Notes from E-Marking Centre on HSSC-I English Compulsory Annual Examinations 2025

Introduction

This document has been produced for the teachers and candidates of Higher Secondary School Certificate (HSSC) Part I English Compulsory. It contains comments on candidates' responses to the 2025 HSSC-I Examination indicating the quality of the responses and highlighting their relative strengths and weaknesses.

E-Marking Notes

This includes overall comments on candidates' performance on every question and some specific examples of candidates' responses that support the mentioned comments. Please note that the descriptive comments represent an overall perception of the better and weaker responses as gathered from the e-marking session. However, the candidates' responses shared in this document represent some specific example(s) of the mentioned comments.

Teachers and candidates should be aware that examiners may ask questions that address the candidate Learning Outcomes (SLOs) in a manner that requires candidates to respond by integrating knowledge, understanding and application skills they have developed during the course of study. Candidates are advised to read and comprehend each question carefully before writing the response to fulfil the demand of the question.

Candidates need to be aware that the marks allocated to the questions are related to the answer space provided on the examination paper as a guide to the length of the required response. A longer response will not in itself lead to higher marks. Candidates need to be familiar with the command words in the SLOs which contain terms commonly used in examination questions. However, candidates should also be aware that not all questions will start with or contain one of the command words. Words such as 'how', 'why' or 'what' may also be used.

General Observations

Most candidates demonstrated proficiency in constructing well-structured responses, particularly in comparative texts and formal writings. In Extended Response Questions (ERQs) (formal and informal writings), candidates showcased unique ideas and perspectives on effective communication, hobby, and storytelling. However, some candidates struggled with comprehension and writing skills, highlighting the need for teachers to focus on key areas for improvement. In Constructed Response Questions (CRQs) the candidates generally performed well.

To address these weaknesses, teachers should emphasise the importance of identifying and understanding the cognitive level of each module, approach to questions, and task achievement. This will help candidates develop a better critical approach, which is essential for success in comprehensions and comparative texts. When approaching these texts, candidates should be encouraged to think critically and analytically, focusing on text type, genre, tone, style, and details.

Furthermore, reading skills need to be reinforced to enhance inferences and vocabulary implementation when attempting CRQS. In cloze passages, focus should be placed on readability and proper grammatical structure. Additionally, candidates need to be taught to consider formality, tone, and style when presenting arguments, descriptions, or details, using appropriate vocabulary, jargon, and registers.

In essay writing, candidates demonstrated creative perspectives, but also struggled with weak paragraphing structures and inadequate use of cohesive and transitional devices. It is crucial to follow the given space for each question, as responses exceeding the allotted space are neither scanned nor marked at all. Furthermore, it is advised that candidates must not write their name or institution's name on answer script. By addressing these areas, candidates can significantly enhance their performance. Overall, the responses reflected a spectrum of language proficiency, highlighting both strengths and areas for growth.

Nonetheless, it is essential for teachers to concentrate on the following content and provide candidates with more drills and practice to foster a solid understanding.

A clear division between the designated sections to address each area in CRQs as well as ERQs should be maintained.

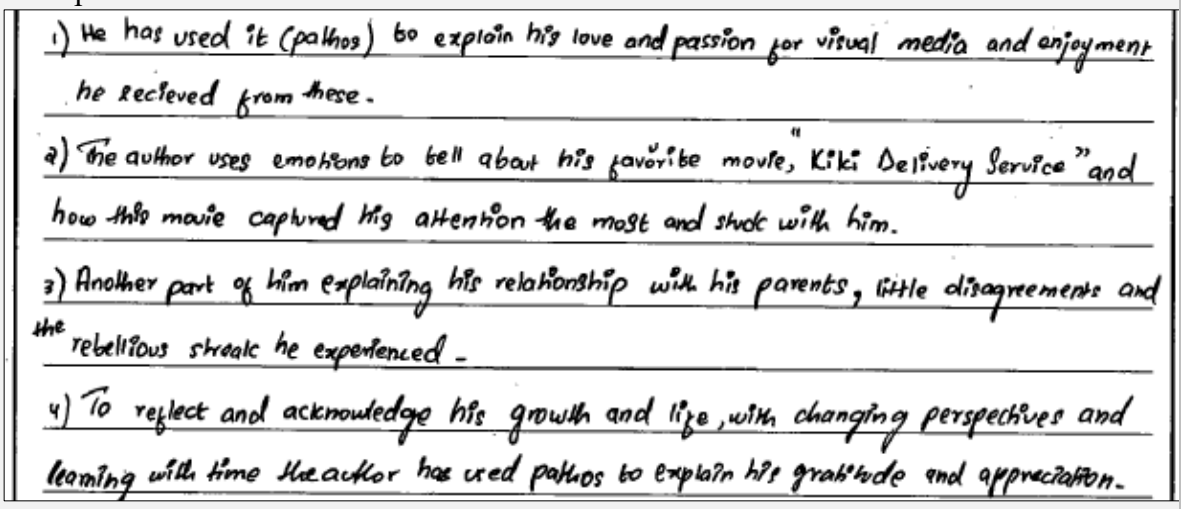

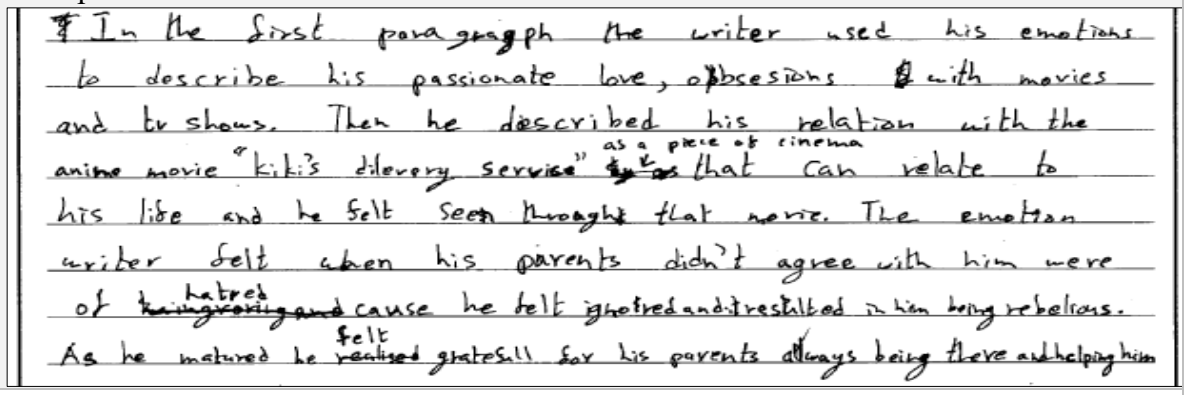

The following is a description of the task and skills required for fulfilment of those tasks.

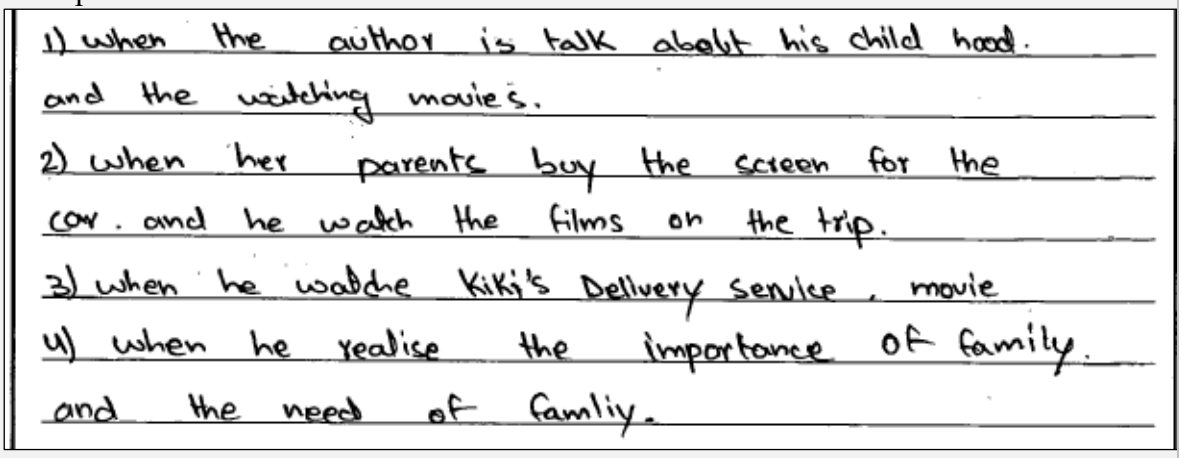

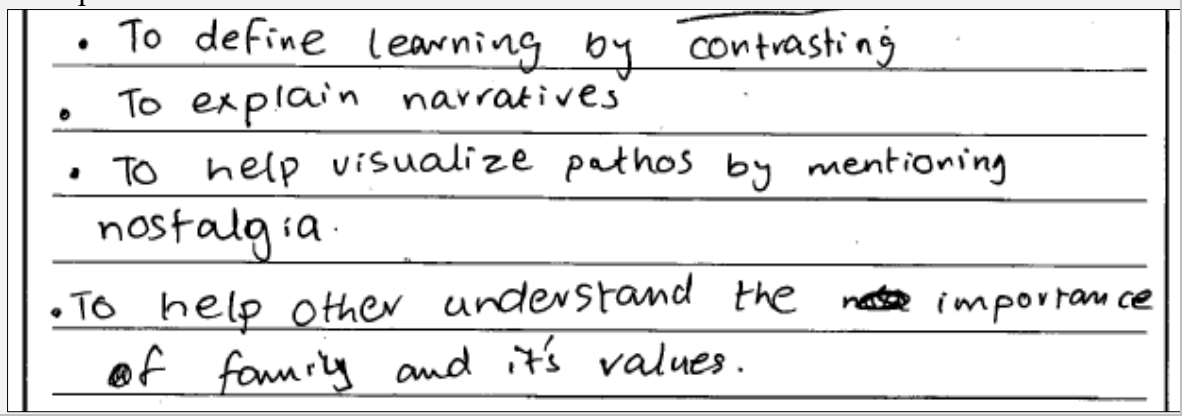

Question No	Question Type	Skills Assessed
1 (a, b, c, d, e)	CRQs on a reading passage	-Ability to understand a reading text on a literal level (main/sub ideas) -Ability to understand a reading text on inferential level (opinions, evidence, reasoning, cause and effect, reading between the lines) -Reasoning skills
2	Cloze Passage	-Ability to read and understand the given text -Ability to provide missing information as per the context of a passage
3 (a, b) 4 (a, b, c)	Letter & Essay Writing	-Ability to develop a formal piece of writing with appropriate focus, organisation and purpose -Ability to describe, narrate, express, present the facts/logic, explain the familiar topics/situations -Ability to use accurate sentence structure. Connective devices, spellings, etc.

Note: Candidates' responses shown in this report have not been corrected for grammar, spelling, format, or information.

DETAILED COMMENTS
Constructed Response Questions (CRQs)

Question No. 1a
Question Text	Identify any FOUR ways in which the author has used pathos (emotions) in TEXT A.
SLO No.	2.1.12
SLO Text	a. Describe an event from author's experience: what happened, feelings, thoughts, emotions in expressivetexts; b. Compare specific incidents and broader themes that illustrate the writer's important beliefs or generalisations about life; c. Discuss social transactions, attitudes and relationships ininterpersonal texts.
Max Marks	4

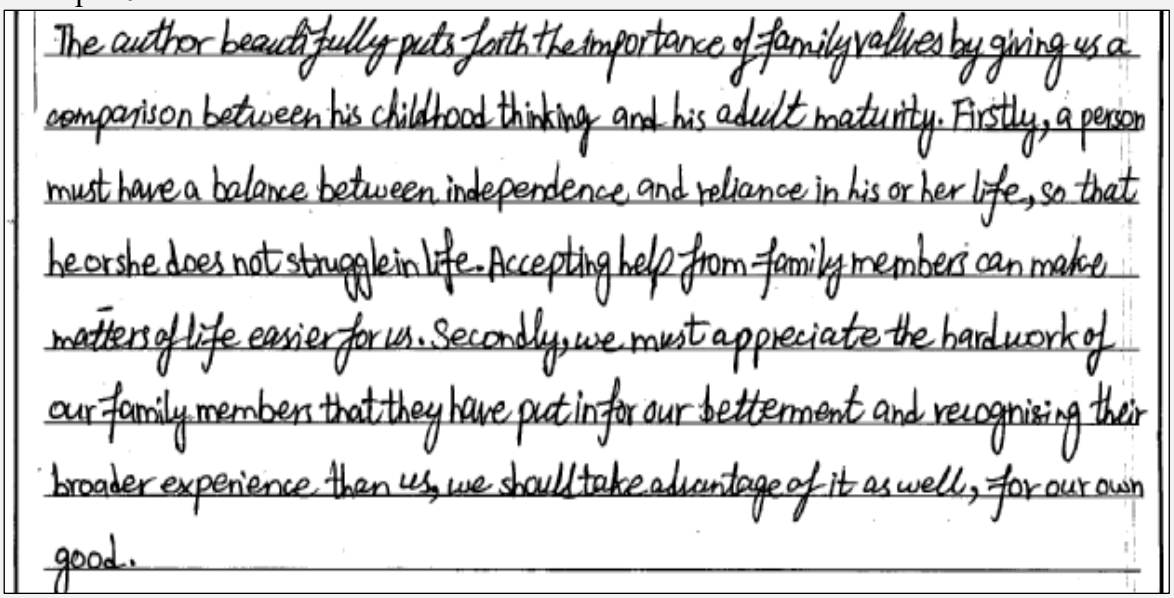

Cognitive Level	*U
Checking Hints	1 mark for each way (any 4 required) Note: Do not award marks if the candidate mentions a generic and a specific point in two different ways.
Overall Performance	Candidates generally presented points that showcased the overall understanding and inference of the author's use of pathos in Text A.
Description of Better Responses	In better responses, candidates presented four specific pathos in relevance to the question. Using inference and understanding, the candidates were able to extract the following ideas: - During the author's journey in the parents' car - When the author watched Kiki's Delivery Service - When the author reflected on the person she has become - The author's understanding of valuing his/ her family - The author's transformative journey towards independence - The author's shift from home to Queens suggesting emotional journey
Images of Better Response	Example 01:  1) He has used it (pathos) to explain his love and passion for visual media and enjoyment he recieved from these. 2) The author uses emotions to tell about his favorite movie, "Kiki Delivery Service" and how this movie captured his attention the most and stuck with him. 3) Another part of him explaining his relationship with his parents, little disagreements and the rebellious streak he experienced. 4) To reflect and acknowledge his growth and life, with changing perspectives and learning with time the author has used pathos to explain his gratitude and appreciation. Example 02:  In the first paragraph the writer used his emotions to describe his passionate love, obsessions with movies and tv shows. Then he described his relation with the anime movie "kiki's dilevery service" as a piece of cinema that can relate to his life and he felt seen through that movie. The emotion writer felt when his parents didn't agree with him were of hatred and cause he felt ignored and it resulted in him being rebelious. As he matured he felt grateful for his parents always being there and helping him
Description of Weaker Responses	It was observed that in weaker responses, candidates presented only two justifying points, while repeating one point in elaboration. In other instances, candidates also presented only one valid point of nostalgia as inferred from Text A.

