.
Description of Better Responses	In better responses, candidates skillfully established the relationship between various social and professional roles such as between a ruler and citizens, teachers and students, and parents and their children. They elaborated on how these relationships are governed by the principles of mutual rights and duties, emphasising the importance of justice, fairness, and guidance. Candidates further highlighted that fulfilling these responsibilities involves not only meeting basic rights but also ensuring emotional support, moral development, and the provision of proper guidance. For instance, they discussed how rulers are entrusted with ensuring justice and welfare for their people, how teachers are responsible for imparting knowledge and ethical values, and parents must provide care, nurturing, and moral upbringing for their children. Such responses reflected a well-rounded understanding of the Hadith's teachings on social responsibility and their application across different spheres of life.
Image of Better Response	 1- We can learn Holy Quran by different websites which are maded For the learning of Quran easily and Fastly. 2- If we start learning Holy Quran by truely heart then Allah Almigh ty will help us and that will be actually correct way of learning Quran
Description of Weaker Responses	In weaker responses, candidates did not fully grasp the intent of the question. A review of their answers revealed that they concentrated on discussing the application of Hadith in social life, whereas the question specifically required them to outline personal learning points such as awareness of accountability, the pursuit of knowledge, self-discipline, and moral self-development. This indicates a misunderstanding of the task's focus, which was to reflect on individual lessons and self-improvement strategies, rather than societal implementation