Images of Weaker Response	Example 01:  1) when the author is talk about his child hood. and the watching movies. 2) when her parents buy the screen for the car. and he watch the films on the trip. 3) when he watche Kiki's Delivery service, movie 4) when he realise the importance of family. and the need of famliy. Example 02:  • To define learning by contrasting • To explain narratives • To help visualize pathos by mentioning nostalgia. • To help other understand the importance of family and it's values.

Question No. 1b
Question Text	Describe, in TWO points, the importance of family values as mentioned by the author in Text A.
SLO No.	2.1.12
SLO Text	a. Describe an event from author's experience: what happened, feelings, thoughts, emotions in expressive texts; b. Compare specific incidents and broader themes that illustrate the writer's important beliefs or generalisations about life; c. Discuss social transactions, attitudes and relationships in interpersonal texts.
Max Marks	4
Cognitive Level	U
Checking Hints	1 mark for stating each point (2 required) 1 mark for describing each point (2 required) Note: Do not award marks if the candidate has copied from the text or mentioned irrelevant points.
Overall Performance	Overall, the question was approached appropriately, with many responses demonstrating a valid understanding and addressing the key points of family values. However, some responses tended to show limited comprehension or merely stated the point without further development.
Description of Better Responses	Better responses demonstrated a clear grasp of the overall message of the passage, including the author's intent to spark interest in the theme of family values and the varying interpretations readers may have. These reflected a comprehensive understanding of the text, with candidates discussing the significance the author places on family, particularly the appreciation shown toward the parents for their support during a rebellious phase, and the contrast between the author's views and those of their parents. Note: other points related to family values mentioned by the candidates were also awarded marks.
Images of Better Responses	Example 01:

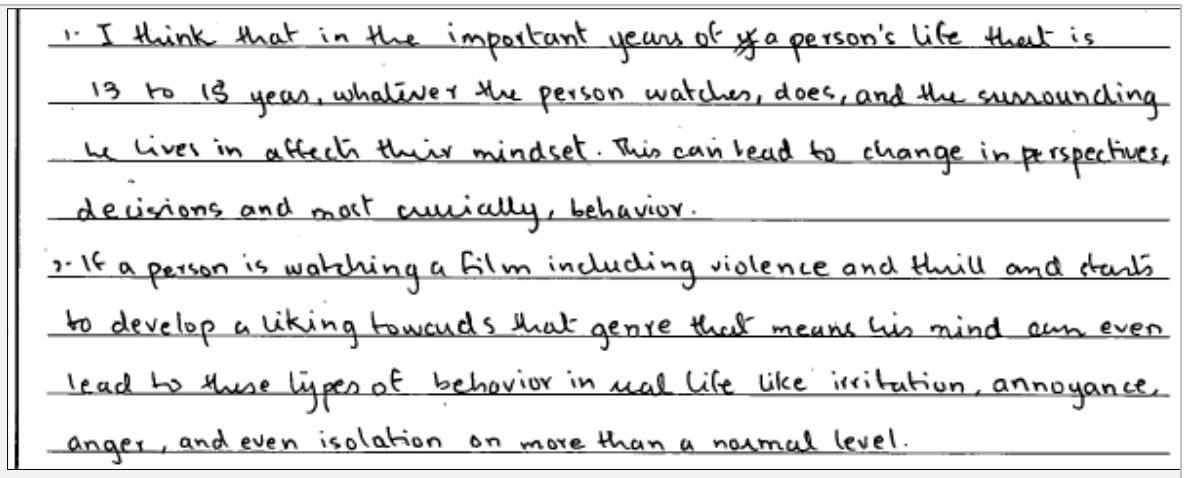

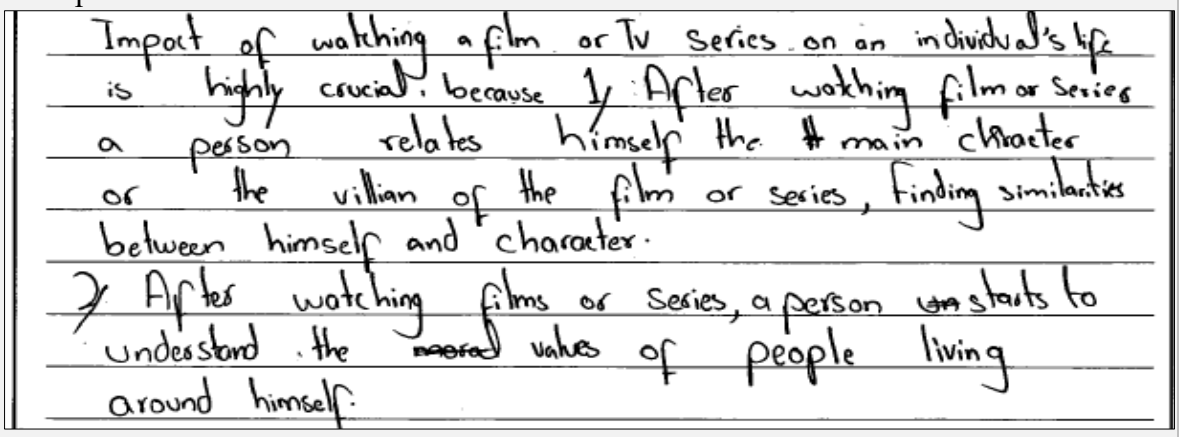

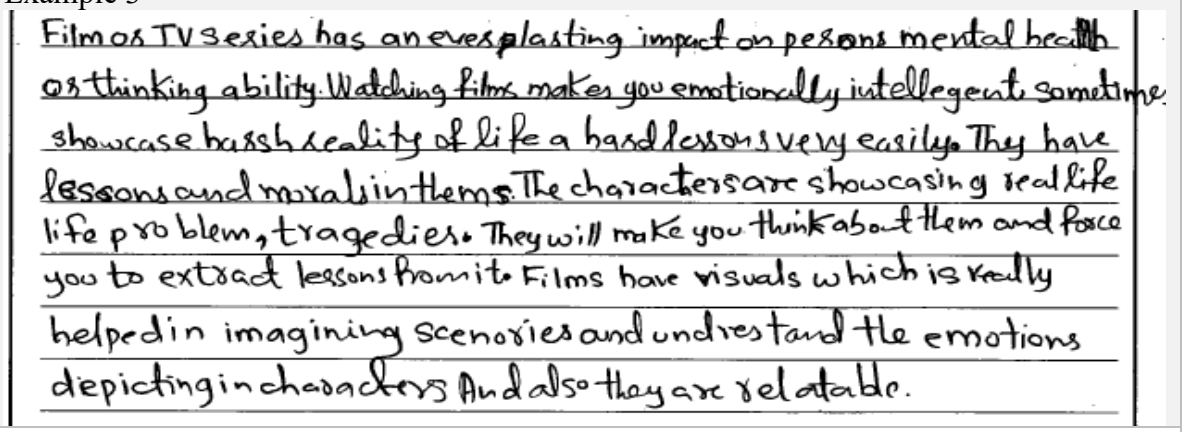

The author beautifully puts forth the importance of family values by giving us a comparison between his childhood thinking and his adult maturity. Firstly, a person must have a balance between independence and reliance in his or her life, so that he or she does not struggle in life. Accepting help from family members can make matters of life easier for us. Secondly, we must appreciate the hard work of our family members that they have put in for our betterment and recognising their broader experience than us, we should take advantage of it as well, for our own good.

	Example 02:  1) The family values has very importance in our life as family support us and help us when we are struggling with any matter. It not only support us in our hard times but it also do all the hardwork which it can done to make us happy and provide comfort. 2) The family value are also important as we learn from the experiences of our family members especially our parents and grand parents. Our parents share there personal experiences so that we can learn from them and didn't repeat those mistakes.
Description of Weaker Responses	In weaker responses, candidates either only stated or copied from the text. These responses did not describe the family values but only gave textual references. It is advised to use own words when describing any feature or aspect of the text demanded by the question.
Images of Weaker Responses	 The importance of family value as mentioned by the author in the text is As I began mature I began relize the value of family and accept all the help I can get from them.

Question No. 1c
Question Text	The film 'Kiki's Delivery Service' inspired the author of Text A. In your opinion, how crucial is the impact of watching a film or TV series on an individual's life. Justify in TWO points.
SLO No.	2.1.3
SLO Text	Elaborate personal opinion about the text along with justification.
Max Marks	4
Cognitive Level	U
Checking Hints	1 mark for mentioning each point (2 required) 1 mark for justifying each point (2 required) Note: Do not award marks if the candidate has copied from the text or mentioned irrelevant points.
Overall Performance	Overall, the question was well attempted with candidates critically justifying the impact of films or TV series on their lives. However, some candidates either were able to only elaborate aspect already present in Text A that showcases the impact of the film on the author's life without relating to an individual's life or repeated points from the text without giving their views.
Description of Better Responses	In better responses, the candidate's answers varied but centred around the given points: Catharsis/ emotional connection: Watching emotional or intense scenes can serve as a form of catharsis, allowing individuals to release pent-up emotions and find solace in shared human experiences. Cognitive development/ enhancement of critical thinking skills: Analysing plots, characters, and themes in movies and TV shows stimulates critical thinking, enhancing cognitive skills and analytical abilities. Cultural Impact: Movies and TV series influence fashion, trends, and social norms, shaping society's collective consciousness and reflecting the values and concerns of different eras. Social Bonding: Discussing movies and TV series can strengthen social bonds, providing common topics for conversations and shared interests among friends and family. Educational Value: Documentaries, historical dramas, and biographical films educate viewers about real-world events, historical figures, and various subjects, making learning engaging.

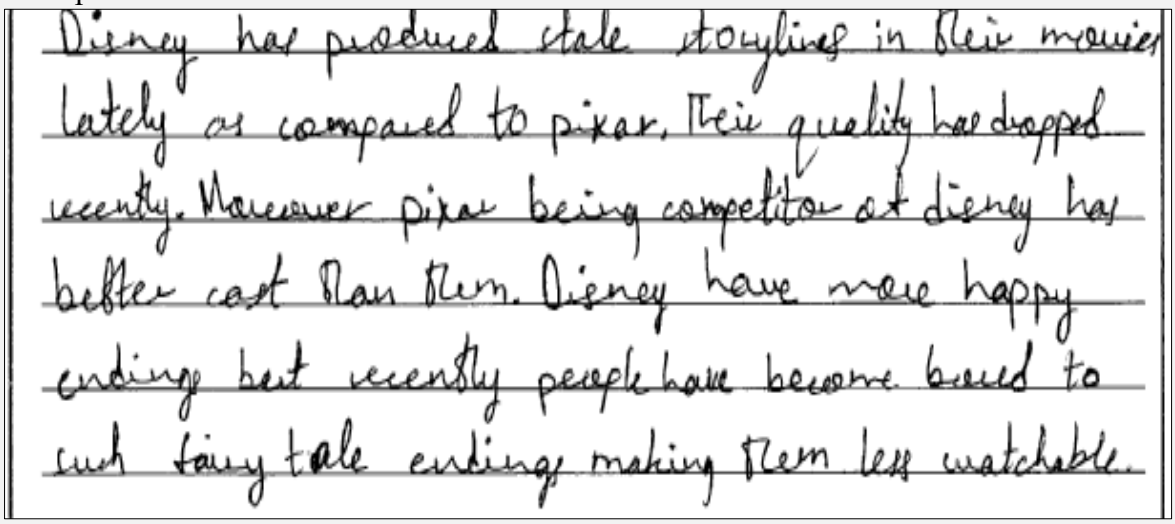

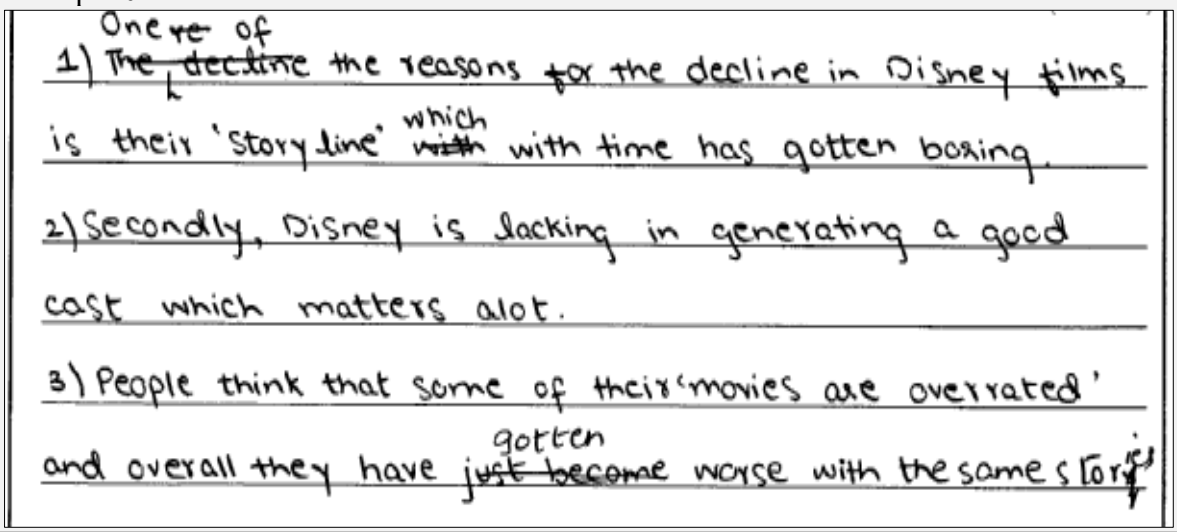

Images of Better Response	 1. I think that in the important years of ~~y~~ a person's life that is 13 to 18 years, whatever the person watches, does, and the surrounding he lives in affects their mindset. This can lead to change in perspectives, decisions and most crucially, behavior. 2. If a person is watching a film including violence and thrill and starts to develop a liking towards that genre that means his mind can even lead to these types of behavior in real life like irritation, annoyance, anger, and even isolation on more than a normal level. Example 2  Impact of watching a film or Tv Series on an individual's life is highly crucial. because 1) After watching film or Series a person relates himself the # main character or the villian of the film or series, finding similarities between himself and character. 2) After watching films or Series, a person ~~the~~ starts to understand the ~~moral~~ values of people living around himself. Example 3  Film or TV series has an everlasting impact on persons mental health or thinking ability. Watching films makes you emotionally intellegent sometimes showcase harsh reality of life a hard lessons very easily. They have lessons and morals in them. The characters are showcasing real life life problem, tragedies. They will make you think about them and force you to extract lessons from it. Films have visuals which is really helped in imagining scenories and undrestand the emotions depicting in characters And also they are relatable.
Description of Weaker Responses	Weaker responses presented invalid points, giving specific information from the text assumed as a main point. Other responses also added personal opinions about the text rather than mentioning the impact of watching movies on an individual's life.

Question No. 1d
Question Text	With reference to Text B, identify THREE reasons behind the decline in Disney's films.
SLO No.	2.1.3
SLO Text	Elaborate personal opinion about the text along with justification.
Max Marks	3

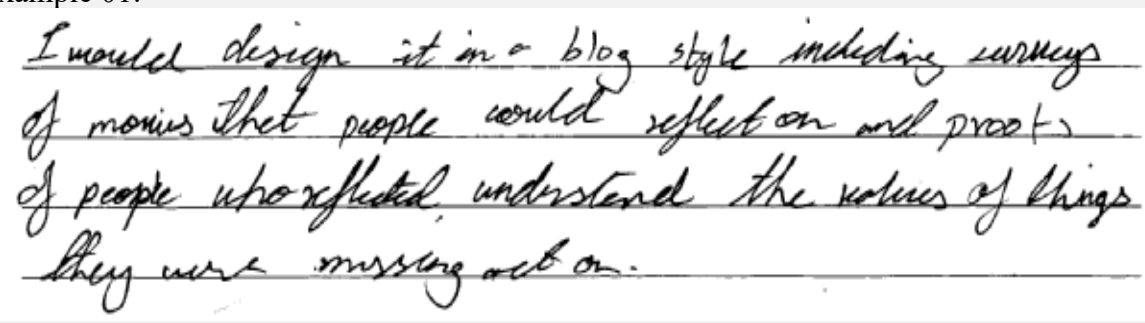

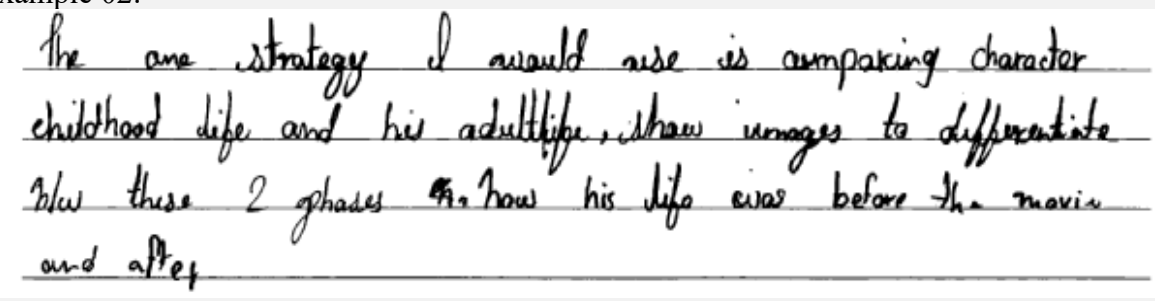

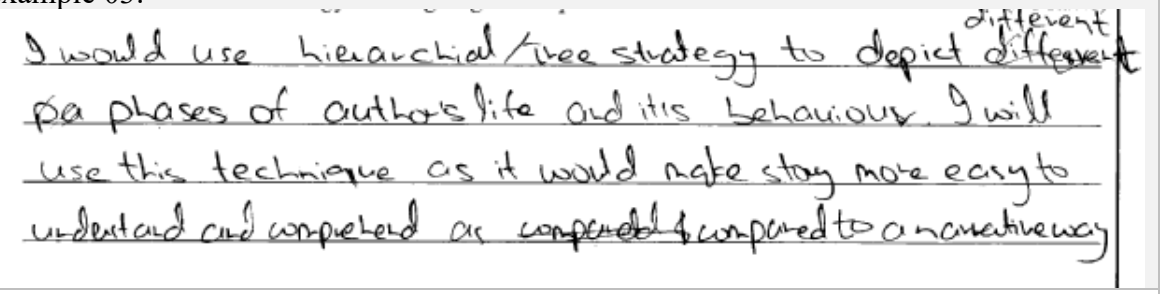

Cognitive Level	U
Checking Hints	1 mark for each reason (any 3 required) Note: Do not award marks if the candidate has copied from the text or mentioned irrelevant points.
Overall Performance	Overall, the candidates attempted this question well, with many stating valid reasons behind the decline in Disney's films showcasing their understanding of the market value and trends around visual media.
Description of Better Responses	Better responses accurately identified the reasons behind the decline in Disney's films by drawing comparisons with other production houses, particularly Pixar. These responses highlighted factors such as mediocre storylines, weak or repetitive casting, overhyped yet unoriginal content, and the use of unrealistic, overly happy endings. Candidates also noted that Disney's approach often leans more towards fairy-tale narratives rather than portraying relatable or realistic themes, which contributed to the perceived decline in quality.
Images of Better Response	Example 01:  Disney has produced stale storylines in their movies lately as compared to pixar. Their quality has dropped recently. Moreover pixar being competitor of disney has better cast than them. Disney have more happy ending but recently people have become bored to such fairy tale endings making them less watchable. Example 02:  Once of 1) The decline the reasons for the decline in Disney films is their 'storyline' which with time has gotten boring. 2) Secondly, Disney is lacking in generating a good cast which matters alot. 3) People think that some of their 'movies are overrated' and overall they have gotten just become worse with the same story
Description of Weaker Responses	In weaker responses, candidates either provided only one point or generalised ideas which were not mentioned in Text B. In other instances, candidates copied the information from the text. It was also observed that they gave suggestions of improvement to Disney.

Question No. 1e
Question Text	If you were to develop Text A in the format of Text B, what ONE strategy or designing technique would you use and why? Note: Mention the strategy or designing Technique which is not reflected in Text B.
SLO No.	2.1.4
SLO Text	Synthesise information (treatment, scope and organisation of ideas, common themes and/ or message) from two texts based on the same theme/ topic.
Max Marks	2

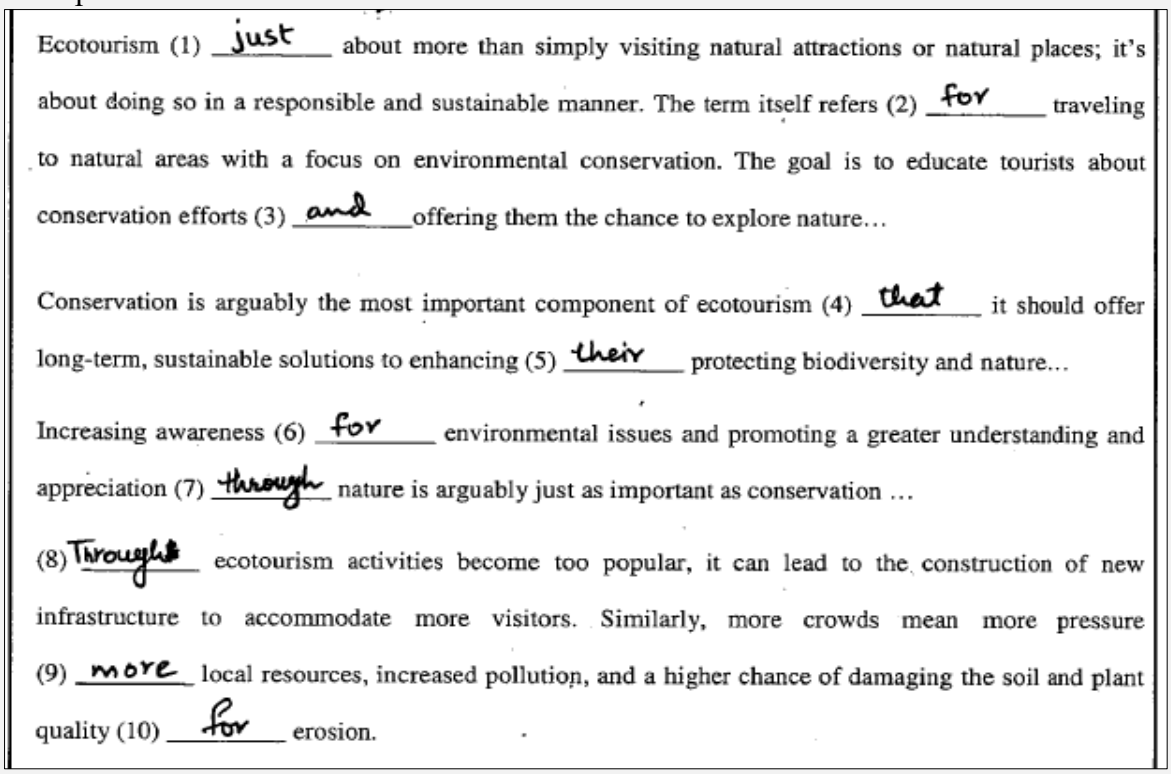

Cognitive Level	A
Checking Hints	1 mark the mentioning the designing technique or strategy. 1 mark for the reason Note: If the candidate mentions any other valid technique along with reasoning, award marks. Marks were not awarded if the candidate copied from the text or mentioned irrelevant points.
Overall Performance	It was observed that while many candidates faced challenges in addressing the question, they were nonetheless able to produce relevant responses mentioning the various techniques.
Description of Better Responses	Better responses showed that candidates would effectively create a timeline to illustrate the author's journey from childhood to adulthood. Some also mentioned mind maps to visualise 'Kiki's Delivery Service' as imagined by the author, incorporating a person and dialogue to represent this visualisation. Additionally, some responses included bubble posters, depicting the emotions experienced by the author throughout her transformative journey. Others highlighted significant quotes or important sentences from the essay, designing visually engaging graphics that emphasised their meaning and relevance.
Images of Better Response	Example 01:  I would design it in a blog style including surveys of movies that people would reflect on and posts of people who reflected understand the values of things they were missing out on. Example 02:  The one strategy I would use is comparing character childhood life and his adultlife, show images to differentiate b/w these 2 phases & how his life was before the movie and after Example 03:  I would use hierarchial/tree strategy to depict different phases of author's life and its behaviour. I will use this technique as it would make story more easy to understand and completed as compared to a narrative way
Description of Weaker Responses	In weaker responses, candidates demonstrated a lack of clarity between the format of Text A of being accepted in a new format i.e. infographic. Designing technique was supposed to be mentioned whereas, most of these responses repeated sentences from the passage which did not fulfil the requirement of the question.

Images of Weaker Response	Example 01:  → I would use the stategy of explanation or details. Details about the story, the moral. → Details weren't reflected through text B. Example 02:  I would strategize on gathering information about what each individuals thoughts were solely based on emotional and plot basis. This data would suffice in telling what feelings were felt more by the audience which would give a detailed idea on what to use in next films. Example 03:  I will divide ~~the~~ the whole story into different Part in first Part I will tell about the boy behaviour with family and his hobby. In 2send Part I will tell the whole story of Ichi's delivery and in last I will tell the Value of the family.

Question Text	Cloze Passage
SLO No.	3.1.13
SLO Text	Use accurate: a. punctuation (full stops, commas, capitalisation); b. spelling; c. subject-verb agreement and tenses; d. sentence construction; e. conjunctions; f. adverbial and subjective clauses; g. conditional clauses; h. words/ phrases to indicate degrees of possibility using adverbs (e.g. perhaps, surely) and modal verbs (e.g. might, should, will, must);
Max Marks	10
Cognitive Level	A
Checking Hints	1 mark for each correct answer in the blank (10 required)
Overall Performance	Candidates generally provided correct answers for the cloze passage. Responses that stood out used advanced vocabulary and appropriate linking words. However, some responses included incorrect options for the blanks, multiple words where only one was needed, spelling errors, incorrect verb forms or articles, and inappropriate use of symbols (refer to description of bad responses below).
Description of Better Responses	Better responses that demonstrate a strong command of language showed accurate word choices that fit the context of the passage. These responses followed proper grammar rules, including correct verb forms, articles, and prepositions. Additionally, the use of appropriate linking words helped maintain the flow and coherence of the text. Overall, such responses reflect careful attention to detail and a clear understanding of language structure.