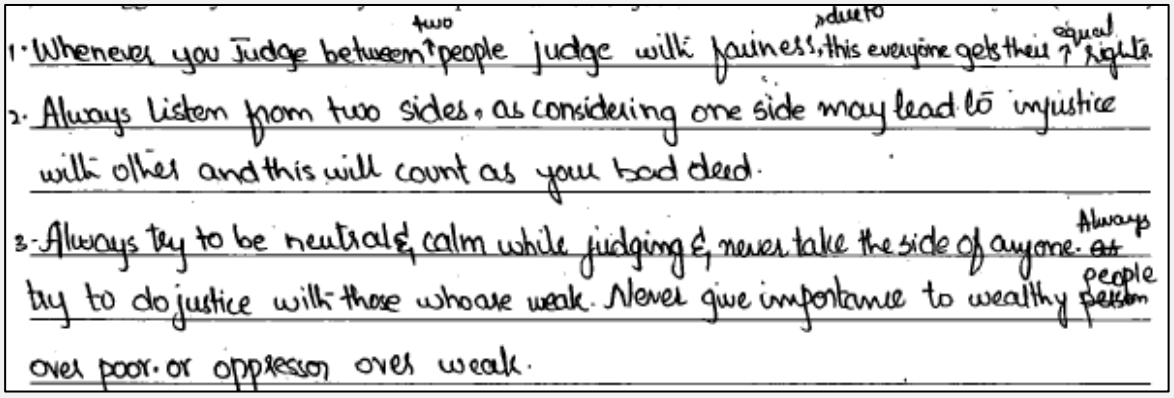

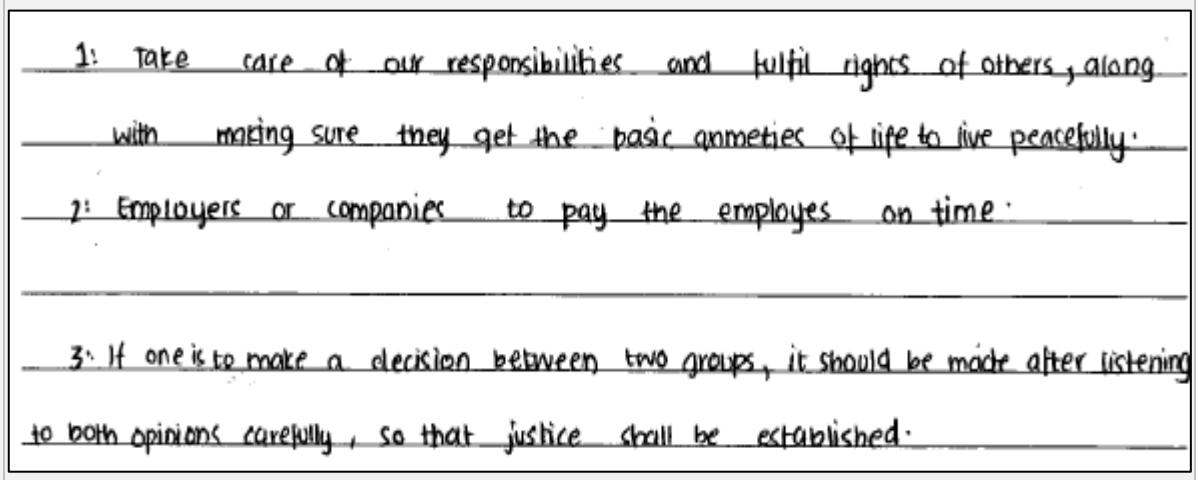

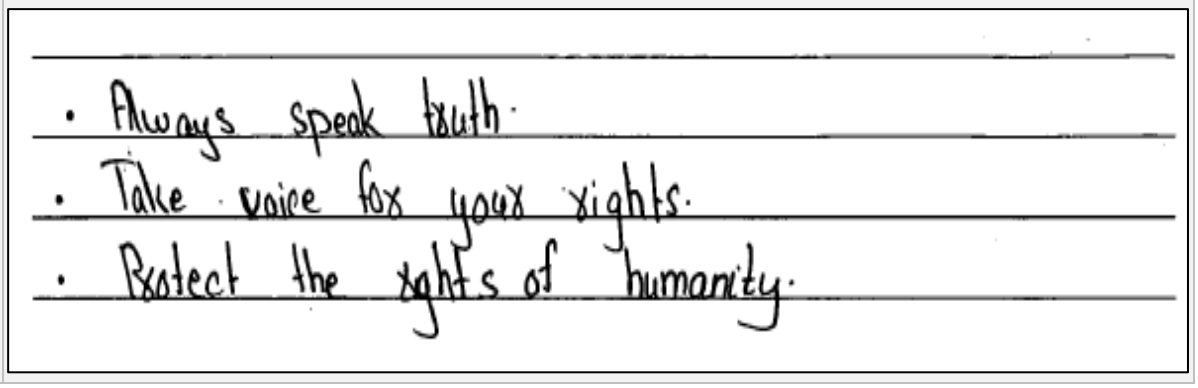

Image of Weaker Response	1) Preach knowledge to others 2) Help others in time of need

Any Additional Suggestion:
When teaching Ahadith, teachers should refer to the relevant Hadith numbers and draw attention to the key points, particularly by emphasising the MAIN teaching. For example, if a Hadith addresses multiple aspects of life, the teacher should illustrate each aspect with relevant, contextual examples to facilitate learners' understanding and enable them to connect the teaching to real-life situations. For instance, in the Hadith "Every one of you is a shepherd, and every one of you will be asked about his flock," teachers can explain the responsibility of parents in raising children with good morals, as well as the responsibility of leaders in ensuring justice and fairness in society. Such examples make the teaching practical and relatable for students.

Question No. 3a
Question Text	Suggest any THREE ways for implementation of justice.
SLO No.	3.12.4
SLO Text	Evaluate the need and possible impact of social justice in the present day.
Max Marks	3
Cognitive Level	A
Checking Hints	Give ONE mark for each correctly stated way of implementing justice (THREE required).
Overall Performance	This question focused on the implementation of justice. A considerable proportion of the candidates struggled to fully comprehend the requirement. However, those who responded correctly presented their answers in a clear, accurate, and comprehensive manner
Description of Better Responses	In better response, candidates suggested practical ways of implementing justice, such as eradicating corruption and inequality, making decisions based on true and reliable evidence, and ensuring the timely delivery of justice. For example, in a community dispute over land, resolving the matter based on verified documents and impartial witness statements ensures fairness, builds trust, and strengthens social harmony. Similarly, in workplace conflicts, fair treatment of all employees without favouritism promotes mutual respect and productivity. Upholding these principles reflects both moral integrity and adherence to the rule of law, leading to a more peaceful and stable society.

Images of Better Responses	Image (i)  1. Whenever you Judge between two people judge with fairness, due to this everyone gets their equal rights. 2. Always listen from two sides, as considering one side may lead to injustice with other and this will count as your bad deed. 3. Always try to be neutral & calm while judging &, never take the side of anyone. Always try to do justice with those who are weak. Never give importance to wealthy people over poor. or oppressor over weak. Image (ii)  1: Take care of our responsibilities and fulfil rights of others, along with making sure they get the basic amenties of life to live peacefully. 2: Employers or companies to pay the employes on time. 3: If one is to make a decision between two groups, it should be made after listening to both opinions carefully, so that justice shall be established.
Description of Weaker Responses	It was observed in weaker responses that candidates focused on describing justice and outlining the drawbacks of injustice, rather than providing practical suggestions for its implementation. Similarly, some candidates discussed the importance of justice and elaborated on its literal and terminological meanings, which did not address the specific requirement of the question.
Image of Weaker Response	 • Always speak truth. • Take voice for your rights. • Protect the rights of humanity.