Ideas are expressed in a logical sequence. • Content reflects appropriate vocabulary, informal tone and style to take into account the nature of relationship with, and the interests of, the recipient. • A variety of sentence structures is used, mostly with control, in all paragraphs. • A range of connectives (if, because, and, but etc.) and cohesive markers (nevertheless, moreover, and therefore etc.) are used to provide details and expand ideas. Average (3-4) • Ideas are expressed clearly but comparatively the expression is plain or there are redundant phrases. • Content reflects appropriate vocabulary, style and tone but usually the ideas are not well connected or the relationship with the recipient is not taken into account. • A variety of sentence structures is used with moderate accuracy / internal consistency. • Few connectives are used to provide details and expand ideas.

	Below Average (1-2) • Sentence structures and language are repetitive or unclear and there are various errors. • Content represents generalized, redundant or disconnected ideas. The style, tone and vocabulary are inappropriate. • Ideas are difficult to interpret because of flawed language. • No internal cohesion or consistency observed.
Overall Performance	Majority of the candidates attempted this question. It is generally observed that candidates attempted the given task with complete understanding of the nature of the question, its component and formality. Candidates' responses described the colleague's relationship with them during the time they worked with each other, mentioning his/ her colleague's contribution to the community.
Description of Better Responses	Better responses demonstrated a clear understanding of the required framework, including appropriate format, formality, and adherence to the expected style and tone. These responses also incorporated relevant and distinctive elements suited to professional contexts, such as the nature of a colleague, work ethic, dedication to assigned tasks, and overall contribution to organisational goals. Furthermore, candidates effectively highlighted key professional skills, including organisational, leadership, communication, and digital competencies. Collectively, these features reflected a well-structured and thoughtful approach to formal letter writing. Note: It was observed that even in better responses a few candidates wrote their name. Teachers need to inform the candidates to avoid using their real names/ institution's name, in the examination.

Subject: recommendation letter regarding a colleague I was associated with in the past.

Respected Sir,

I am writing this letter of recommendation regarding Ms. Maria with whom I used to work together with in a previous organisation. That experience helped me gain insight into who Ms. Maria is on a personal and a professional level. I can state with utmost certainty that this letter will provide you with all the reasons of hiring her as she will be an exceptional asset to this organisation.

During the time Ms. Maria ~~worked~~ and I worked together we managed to bond quite strongly as we were both assigned to be on the same team. Our relationship was of mutual respect which managed to create a bond of trust and loyalty amongst the both of us. We both could state with certainty that we always had each other's backs and relied on one another during conflicting times in work. The communication between her and me was clear due to which no misunderstandings were created.

Ms. Maria worked with utmost dedication, working hard in her endeavours to move the team forward and achieve desirable results. Whenever faced with a new task she would take it up with responsibility, ensuring that the task be completed within it's deadline. When faced with a challenge or obstacle during the task she would regroup and focus, to find a solution instead of standing in a state of panic, and causing chaos among the team. She managed to keep the team together with her calm and composed behaviour, and focus on the solution of problems instead of blaming the team of discrepancy or laziness. Ms. Maria's work ethic was something everyone around her admired as she was always punctual, professional and friendly according to situations and managed to get the work done.

One of the main contribution of Ms. Maria was her creative thinking which always constructed ideas that would move the organisation forward toward's prosperity and ensure 100% positive results. Her ideas always managed to bring success upon us and always consisted of working in a short yet smarter ~~way~~ manner.

The reason for my writing this letter is that I truly believe that she will be ~~an~~ a valuable asset to the community. One of the reasons I believe so is because of her leadership skills. She is aware of when exactly to exert power over the group and when to let that power loosen for the team to flourish. She understands her team and knows exactly to whom she should delegate what responsibilities and how well they work in what times, environment etc. due to which her team always manages to achieve the desired results ~~on~~ in the time ~~required~~ provided.

Another reason is her problem solving skills which allows her to tackle any obstacles with calmness and grace. I ~~have~~ myself have witnessed many instances where Ms. Maria has handled problems in such a manner that in the end it would be impossible to decipher the former problem. Hence I believe with certainty that Ms. Maria certainly has the potential to be part of this team.

Regards,

Maryam.

Subject: Recommendation letter for a position

Respected sir,
I trust that this letter finds you in good health and high spirits. I am penning this missive to recommend a former colleague of mine who has applied for a position in your organisation.

We both have worked together for almost 6 years in X.Y.Z organisation before joining your organisation. ~~He has~~ I have a great work experience with her as, she possess some incredible professional qualities.

Sir, I would highly like to mention some of qualities of her:

1- Punctuality : being punctual was her priority, as she comes to the office before five minutes the office timings everyday.

2- Discipline : being disciplined is another quality of her. She was well-mannered and gets along with the peers well and completes every project before the deadline.

3- Well mannerism : She respects and behaves well with colleagues and during office timings, she assits the peers wherever they need assistance.

Furthermore, my former colleague has contributed in many aspects to the community. In a village where there was an issue of water, when we were working together. As she was concerned with the water department of the area. She visited the area and observed that the people their were drinking the waste water of the main city which is harmful for their health.

She collected data of the village and presented the data infront of respective officer and they collectively worked and provided safe and healthy water to the village. After that she recieved an appreciation award from the provincial government.

Moreover, she has worked alot for the benefit of the community Last time she recieved an appreciation award from the federal government as she has worked alot on improving lifestyle of the orphans in the orphange which was near our office.

Additionally, she will be an asset to the organisation. I would highly like to share the skills of her's which will be really assistive to the the organisation

1- Team work: She is incredible at team work, she works collaboratively with her peers and copes with every challenge in their way. She assists her team mates wherever or whenever they need her assistance and collectively the will shine brighter in your organisation.

2- Competitive: She is mastered in her department. Her work experience is almost 10 years, and in these ten years she has developed alot of skills in herself. e-g discipline, punctuality, well mannerism etc.

I hope you consider the application

Your's sincerely

Subject: Recommendation for my Colleague for the Position

Respected Sir

With utmost respect, I want to recommend my former colleque to work in your organization. I have known him for more than three years. We have been working together in an organization named as Green Revolution. He is a very competent and hardworking person, who will benefit your organization to the fullest using the extraordinary skills, which he posses. He was rendering his service there as an Event manager. From managing the sound system to decorating the event places and making presentations, he gave his best. He is known for his resilience and dedication towards his work. He completed all the his works before the deadline and in a very good way. He is very friendly and always helpful.

Other than this, he has been an asset for the community. His contributions are worth telling. Throughout his journey in Green Revolution, he gave his best to make a difference in the community. He has been a mentor in a tech club in the area, where he used to taught the students the basic computer skills. With his hardwork, he has talked with different peoples and has made a public library in the area to facilitate the students. He has played a crucial role in women empowerment. As a member of Green Revolution, he has compelled the people to do sustainable practices. He started to help the women's making cloth bags and later this work has made a lasting effect on the lives of the people of the area.

Fiurthermore, he posses some distinguishing skills which will help your organization in several ways. He has a very strong grip in digital Literacy. From making presentation to marketing his work, he is at the top. Using these skills he can help, making posters and brochures for the campaign and events. With a strong foundation in designing, he can help manage the events. Other than this, he is a very good listener, which makes him a very good communicator. His presentation skills are exemplary. His gestures while speaking make him so unique and attractive. He has the idea that how to talk and in what tone. He has a strong work ethic and talk according to the expectations of the audience. At last, I want to say that he is best for the position, he has applied. I am sure that he will benefit your organization. I hope you will consider this recommendation. Thank you!

Description of Weaker Responses	In weaker responses, candidates were not able to fulfil the criteria in terms of content; they wrote to their colleagues instead, praising their services to the community, admiring their skills. In other weaker responses, these aspects were compromised to some extent, rather they wrote to the company for a recommendation letter to be released. Moreover, in terms of language and structure, these responses overall lacked appropriate sentence structure, tone and style along with this weak subject verb agreement and spelling.

R/collegue,

I hope you are doing well and by God I'm also doing well and good. These reason of writing this letter to you that since you know we have to work together and organize things well. So, I am expecting you to co-operate with me and I hope you are not going to make this long and harder for me to work with you. So yeah, we both have a good time and relation when we both worked together but if now you have applied for the position which is requiring recommendation. Your contribution to community is ~~recorded~~ good. I checked its a lot of your contribution to community along with other staffs. So, there are two skills that will make an asset to the well organization.

1: First we have to sit till take time until we finish the work it requires that we need to check on the computer if the list of the names is in the sequence or not then we have other works to do.

2: Second, we have to make sure in the lists of names if ~~a~~ everyone is getting their given salaries and the you have to make sure you provide them their salaries on the time. You are not allowed to go until you finish all the work.

Subject : Application for spring programme 2025-26 for 'english linguistic' course.

Respected Sir/Madam,

I would really like to join your university's spring programme for english linguistic course. I have always been eager to learn and improve my english linguistics. I have previously taken a couple of online courses on this topic. I am currently studying in class XI and uptil now my interest in english language is the most. My goal in future is to pursue a career in this respected field. I've personally participated in several elogation and speech giving competitions. Moreover, I've also shared my written articles and stories in children magazines. Hence, my interest is in joining your spring programme.

As the world is revolving around technology, and I've heard that your university also encourages students to excel and take benefits from technology, I'd like to mention my proficiency in it. As I mentioned above that I've enrolled in couples of online courses related to english linguistics. Similarly, I use ~~apps~~ social media applications such as duolingo to improve my english. Likewise, I use other applications to learn different accents ~~and~~ of english. Also I use scanner applications to learn ~~and~~ the correct pronounciation of specific words.

I have earlier mentioned my interest and achievements in this specific topic. I'd really like to choose your spring programme as it offers my ~~enpected~~ations in this field. As explained in your brochure, this course will enhance my confidence in speaking english publically, teach me various fun facts about the language, will help me use technology to pursue my goal and would ~~give~~ offer me opportunities to represent myself and my country on international platforms.

I'd really appreciate your consideration on my application, and I am very eager and excited to join this programme that'll give me ~~so~~ various aspects to grow and develop my skills and dreams.

Subject: Application For Admission in 2025-26 Spring programme

Dear Admissions Team,

I am writing to inform you about my over-whelming interest in Computer science programme offered at your esteemed university.

My relation with the subject computer science and the world of technology dates back to my childhood. I still remember the day my father bought me my first computer when I was in my primary school. I would spend hours playing games, trying new features and using paint to craft exciting cartoon characters. But as time passed I started to learn more about computers, it's functions, it's components both software and hardware and it's role in 21st century. This youthful exploration made a deep impact on me, which led me to choosing computer science as a major when I entered college despite the fact that my parents were not happy about my decision. But deep down I knew computer science is going to sky rocket soon. Additionally choosing computer science was a very bold move for me as it was against the conventional mindset allowing me to try new things enhancing my perspective and broadening my horizons.

Moreover I find technology and the opportunities it offers very appealing. From taking youtube classes to taking free certified courses from renowned organization's world wide technology offers us a great chance to develop ourselves in every way possible. I believe I use technology very efficiently for academic purpose. For example: Whenever I complete my course chapters. I immediately open google and test my knowledge through/by taking various tests available online. Moreover I download refrence books, course rellated images and Free notes to solidify my Knowledge.

Now as I set my sight on higher education I want to pursue the CS programme your renowned university offers. The programme I have choosen will give me a deeper look into my field of interest by allowing me to learn programming languages like "Css, c++, HTML, Java script, python" and many more. secondly the programme is based on "Socratic Method" allowing me to question things rather then blindfoldedly accept ideas. Which will help me gain deeper Knowledge. The programme has an interdesciplinary approach allowing me to broaden my approach or reach by taking a minor in rellated field like courses in data science, computational Biology and advanced Mathematics.

I belief the choosen programme with it's multifolded features at your prestegious university will allow me to gain the necessary knowledge to force a carrier in the choosen field. I reques t the admissions team to consider my application and offer me a spot.

Hopefully

Subject: Personal Statement for Spring Programme – C.S course.

Respected Madam,

This is to apply for the 2025-2026 Spring Programme at your esteemed national university in the hopes of becoming a selected candidate for the prestigious Computer Science course.

I am a diligent student of PQR College, currently majoring in Computer Science. Ever since I was young, I've been very fascinated by the concept of computers and the development of technology that allows us to function in our daily lives with ease and comfort. I only liked to play games and explore applications on devices, but once I found out people actually invented and could further improve these amazing things, I made it my goal to do the same and contribute to society by creating feasibility technology.

When I began studying, I fell in love with coding. It was such a wonderful thing to put in effort into something, taking time and patience, effort and resilience to innovate, correct and recorrect errors, and finally get the desired output. Then I began to gain interest in hardware based projects as well such as Arduino based systems and regularly involved it in my extracurricular. After taking part in countless tech events, coding competitions, creating numerous robotic cars, I finally won a very tough competition of IOT based systems. These taught me the importance of trial and error, teamwork and sportsmanship, alongside providing experience, and knowledge from experteés in the field.

Obviously, since I am a Computer Science student, I am well equipped with integration of technology in academia, using visual media for conceptual understanding such as videos and presentations, engaging and relevant information over the internet regarding specific topics and planning apps to organize and schedule study materials and techniques. Most of all the help of artificial intelligence tools to brainstorm, compile scattered information, and quizzing oneself over difficult topics is a crucial and well needed skill for the 21st century.