Any Additional Suggestion:
When teaching S.L.O. 3.12.4, it is highly recommended that teachers address all relevant aspects of social justice, with particular emphasis on its application in the contemporary era. This should include discussions on equality, fairness, and the protection of individual rights, supported by real-life examples that relate to current societal challenges. Teachers should also encourage critical thinking by engaging students in activities that explore the role of justice in promoting harmony, reducing discrimination, and fostering responsible citizenship. One strategy is the 'Case Study Analysis' method, where students examine real-life scenarios involving social justice issues, discuss possible solutions, and reflect on the outcomes in relation to ethical principles and societal norms. Simultaneously, it is imperative to ensure that students comprehend the vocabulary and directives presented in the Student Learning Outcomes (SLO).

Question No. 3b

They noted that it fosters love and brotherhood among individuals, strengthens mutual trust, reduces conflicts and arrogance, promotes the values and ethics of Islamic teachings, and serves as a continual source of blessings for the community. Some candidates further explained that the consistent exchange of Salam nurtures a peaceful social environment, enhances interpersonal relations, and reinforces the sense of unity and mutual respect that is essential for a harmonious society.

Image of Better response
Description of Weaker Responses	It was observed in weaker responses that candidates did not fully comprehend the nature of the question. Some focused on discussing the importance instead of addressing the intended aspect, while others limited their answers to the effects on personal life. Furthermore, a few candidates confused the term Salam with Islam, indicating a lack of conceptual clarity.

Checking Hints	Give ONE mark for giving a effect (positive or negative) related to education (SIX required).
Overall Performance	The majority of candidates selected Option 'b' for the extended response question. This question required candidates to discuss the positive or negative effects of using modern technology. Overall, most candidates demonstrated a sound understanding of the question and responded appropriately. They effectively identified and explained various impacts, with many focusing on the influence of technology on the education system.
Description of Better Responses	Candidates on the positive side, highlighted benefits such as easy accessibility to information through search engines, the ability to gather vast knowledge in a short time, and time saved by avoiding travel for educational purposes. Conversely, candidates also identified negative effects, such as the wastage of time on non-educational content, moral degradation through exposure to inappropriate material, and mental or psychological issues caused by excessive screen time. Eye strain and related health problems were also noted, alongside the tendency to avoid reading physical books, reliance on unauthentic information, and deviation from intended topics. Stronger responses supported these points with relevant, real-life examples, showing an awareness of both opportunities and risks.
Images of Better Responses	Image (i)

Instead of analysing the impact of modern sources of knowledge in the current era, they focused on discussing the general impact of knowledge. This indicated a lack of attention to the specific wording and scope of the question. As a result, their responses were not directly relevant and failed to address the intended theme. Such answers often lacked examples of contemporary tools and platforms, thereby missing the opportunity to demonstrate awareness of modern technological influences on the acquisition, dissemination, and application of knowledge.

Overall Performance	This question was majorly opted by the candidates. As, this question focused on the practical application of following the Holy Prophet (PBUH) in the current era. Overall, candidates responded well, demonstrating a sound understanding of the topic. Most were able to articulate their ideas clearly, linking the Prophet's teachings to contemporary situations, and providing relevant examples to support their points.
Description of Better Responses	In better responses, candidates demonstrated a sound understanding of the topic. Most were able to articulate their ideas clearly, linking the Prophet's (PBUH) teachings to contemporary situations and providing relevant examples to support their points. Many highlighted values such as honesty, patience, compassion, and social justice, explaining how these can be implemented in daily life. Examples included: • Practising honesty in business transactions. • Demonstrating patience during difficult circumstances. • Showing compassion towards the needy and vulnerable. • Promoting fairness and equality in workplaces. • Resolving disputes peacefully within communities. Some responses also referenced authentic Ahadith and events from the Seerah, further strengthening their arguments. Candidates presented their ideas in a structured manner, showing the ability to relate timeless prophetic principles to modern-day challenges.

Image of Better Response
Description of Weaker Responses	Although the majority of candidates answered the question effectively, a small number focused on describing the Sunnah of the Holy Prophet (PBUH) rather than providing the required suggestions. This indicates a partial misinterpretation of the question's intent, as it specifically called for practical recommendations rather than a general description of prophetic practices.

Any Additional Suggestion:

Whenever teachers teach topics related to Suunah, they should emphasise the importance of the practical application of Sunnah in daily life. Candidates should be encouraged not only to learn the Sunnah theoretically but also to implement it in their personal conduct, social interactions, and professional responsibilities. Teachers can use real-life examples from the Seerah to illustrate how prophetic practices remain relevant in the modern era, such as honesty in business, kindness to neighbours, and humility in behaviour. This approach helps students connect classroom learning to real-world actions, fostering both spiritual growth and moral character development.

Annexure A: Pedagogies Used for Teaching the SLOs

Pedagogy: Storyboard
Description: A visual pedagogy that uses a series of illustrated panels to present a narrative, encouraging creativity and critical thinking. It helps learners organise ideas, sequence events, and comprehend complex concepts through storytelling.
Example: In a Literature class, students are tasked with creating storyboards to visually retell a novel. They draw key scenes, write captions, and present their stories to the class, enhancing their reading comprehension and fostering their imagination.

Pedagogy: Cause and Effect
Description: This pedagogy explores the relationships between actions and consequences. By analysing cause-and-effect relationships, learners develop a deeper understanding of how events are interconnected and how one action can lead to various outcomes.
Example: In a History class, students study the causes and effects of the Industrial Revolution. They research and discuss how technological advancements in manufacturing led to significant societal changes, such as urbanisation and labour reform movements.

Pedagogy: Fish and Bone
Description: A method that breaks down complex topics into main ideas (the fish) and supporting details (the bones). This visual approach enhances comprehension by highlighting essential concepts and their relevant explanations.
Example: During a Biology class on human anatomy, the teacher uses the fish and bone technique to teach about the human skeletal system. Teacher presents the main components of the human skeleton (fish) and elaborates on each bone's structure and function (bones).

Pedagogy: Concept Mapping
Description: An effective way to visually represent relationships between ideas. Learners create diagrams connecting key concepts, aiding in understanding the overall structure of a subject and fostering retention.
Example: In a Psychology assignment, students use concept mapping to explore the various theories of personality. They interlink different theories, such as Freud's psychoanalysis, Jung's analytical psychology, and Bandura's social-cognitive theory, to see how they relate to each other.

Pedagogy: Audio Visual Resources
Description: Incorporating multimedia elements like videos, images, and audio into lessons. This approach caters to different learning styles, making educational content more engaging and memorable.
Example: In a General Science class, the teacher uses a documentary-style video to teach about the solar system. The video includes stunning visual animations of the planets, interviews with astronomers, and background music, enhancing students' interest and understanding of space.

Pedagogy: Think, Pair, and Share
Description: A collaborative learning technique where students ponder a question or problem individually, then discuss their thoughts in pairs or small groups before sharing with the entire class. It fosters active participation, communication skills, and diverse perspectives.
Example: In a Literature in English class, the teacher poses a thought-provoking question about a novel's moral dilemma. Students first reflect individually, then pair up to exchange their opinions, and finally participate in a lively class discussion to explore different viewpoints.

Pedagogy: Questioning Technique (Socratic Approach)
Description: Based on Socratic dialogue, this method stimulates critical thinking by posing thought-provoking questions. It encourages learners to explore ideas, justify their reasoning, and discover knowledge through a process of inquiry.
Example: In an Ethics class, the instructor uses the Socratic approach to lead a discussion on the meaning of justice. By asking a series of probing questions, the students engage in a deeper exploration of ethical principles and societal values.

Pedagogy: Practical Demonstration
Description: A hands-on approach where learners observe real-life applications of theories or skills. Practical demonstrations enhance comprehension, skill acquisition, and problem-solving abilities by bridging theoretical concepts with real-world scenarios.
Example: In a Food and Nutrition class, the instructor demonstrates the proper technique for filleting a fish. Students observe and then practice the skill themselves, learning the practical application of knife skills and culinary precision.

(Note: The examples provided in this annexure serve as illustrations of various pedagogies. It is important to understand that these pedagogies are versatile and can be applied across subjects in numerous ways. Feel free to adapt and explore these techniques creatively to enhance learning outcomes in your specific context.)