Aforementioned, the Computer Science course at your university offers in depth analysis of new technological advancement, a detailed overview of coding languages, and the integration of hardware and software for further innovation in the respective field. Since all of these are things I am very interested in and have previous experience regarding them, I hope to gain further understanding, and to some extent, a level of expertise in my respective major.

Attached are my certificates along with my portfolio, which you can look over at your convenience. Thank you for your time and consideration.

With regards,
XYZ.

As a motivated, passionate and dedicated individual/ student I am exited to apply for the spring program offered by your esteemed university with a strong academic background and a computer science student. I am confident that this program offered by your university will help me to achieve my goals and will make a meaningful impact on the field of computer science.

Throughout my academic journey I have consistently demonstrated academic excellence, achieved recognition in computer science and earned top grades. I have also developed many experiences in me which include many research works projects and camps. These experiences helped me to enhanced my skills and personal growth but also instilled in me a thirst of pursing further education. These experiences have taught me the importance of communication, resonance people skill and team work which make me a perfect student for this program offered by your university. I am completely drawn to your university because of its research opportunities and high reputation among the student within the country and other part of the world.

The university commitment to produce world expert computer science student resonate completely with my own goals and values. I am very proficience of using technology for the academic purpose because I have a deep interest in it. The resources provided by your university including libaries, ICT lab and research centre will provide me an ideal environment to learn, and groom and be achieved academic purpose. Further more the comprehensive curriculum offered by your university ailing perfectly with my proffesion and academic aim. I have very deep interest of using technology in the academic purpose as a computer science student and this all are available and provided by your university.

Images of Better Response	Example 01:

Option 'A'

Helping is not just an act of kindness or it can not be just defined as empathy or generosity. It can change lives as I have read somewhere that 'small things matter'. I may have helped many but was unable to experience that divine feeling of empathy. But at the time when I was stuck in a situation where I was so helpless and agigated of the matter, someone helped me and that's when I got to know when you are kind and helpful to other, how that indivisual feel which is getting helped which also promotes act of kindness among others. I learned a lot through my experience.

Actually, I am an ordinary employe at a local company in our town. The life was going all set until I heard the news of company firing people to maintain budget as the buisness was in constant loss. Initially I didn't pay attention to that news and let it go by mentioning in it as only a rumour but on Monday morning, when my manager told me that I was fired, I couldn't believe it for a second. I was out of breathe but was helpless so I ~~took~~ had to leave. I wasn't tensed about my survival but my mother's disease.

My mother was the patient of cancer, stage III and she had to be provided with proper medical attention and medications, ensuring her survival. I lost my father only when I was 2 years old and my mother raised me with great difficulty and resilience which I was forever indebted. Doctor told me clearly that my mothers surgery is very important before it was too late.

After a week, my mother got admitted to hospital due to her deteriorating health. I couldn't see her in that condition. I knew my savings were not enough for her surgery. In that state of helplessness, I was sitting in the corridor of the hospital until someone approached me and was in state of extreme anxiety and rush. He asked me if I could lend him a few bucks. I was silent for a moment and looked at him and I don't know why but I gave all the money I had in my wallet. The man thanked me and left assuring that he will pay me back as soon as possible. I knew that I wasn't getting any money but I was proved wrong after only two days.

I was roaming in the lobby, tensed and agitated, finding a way of getting money for my mother's surgery until I was again approached by that man. He saw the tears and tension in my eyes and asked that why I was in hospital since a week as he was also there and noticed me many times.

I explained everything to him. He returned my money and was very grateful and left. In a few hours, doctor told me that my mother's dues for surgery were cleared so I don't have to worry now. Upon insisting I got to knew about that kind person which was the one whom I helped two days ago. I was so grateful to him when I met him again, he offered job in his company as he was manager of multi-national company. In this way, he helped to me twice for I was forever indebted.

I learned that why helping is important without keeping in mind the payback you will get. I promised to my self that I will always help those in need and also the feeling of helping others is surely divine.

Example 02:

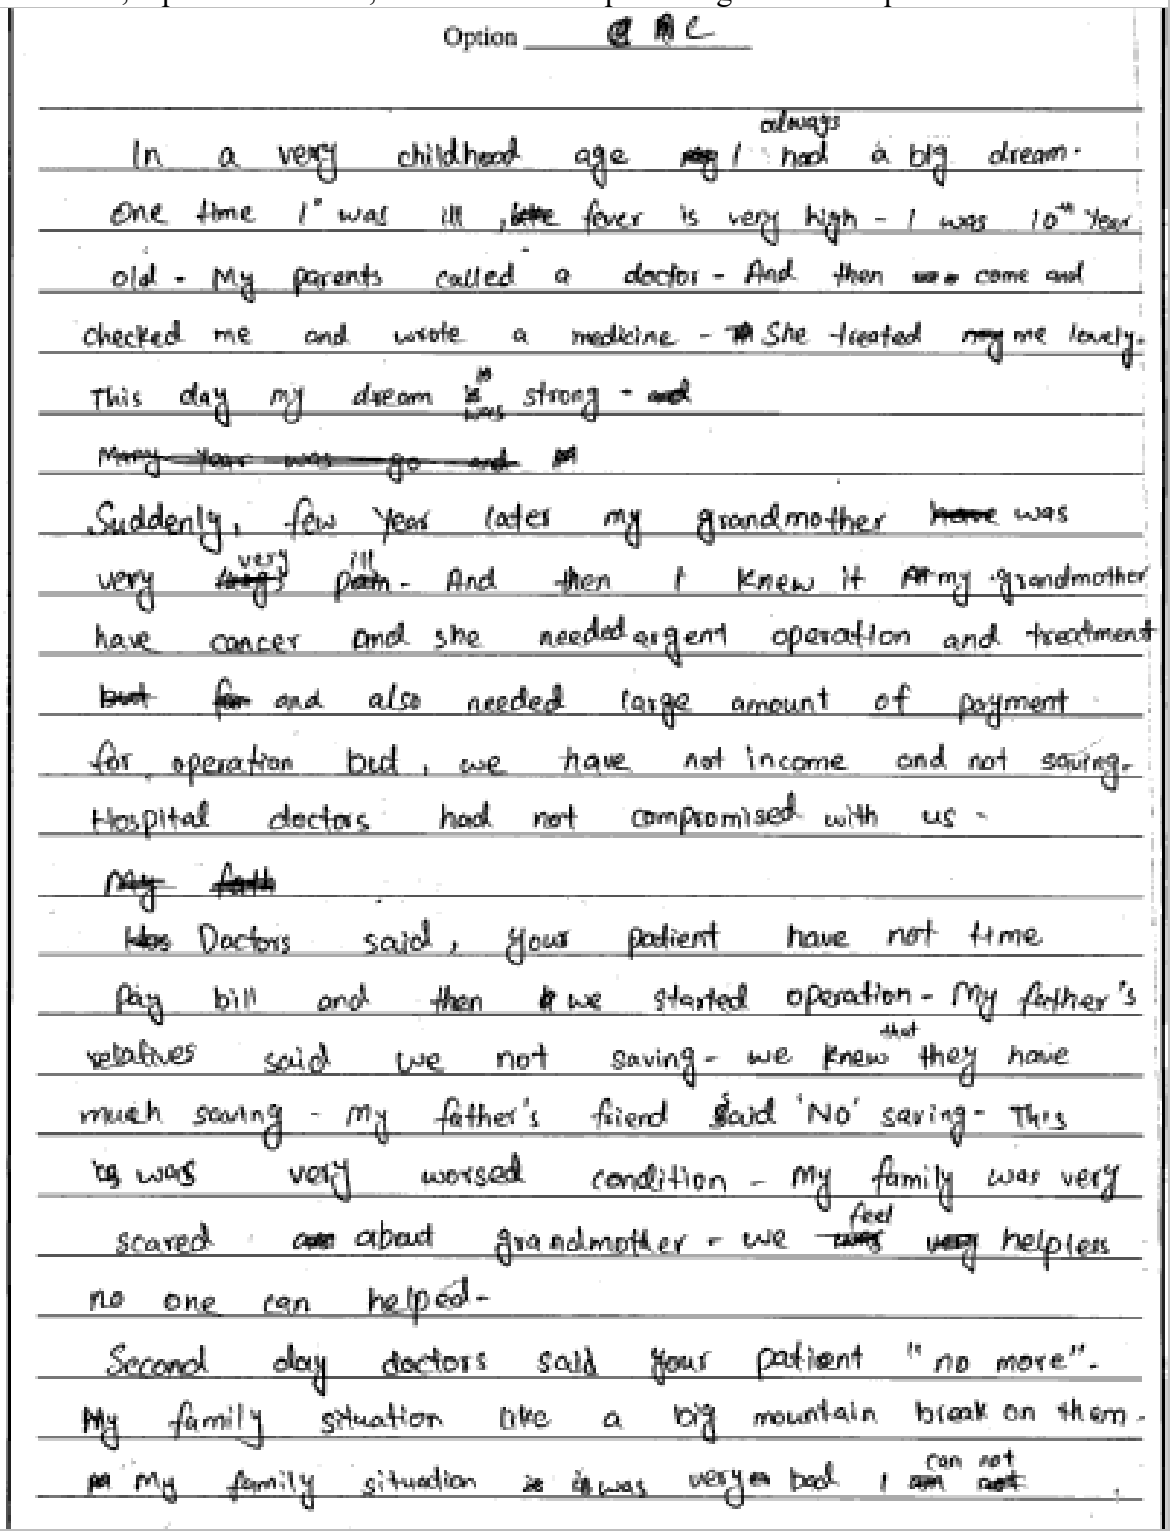

Option A

As I walked on the hallway, astounding thunder my hands clenched onto the straps of my school bag. Is it really the end? I thought to myself My mind started pulling all flashbacks into projectory and holograms "Im doomed to destruction and ruin. Never have I ever thought things would go hay wire. Is it really repercussions or am I dreaming?" Thoughts like this flooded my head thinking I am being hypnotised into self-replaying my trauma. As I took another step I found myself with a relatively similar area. How does this school look like my former one? I gasped, it's not similar but the same thing. I heard my name Natalie, are you still here? my bestfriend seth shrieked. I begged her parents to let her switch schools and they agreed. I was over the moon. That's the reason she saved me from hallucinating again. Turns out ~~Natalie~~ Seth and I were bestfriends since childhood and none can do us apart. Not even her parents as they treated me like their own. She's the only friend I can trust. As we both went for our classes with my delusions again; I could no longer focus in class, but seth helped me everytime. And I'm grateful for her and her parents.

As the lunch break started we headed over to the cafetoria and had fun. Although these type of fun short lived I am forever glad that my bestie is with me. We once had a trio; a girl named Amelia but I was with Seth so I never doubted her. I remember in the 9-th grade when Amelia grabbed my neck into a fish tank at a museum in a school trip trying to drown me; seth helped me as I knocked over the glass tank. I yanked at her but Seth stopped me. Now I feel like we found the liar, Seth said and we went to report her and celebrated as she got detention for indescipline.

A month later to this incident; I found myself choking on a rugged piece of clothe with my eyes covered aswell. I started hyperventilating and murmed "help" while stuttering and I heard a hysterical yet demonic laugh; oh it's you Amelia? I know it's you I questioned myself she started saying "Oh miss smartie pants would have recognised me till now" and I hummped. As she was about to do another deed The door flunged open to two officer alongside Seth and My parents. My mother shouted "Nous my dear Natalie". and she untied me while Amelia was ~~took~~ taken to facilities. Apparently Seth put an Airtag in my shoes to which they hurdled upon finding me when I was late to home. My dear Amelia was Sentenced 5 years in correctional institute. Now with the help of a psychologist I feel way better with this Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD).

say in words-

Soon, I continued my study and few year later and after much more study and then I was a white coat and then my parent see me their was very happy- I was a doctor this moment is very Precious-

However, when my grandmother died my thought was this, when I will doctor then I helped many human, many poor and middle class humans And Now I am a doctor and I helped many people they not afford treatments -

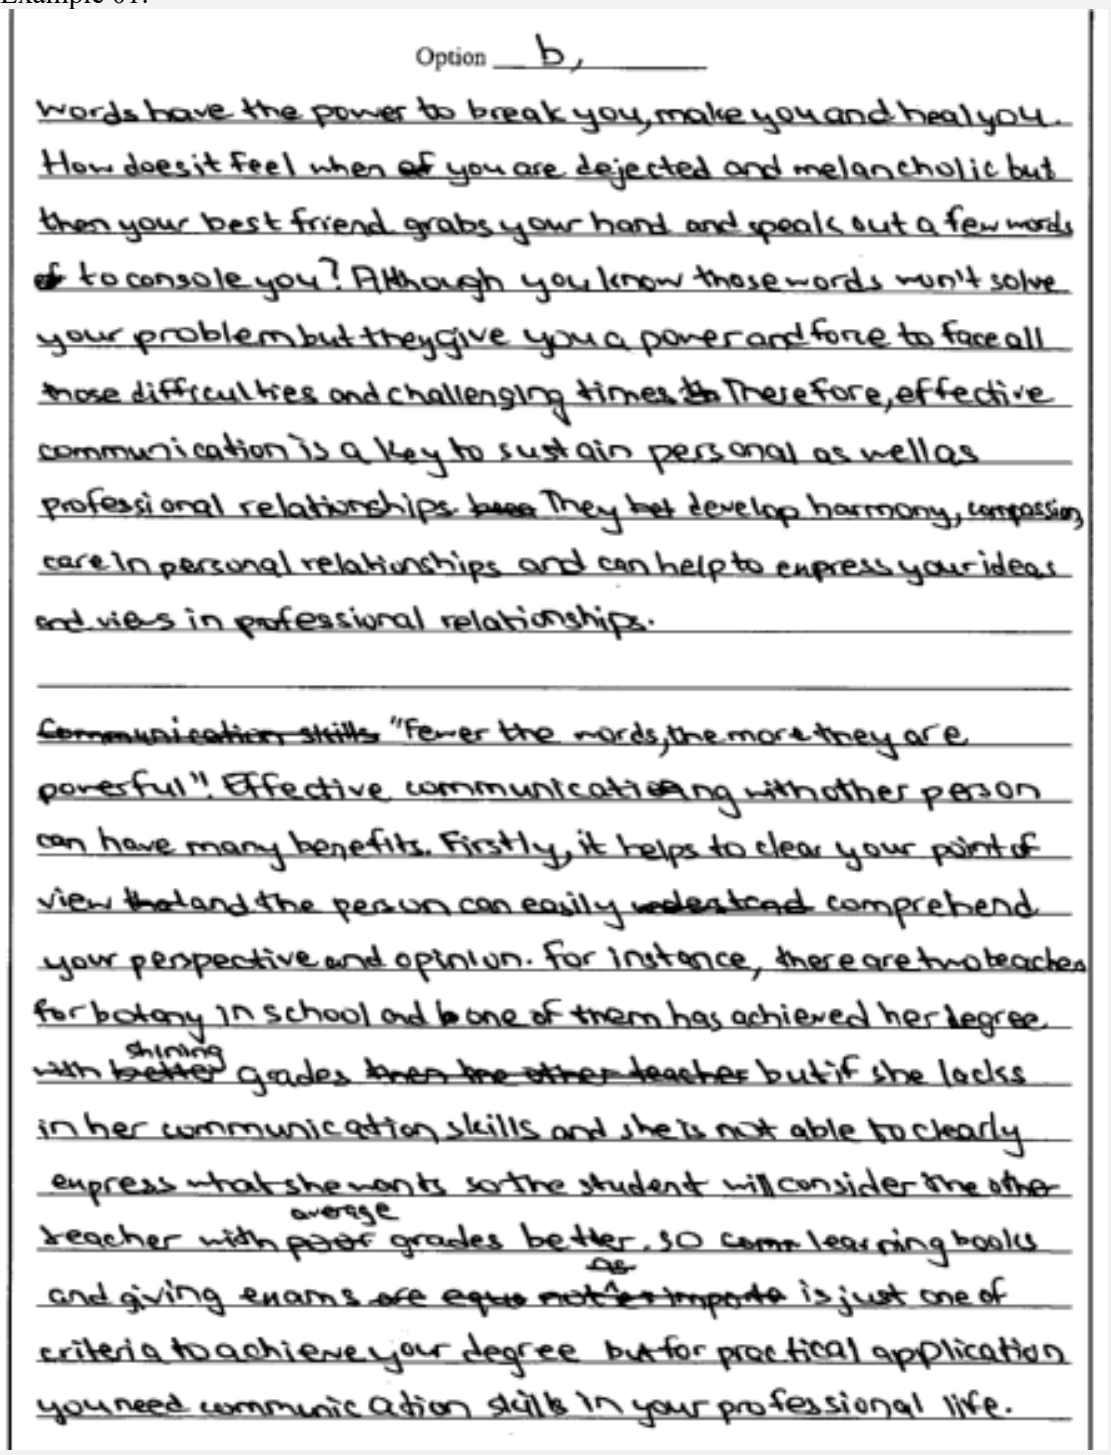

My passion choosing reason was my grandmother.

Overall Performance	The candidates overall provided valid responses that aligned with the criteria of the question. Their writings also reflected appropriate and valid structure, providing strategies to develop communication skills. In terms of grammatical structure, the overall responses incorporated relevant ideas and descriptions.
Description of Better Responses	Better responses demonstrated a confident use of figurative language to describe key features of effective communication, supported by creative vocabulary choices. Idioms and transitional devices were skilfully employed to enhance the clarity and depth of the discussion. Candidates presented their ideas in a distinctive and insightful manner, addressing multiple dimensions of the topic. They successfully identified the task requirements and aligned their responses with the given criteria, such as: - the role of active listening in effective communication, - the importance of communication in maintaining personal and professional relationships, and - interactions across various social contexts, including friends, relatives, colleagues, and even strangers. Moreover, these responses maintained a clear structure and appropriate tone, utilising cohesive and figurative language, varied sentence structures, and logical sequencing with effective transitional elements.

Option b,

Words have the power to break you, make you and heal you. How does it feel when of you are dejected and melancholic but then your best friend grabs your hand and speaks out a few words of to console you? Although you know those words won't solve your problem but they give you a power and force to face all those difficulties and challenging times. Therefore, effective communication is a key to sustain personal as well as professional relationships. They develop harmony, compassion, care in personal relationships and can help to express your ideas and views in professional relationships.

Communication skills "Fewer the words, the more they are powerful". Effective communicating with other person can have many benefits. Firstly, it helps to clear your point of view and the person can easily comprehend your perspective and opinion. for instance, there are two teaches for botany in school and one of them has achieved her degree with shining grades but if she lacks in her communication skills and she is not able to clearly express what she wants so the student will consider the other teacher with average grades better. so learning books and giving exams are not as important is just one of criteria to achieve your degree but for practical application you need communication skills in your professional life.

Secondly, effective communication can help to cultivate a culture of compassion and harmony. If we speak a few words of comfort to our fellow the other person it will can help him alot. If we lack communication skills we are not even able to express our feelings to our parents because our ~~we don't have~~ words are so weak to measure ~~our love we have for them~~ the intensity of our love.

A person is like a temple, what we eat ~~for~~ it is reflected from our body. Similarly, ~~for~~ in terms of communication what we listen we will speak. Active listening skills have a major role in ~~a~~ ~~eff~~ achieving effective communication skills. When ~~we~~ a child is born he does not know how to speak but when he listens ~~from his parents~~ to whatever parents will speaks then he learns to ~~speak~~ talk. So when we listen new ~~words~~ vocabulary around us in movies, parties etc. we are curious to find its meaning and then we ~~incorporate~~ incorporate it in our ~~daily daily regular speaking words~~ daily conversation. so the more actively you listen, the more your language develops and the more effective your communication skills will get.

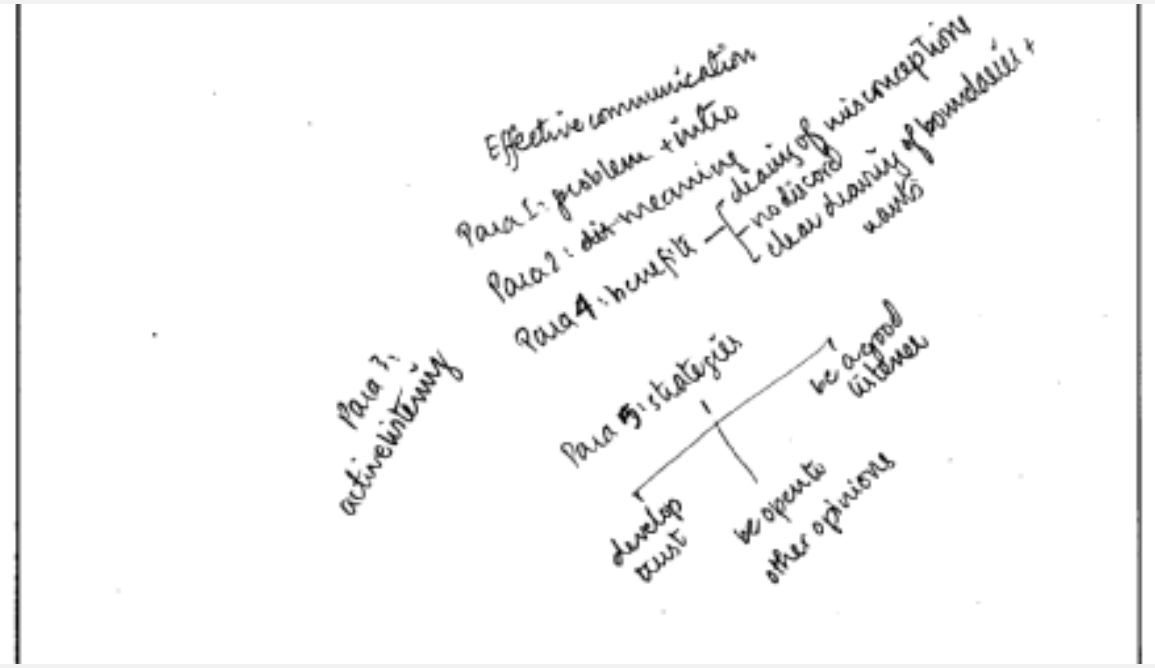

Practice makes a man perfect so the first ~~a~~ step you can take to enhance your communication skills is to practice as much as you can ~~in~~ speak that language with your parents, friends, class fellows and teacher and try to engage in a meaningful conversation with them. Second furthermore, you can watch movies, dramas, plays and read novels, because listening to others and reading new genre ~~can expose you to~~ can be give you a treasure of large number of new words. This will help you to develop ~~effecti~~ an outstanding and remarkable vocabulary with powerful words so ~~then~~ when you speak them it gives boost your ~~so tires~~ strength and confidence.

~~Effec~~ ~~Speakin~~ learning a language without learning its effective communication skills is like building a house without ~~path~~ foundation. Communication skills is ultimately the foundation for all languages because there is no point in learning a new language if you are not aware about correct use and placement of words. Therefore ~~dow~~ be an active listener, practice hard and watch movies and eccentric to ~~develop~~ achieve best communication skills.

Example 02:

Candidates who had better control in writing with respect to coherance of ideas, used mindmapping. The example below shows that the candidate has meticulously organised the flow of the essay, focusing on key aspects of details to be included in each paragraph. This aligns with the teaching pedagogies highlighted in the table below (refer to pg 66).

Option b

Communicate to Cultivate

In this world of dependency, establishing healthy relationships is a key necessity, and a guiding principle of such bonds is "give and take." While people are nowadays quick to seek the benefits out of a relationship, very few actually uphold their due responsibility of giving, be it personally or professionally. Unfortunately, very few relationships survive healthily nowadays, owing to two great root causes: lack of sincerity, and lack of effective communication.

"Communication is key." is a statement we've all heard and quoted but regretfully, communicators forget to discern between civilized beings and animals, forgetting all logic and sense to prove they are right and satisfy their hubris. The key to thriving companionships is fruitful conversation.

To begin, effective conversation refers, in my opinion, to being able to clearly convey your thoughts, exercising right of freedom of speech within respectful boundaries, and listening then to the other's point of view. However, the gaping hole in society does not rest in the conveyance, it lies in the reception.

Commonly, people believe listening is having your partner talk while being engrossed in your own tasks. And this is where the key founding points are devoid: attention and respect. This listening is referred to as passive listening. Active listeners ensure they focus and actually listen to what the other has to say, showing they value the speaker's words enough to allocate their time for them. The drastic deviations in a passive-listening and active-listening relationship is that the speaker realizes they are valued and is not afraid to reach out to the listener in the future in the latter. Meanwhile, the listener focuses on the details that would have been otherwise missed, understanding their partner and building an atmos-phere of mutual reliance and compatibility. Active listening is a fundamental principle of effective communication, which I believe yields countless bounties in a relationship.

Elaborating on my statement: firstly, by such communication no seeds of discord are sown and no misconceptions are propagated. If two or more partners are unable to discuss and verify rumors or doubts and allow them to take roots, anybody can intervene and misguide a partner regarding the other. Talking about it omits any chances of misunderstanding. Secondly, it clearly conveys the wants, needs and boundaries. Everyone expects their partners to simply understand what they desire, or what's bothering them, without letting them be aware of the situation whom ironically, the aforementioned partners expects the same. Nobody is born with complete knowledge and therefore, for a relationship to thrive and prosper, one should not be afraid, or shy away from talking about "something simple or insignificant as this". Even such things can either be a catalyst towards destruction or dedication.

Moving on, a query arises: if it really is so beneficial, why is it not in common practice? It's because people, firstly, are self-convinced of their righteousness, and are not willing to bear their part of the blame. Secondly, there as a quote will explain my view: "things are meant to be used, and people to be loved. Discord is when people are used and things are loved."

Therefore, I propose two methods: i) develop trust. Be a good speaker and listener, and assure your partner that they have your support and attention. ii) let down your pride and be open to various opinions. Launching into furious episodes is not the solution: it will not earn you respect, but fear, not dominance but hate.

Being able to opinionate without fear of backlash works wonders in a relationship. Relationships are not about public displays of affection or giving roses. It's about protecting the other from that rose's thorns. It is however important to understand what, when, where and how to speak.

To conclude, I support that effective communication is a key to building lasting relationships. It's about letting down your walls when it matters most.

Example 03:

Option (b)

Communication is something that a person can not ignore. It is such a significant part of our daily lives that without it living would be impossible. Communication is a term used when you are having a talk with the other person or multiple people. One person speaks and the other's hear and vise versa.

Communication is important but effective communication is the key to sustaining personal and professional relationships. A person can effectively communicate only if he/she has the active listning ability. Active listning contributes to effective communication as when a person listens to the other person speaking with full intrest then only will the person be able to respond and understand the point of the person speaking.

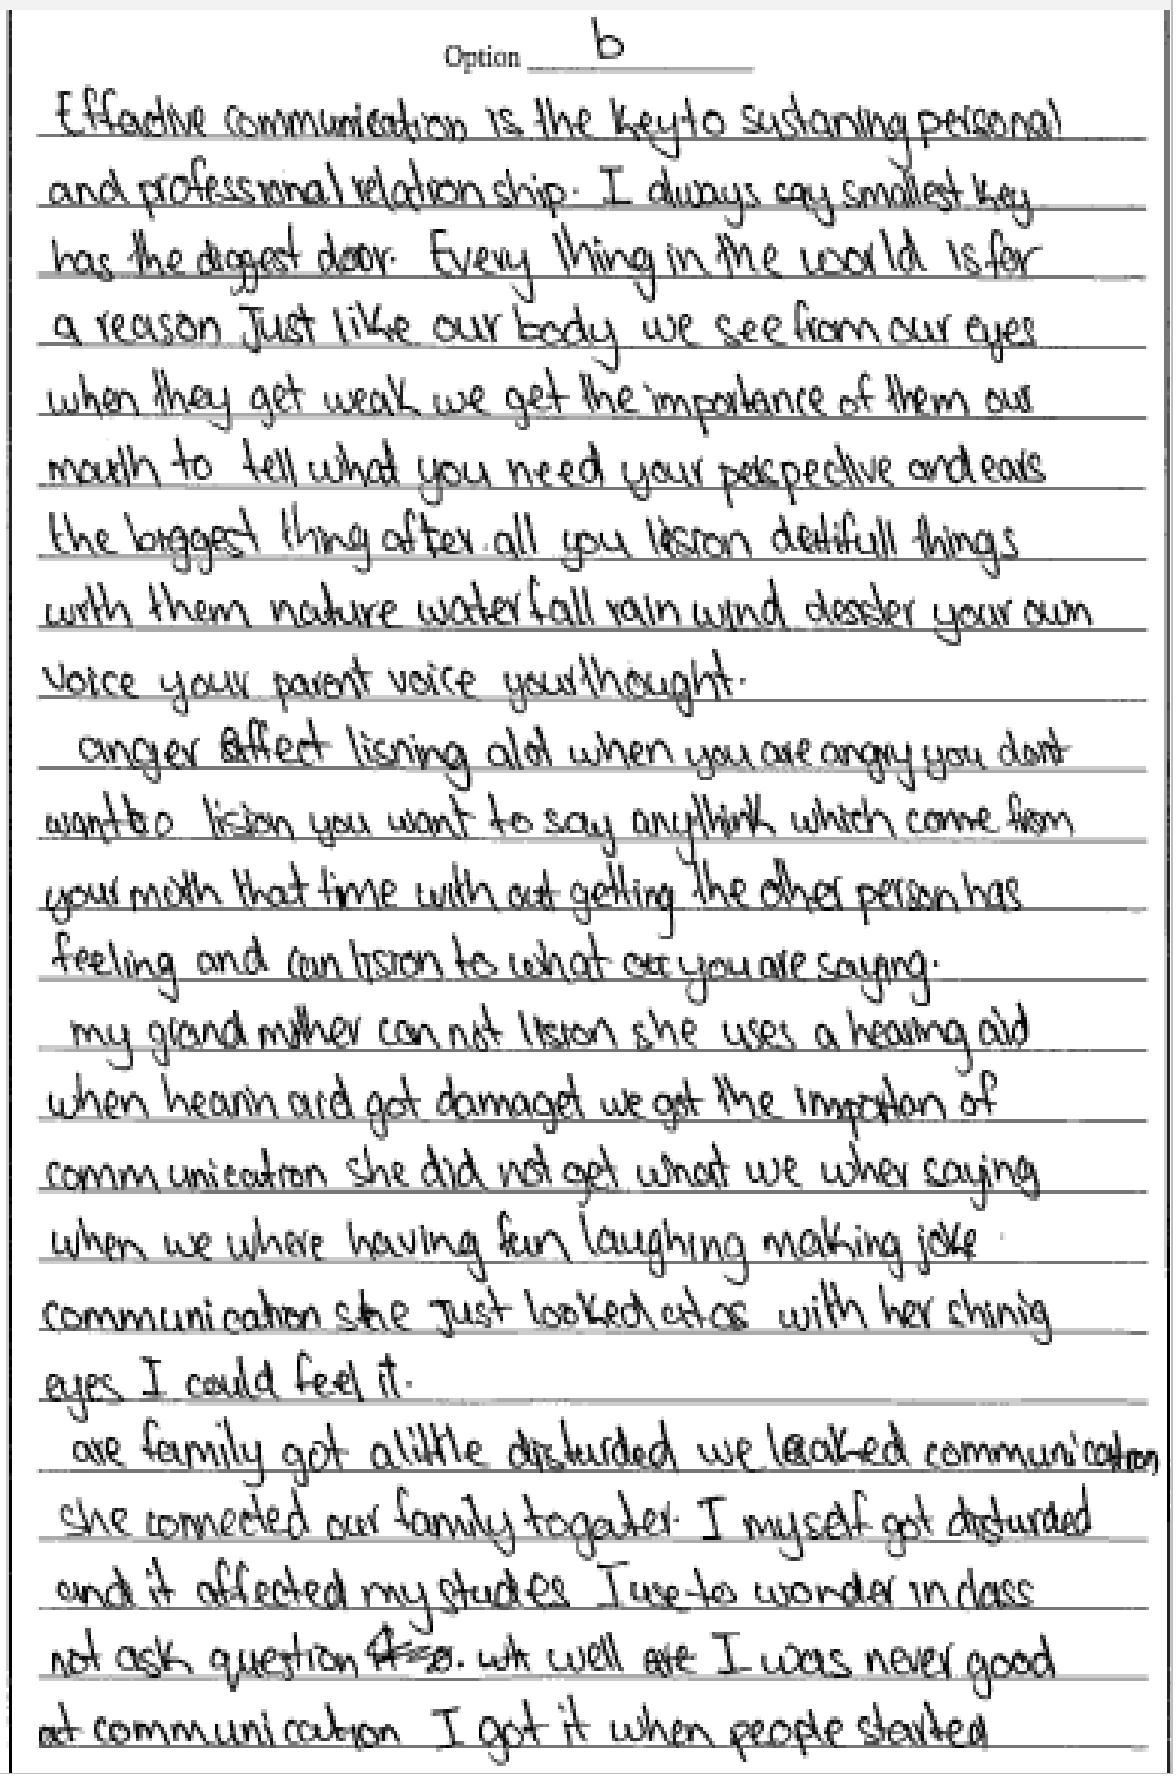

Moreover some people have the habit to cut people off during their conversation or speech to share their point which is not only a bad thing to do it is also considered rude. If the person actively listens to the speaker he can grasp the concept and main idea of the conversation which helps the person as when it will be time to respond the person would know the how to respond accordingly. If the person achively listens he or she is seen as a respectable person and the person speaking feels res confident enough to finish the speech as the person knows that the listner is focusing on my speech.

Futhermore being confident is also crucial in having an effective communication. If the person speaking is not confident and audible to the listner he wont be able to understant what you are saying. Another significant fact to keep in mind for effective communication is to avoid using slurs or anything that would be inappropriate or offensive to the listner.

There are many ways by which an individual can enhance and improve there conversation skills. Debate competitons are an excellent way to boost confidence and audability which are crucial for effective communication. There are coaching's and educational institutes aswell that help you in your convesation skills. A person can also watch videos on social media on how to actively listen and enhance communication skills.

Effective communication is a skill that helps you out in many aspects of life and a person should know how to effectively communicate.

Description of Weaker Responses	Weaker responses either did not connect ideas linking the impact of active listening skills on sustaining relationships (personal–/ professional) nor mentioned the benefits of it. Moreover, such responses also lacked proper structure: using limited cohesive devices and sentence variety, inaccurate spellings, redundant or plain ideas.

Effective communication is the key to sustaining personal and professional relationship. I always say smallest key has the biggest door. Every thing in the world is for a reason Just like our body we see from our eyes when they get weak we get the importance of them our mouth to tell what you need your perspective and ears the longgest thing after all you lisson delifull things with them nature waterfall rain wind dessler your own voice your parent voice your thought.

anger affect lisning alot when you are angry you dont want to lisson you want to say anythink which come from your mouth that time with out getting the other person has feeling and can lisson to what ever you are sayyng.

my grand mother can not lisson she uses a hearing aid when hearin aid got damaged we got the importon of communication she did not get what we wher saying when we where having fun laughing making joke communication she just looked at us with her shinig eyes I could feel it.

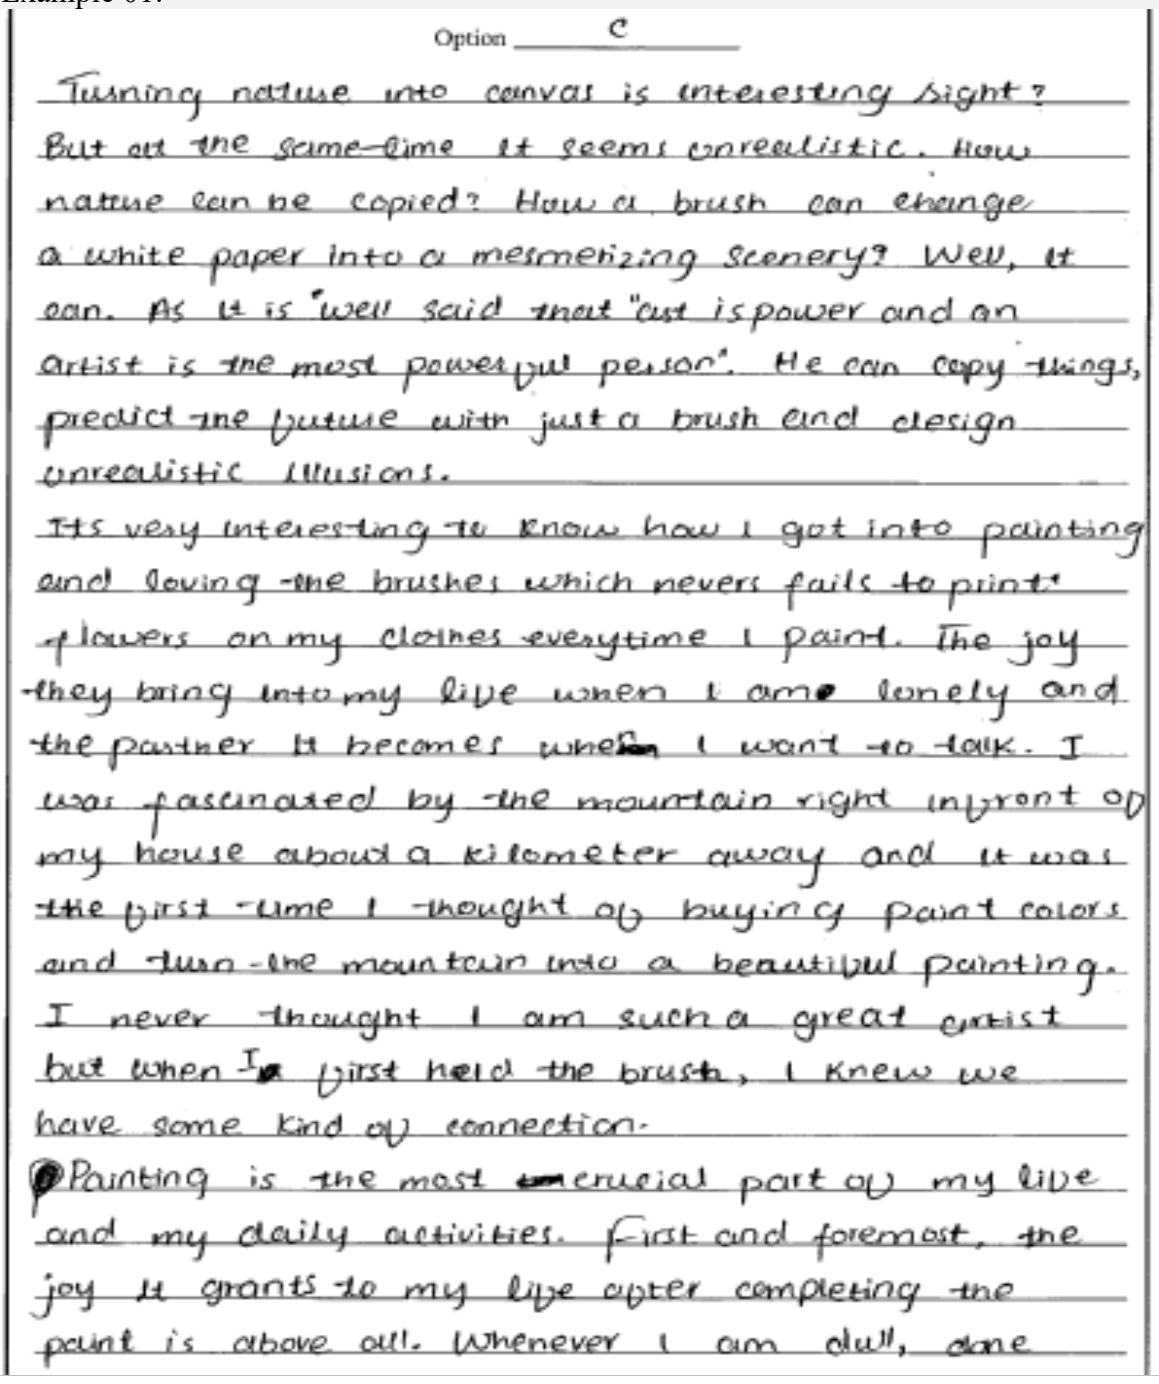

ase family got alittle disturded we leaked communication she connected our family togater. I myself got disturded and it affected my studies I use to wonder in class not ask question also. wh well ase I was never good at communication I got it when people started using me get work out of me and I did not liked when and did the work wrong.

I did not wanted to talk I got away from my parents and one day I got it and when I communicated my relation with my sibling got betteer they got my point I got there going and now I dont have to run from the situation I solved them.

Overall Performance	The overall responses showcased candidates understanding of the term of hobby/ passion. It was generally observed, that the candidates were able to present complete inference of the hobbies they possess that are generally or specifically linked to passion. This was the second most popular choice among the candidates. However, it was also sensed that the candidates did not display an understanding of the difference between a habit and a hobby. Many of them made the erroneous association of the term habit with hobby.
Description of Better Responses	Candidates with better responses were able to present valid elaboration for their hobby or passion. It was also observed that candidates justified their writing by giving three valid reasons why their hobbies were important for them such as the hobby gives them relief, understanding, and appreciation of society and others. The overall structure of better responses also reflected strong cohesion and coherence linking through appropriate and grade-level proficient vocabulary, and variety of sentence structures using transitional devices for sequencing ideas.

Turning nature into canvas is interesting sight? But at the same time it seems unrealistic. How nature can be copied? How a brush can change a white paper into a mesmerizing scenery? Well, it can. As it is well said that "art is power and an artist is the most powerful person". He can copy things, predict the future with just a brush and design unrealistic illusions.

Its very interesting to know how I got into painting and loving the brushes which never fails to print flowers on my clothes everytime I paint. The joy they bring into my life when I am lonely and the partner it becomes when I want to talk. I was fascinated by the mountain right infront of my house about a kilometer away and it was the first time I thought of buying paint colors and turn the mountain into a beautiful painting. I never thought I am such a great artist but when I first held the brush, I knew we have some kind of connection.

Painting is the most crucial part of my life and my daily activities. First and foremost, the joy it grants to my life after completing the paint is above all. Whenever I am dull, done

With worldly issues and want to heal myself, here it comes. I feel like my paint brush is running like a rabbit towards me and telling me to hold it once and it will convert all my stress into a fresh start. When I am painting, I feel like I am the happiest person in the universe and the brushes are my partners which will, for sure, never cheat on me.

Secondly, peace of mind is a great virtue. No matter whatever I do. Yoga, exercise, ~~meditation~~ anything, I get my peace from ~~nothing~~ nothing other than my paint box. Drawing my imaginary world makes me feel like I am the main character and the story revolves around me. Moreover, after seeing my painting at my home, people now are offering thousands of rupees to make paintings for them as well. The way they describe what they want and me turning their thinking into canvas gives me another level of pleasure. Seeing their reaction and their appreciation on my work litterally makes me emotional. Along with it, my family also loves to hang my painting on the walls. They praise my work and appreciate me to do more and more.

In a nut shell, whenever I feel lonely, sad, and discouraged, there is no one but my paint brush. Healing me and making me feel special is its ultimate goal. Whenever I want peace, I grab my brush, whenever I want to enclose the whole world on a small paper, I grab my brush. For every problem in my life, there is only one solution "Painting".

Example 02:

Option C.

Its more than just a hobby, it's an escape. Writing and reading - these two things spark my interest more than anything ever has. I find peace when writing or reading, a peace which feels unreal. Finding escape in words, flipping through the pages of similarity is just soothing. It might confuse some but to me, I can not be happier anywhere else other than being with my books. The stories that a book is keen to tell, the emotions an author wants you to feel can only be heard and felt when a reader is willing. The world of words, tales and poems drowning you in a bitter-sweet void where all you can think of are your own emotions.

I love to read, reading is something I can do without getting bored of its. It's like meditation but with your eyes and mind open. letting the authors words, sweep away your emotions and imagination, carving it into something fragile. I like how easy an author can manipulate with the readers feeling, giving all sorts of emotions and feelings slip away in form of words on a piece of paper. The paper might hold no value but the words on it are more expensive than gold to a reader. Writing is a skill that not everyone can achieve, its like a curse that not everyone is born with. Why curse? why not a blessing? Writing is a curse, only a true writer knows the power and intensity behind it. Writing can easily mimic and manipulate, it is a strong skill, once ~~occupied~~ equiped, there is no going back.

For me, reading and writing was the only escape from childhood traumas and nightmares. These hobbies made me realise that how a few set of words can change ones emotion and feelings. Through writing, I express better than words, I let my thoughts break lose, I let every emotion in me find justice. Through reading, I let myself drown in fairytales and tales that feel all too real, I let words sweep me in to ignorance of the real world, I let my self escape the monsters of my ~~me~~ own soul to rest. Writing helps to fulfill my thirst of being heard, I am afraid to use my voice so I use my pen instead. Reading takes me to places I know are not real, it lets me be among the characters and live like them until the book is closed.

As I said earlier, its more than just a hobby - it's an escape. I fear that one day I would have to let go, move on, but until then I want to drown deeper and deeper in the tales behind the cover. Until the realisation of returning hits me. I want to savor the memories of those words and maybe, just maybe one day, I will find my real escape, forever.

Example 03:

Option C.

My passion is to write poetry. I have been writing poems ever since I was in grade - Seven, and eversince then my passion for poetry still burns bright. The first poem I wrote was named 'Starlight.' It said:

"You say you see the Starlight in me,
Shinning so bright and pristine,
What about the moments in between?"

It reflected on how the ones who know us, tend to know every part of us but some secrets are always hidden. I wrote many poems on the things that I feel because poetry brings meaning to the life and a meaning to the pain we suffer. Otherwise pain in simple words stings but if we pen it down in a poetic way, the pain feels worth it.

I have always wanted to become a poet, I remember how when I was younger I used to collect books of Edgar Allan Poe and Rumi, as these were the poets who inspired me to write poetry. Sylvia Plath and Charles Bukowski are my escape from this world. I often find myself writing poetry randomly, even when I'm in a class in my College, but then I get scolded. By my teachers ofcourse.

Many people often tell me that there's nothing a career that supports poetry. However, there's a difference between ~~career~~ job and passion. Many people often confuse passion with ~~career~~ Jobs. ~~Passion~~ Jobs ~~Career~~ is a reality and passion is an escape from reality. My passion for poetry helps me escape the reality I'm living in.

My passion for poetry helps me heal aswell. I don't know how I developed this hobby? Perhaps, it's engraved in my veins. It's better to be dead than to live without passion. Passion is what makes a person want to thrive.

Writing poetry awakens a desire, burning with fire inside me. Sometimes my parents scold me for writing poems but I rebel them. Since this is the only topic upon which I don't reason with my parents. The reason I write poems is that they make up a new reality for me. They make me want to become a better person. One of my poems named 'the idea of dying' says:

"The idea of drying,
Is better than the idea of love,
Love burns,
Death like a white curtain swirls,
Love never lasts,
Death is infinite."

The words describe how a person prefers death over love because love seems hard and people cannot actually give love they just want it. The poem isn't about a love affair, instead it describes the current situation of the world, and that many people have lost their lives.

Poetry plays an important role in my life because by writing poems I can reflect my real feelings and the world can know it too. Secondly, poetry gives meaning to my life not that my life has lost it's meaning, but it beautifies every moment of life. Lastly, through writing poems I can express my pain, hapiness, fear, and that which I can't explain to anyone but surely my words can.

I hope one day, the world becomes a place where people acknowledge poetry and they respect poets. I also hope that the world becomes a better place, for everyone whose sufferring to express themselves.

"And whatever happend,
To freedom and honesty,
Truth is no more the policy,
My mind, glides,
As I speak,
The words on the paper,
Never heard, never seen."

Passion is what makes us, us without it we are nothing but just a rotten body in which the soul flutters.

Description of Weaker Responses	Weaker responses lacked the proper elaboration of the hobby or passion, instead, they misunderstood hobby with habit. i.e. Many of the candidates presented generalised habits and wrote honesty, speaking the truth, helping the poor, and trusting others as their hobby. It was observed that their scripts showed lack of comprehension, weak usage of grammar, inadequate use of language, tense structure, and cohesion amongst ideas.

Hobby can define your character almost all people have different hobbies some of ~~that~~ them is good hobby or which make strong character or some of them are bad hobbies which ruin your life. Some hobbies are good but it didnt like your parents thats also happen. ~~f~~

My hobby in free time is to playing cricket I am very pasionate about my hobby and ginee childhood it is one and only hobby I do. I didnt seeth any bad thing about it and our country has also cricket team and it seen very crazeful in our country.

when I was 7 to 15 years I played with normal tennis ball but when I grown up I start playing hard ball. I am very passionate about it and one bad thing about me that I didnt take permiss -ion to my parent for very long time because the one match is of 4 hours and my ~~did~~ parents didnt agree to play for such long time. I have ~~very~~ many good memories about it one of them is that, hard ball kit is very expensive and I didnt ~~take m~~ ask money for my parents I sale my phone and almost save my poeket money for 1 month and purchase a cricket bat which cost 9000 and I didnt tell to my dad about them.

I hardly get permission for 1 match in 2 weeke I am very crazeful for cricket byt it didnt like my parents and didnt seem bad habbit when I was in 9 class my father stricted me for not playing cricket and ~~fou~~ focus only in your studies, ~~bot~~ I feel ~~fee~~very bad because I regurarly goes school and tution but he didnt agree he said you didnt handly cricket or studies in same path.

I played very well in my ~~school~~ ~~to~~ college team. In our College Cricket trials ~~are~~ started I also participated in it. Coaches appreciate about my game and give my phone number if you are selected the ~~we~~ they will ~~t~~ call me, on sunday my father gets a call of my coach and ~~your~~ my coach ~~he~~ appreciate about my game and tells my father ~~for~~ that I am selected for U19 CWC but my father refuses them after a long conservation my father came to me and said you have only 1 year if you can do something in cricket then good otherwise you have to carry out studies that day I rember in my life and thats why my hobby is going in proffesnalism and is very importank in my life.

Annexure A: Pedagogies Used for Teaching the SLOs

Pedagogy: Storyboard
Description: A visual pedagogy that uses a series of illustrated panels to present a narrative, encouraging creativity and critical thinking. It helps learners organize ideas, sequence events, and comprehend complex concepts through storytelling.
Example: In a Literature class, candidates are tasked with creating storyboards to visually retell a novel. They draw key scenes, write captions, and present their stories to the class, enhancing their reading comprehension and fostering their imagination.

Pedagogy: Cause and Effect
Description: This pedagogy explores the relationships between actions and consequences. By analyzing cause-and-effect relationships, learners develop a deeper understanding of how events are interconnected and how one action can lead to various outcomes.
Example: In a History class, candidates study the causes and effects of the Industrial Revolution. They research and discuss how technological advancements in manufacturing led to significant societal changes, such as urbanization and labor reform movements.

Pedagogy: Fish and Bone
Description: A method that breaks down complex topics into main ideas (the fish) and supporting details (the bones). This visual approach enhances comprehension by highlighting essential concepts and their relevant explanations.
Example: During a Biology class on human anatomy, the teacher uses the fish and bone technique to teach about the human skeletal system. Teacher presents the main components of the human skeleton (fish) and elaborates on each bone's structure and function (bones).

Pedagogy: Concept Mapping
Description: An effective way to visually represent relationships between ideas. Learners create diagrams connecting key concepts, aiding in understanding the overall structure of a subject and fostering retention.
Example: In a Psychology assignment, candidates use concept mapping to explore the various theories of personality. They interlink different theories, such as Freud's psychoanalysis, Jung's analytical psychology, and Bandura's social-cognitive theory, to see how they relate to each other.

Pedagogy: Audio Visual Resources
Description: Incorporating multimedia elements like videos, images, and audio into lessons. This approach caters to different learning styles, making educational content more engaging and memorable.
Example: In a General Science class, the teacher uses a documentary-style video to teach about the solar system. The video includes stunning visual animations of the planets, interviews with astronomers, and background music, enhancing candidates' interest and understanding of space.

Pedagogy: Think, Pair, and Share
Description: A collaborative learning technique where candidates ponder a question or problem individually, then discuss their thoughts in pairs or small groups before sharing with the entire class. It fosters active participation, communication skills, and diverse perspectives.
Example: In a Literature in English class, the teacher poses a thought-provoking question about a novel's moral dilemma. candidates first reflect individually, then pair up to exchange their opinions, and finally participate in a lively class discussion to explore different viewpoints.

Pedagogy: Questioning Technique (Socratic Approach)
Description: Based on Socratic dialogue, this method stimulates critical thinking by posing thought-provoking questions. It encourages learners to explore ideas, justify their reasoning, and discover knowledge through a process of inquiry.
Example: In an Ethics class, the instructor uses the Socratic approach to lead a discussion on the meaning of justice. By asking a series of probing questions, the candidates engage in a deeper exploration of ethical principles and societal values.

Pedagogy: Practical Demonstration
Description: A hands-on approach where learners observe real-life applications of theories or skills. Practical demonstrations enhance comprehension, skill acquisition, and problem-solving abilities by bridging theoretical concepts with real-world scenarios.
Example: In a Food and Nutrition class, the instructor demonstrates the proper technique for filleting a fish. candidates observe and then practice the skill themselves, learning the practical application of knife skills and culinary precision.

(Note: The examples provided in this annexure serve as illustrations of various pedagogies. It is important to understand that these pedagogies are versatile and can be applied across subjects in numerous ways. Acknowledgements

The Aga Khan University Examination Board (AKU-EB) acknowledges with gratitude the invaluable contributions of all the dedicated individuals who have played a pivotal role in the development of the English compulsory HSSC-I E-Marking Notes.

We extend our sincere appreciation to Ms Sania Iqbal, Lead Specialist in English Language and Literature at AKU-EB, for taking subject lead during the entire process of e-marking.

We express our deep appreciation to our Senior Marker, Malik Zeeshan Ahmed, Habib Public High School, Karachi, for his leadership and oversight of the e-marking process. He evaluated each question's performances, delineating strengths and weaknesses in candidates' responses, and highlighting instructional approaches along with recommendations for better performance.

Additionally, we express our gratitude to the esteemed team of reviewers for their constructive feedback on overall performance, better and weaker responses, and validating teaching pedagogies along with suggestions for improvement.

These contributors include:

• Zain Muluk, Manager, Examination Development, AKU-EB

• Munira Muhammad, Manager, Assessment, AKU-EB

• Dr Naveed Yousuf, CEO, AKU-EB
