Aga Khan University Examination Board

Notes from E-Marking Centre on HSSC-I Principles of Commerce Examination May 2018

Introduction:

This document has been produced for the teachers and candidates of the Higher Secondary School Certificate (HSSC) Part I (Class XI) subject in Principles of Commerce. It contains comments on candidates' responses to the 2018 HSSC-I Examination, indicating the quality of the responses and highlighting their relative strengths and weaknesses.

E-Marking Notes:

This includes overall comments on candidates' performance on every question and some specific examples of candidates' responses which support the mentioned comments. Please note that the descriptive comments represent an overall perception of the better and weaker responses as gathered from the e-marking session. However, the candidates' responses shared in this document represent some specific example(s) of the mentioned comments.

Teachers and candidates should be aware that examiners may ask questions that address the Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs) in a manner that require candidates to respond by integrating knowledge, understanding and application skills they have developed during the course of study. Candidates are advised to read and comprehend each question carefully before writing the response to fulfil the demand of the question.

Candidates need to be aware that the marks allocated to the questions are related to the answer space provided on the examination paper as a guide to the length of the required response. A longer response will not in itself lead to higher marks. Candidates need to be familiar with the command words in the SLOs which contain terms commonly used in examination questions. However, candidates should also be aware that not all questions will start with or contain one of the command words. Words such as 'how', 'why' or 'what' may also be used.

General Comments:

It was felt that candidates lack understanding of basic knowledge related to business and different commercial activities. Most of the questions in the paper were case/ scenario based and candidates did not perform in questions dealing with different business situations. They were not able to relate the concept with the given situation resulting in poor scores. However, some candidates produced good responses to these questions. It was also observed that candidates did not spend time in reading questions which led to poor answers, as in most cases, candidates wrote a general responses without realising the requirements of the command words in the questions.

Note: Student responses reproduced in this report have not been corrected for grammar, spelling, format or factual information.

Detailed Comments:

Constructed Response Question (CRQs)

Question 1:

Trade involves the transfer of goods or services from one person or entity to another, often in exchange of money.

Discuss whether the given cases are the examples of trade or not. Attempt any TWO cases.

Case 1: Asma bought a bus that will be used as school van.

Case 2: Hafeez bought washing machine to be used in his house.

Case 3: Saleem bought soft drinks which he will sell in his shop.

This question had three cases and candidates were supposed to answer any TWO. This particular question was related to identification of different types of businesses. Mostly candidates attempted case 2 and case 3.

Better responses were the ones where the candidates were not only able to identify the cases correctly but they also gave justifications like, bought with an intention to sell, personal use and providing service etc.

Example:

Case 1: Asma bought a bus that will be used as school van.

Case 2: Hafeez bought washing machine to be used in his house.

As Hafeez bought goods for his pessonal use that's why this won't be consider as Trade

Case 3: Saleem bought soft drinks which he will sell in his shop.

Saleem bought drinks so that he can re-sell it and earn profit. Hence this is an example of Trade.

Weaker responses reflected that either candidates were unable to comprehend the question or they lack understanding of a basic distinction between trading and non-trading activity. These responses wrote irrelevant answers with inappropriate description.

Example:

Case 1: Asma bought a bus that will be used as school van.

Case 2: Hafeez bought washing machine to be used in his house.

If machine can't work Properly So other person who will expirt in it give Services

Case 3: Salcem bought soft drinks which he will sell in his shop.

Salcem give his Service to his Customer

Question 2:

In a joint stock company, different meetings are held for different purposes and the requirements of these meetings are different as well.

Explain the prerequisites of THREE different types of meetings held by the companies under Companies Ordinance 1984.

Better responses highlighted the appropriate understanding of the concept. Candidates were able to mention the prerequisites of the various meetings including the requirement of notice, number of days and quorum. These responses also explained the frequency of meetings and the decisions made in these meetings.

Example:

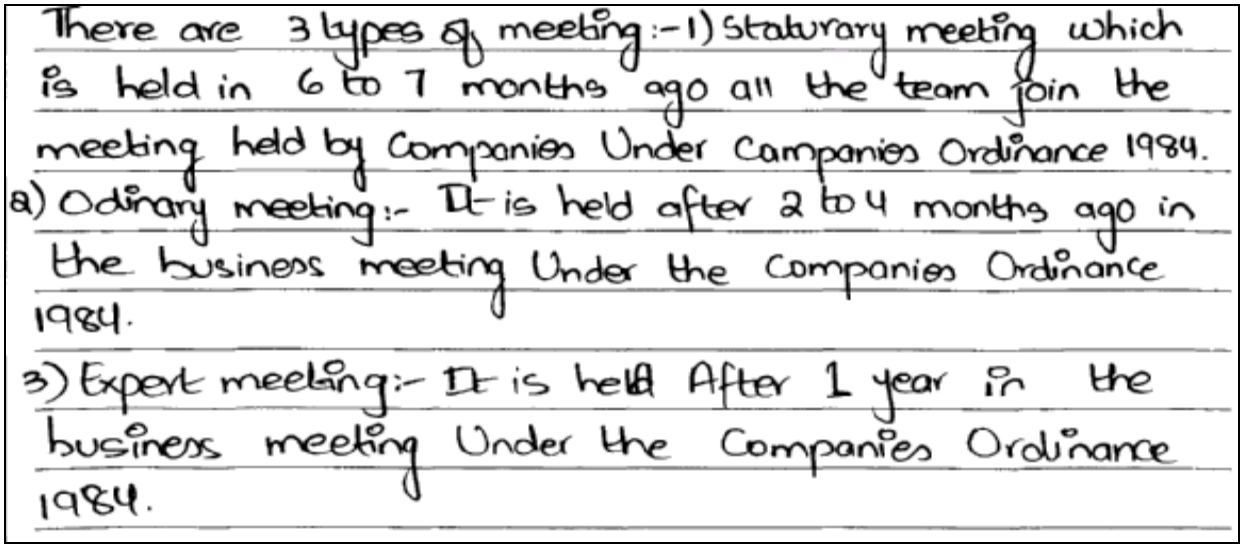

1) Annual general meeting: This meeting is undertake yearly where directors, managers, auditors are elected and fixed and the affairs/activities/status of the business is discussed. (21 day before notice).

2) Extra-ordinary general meeting: This meeting occurs timely and is for the matters which are emergent and cannot be post-poned till the next AGM.

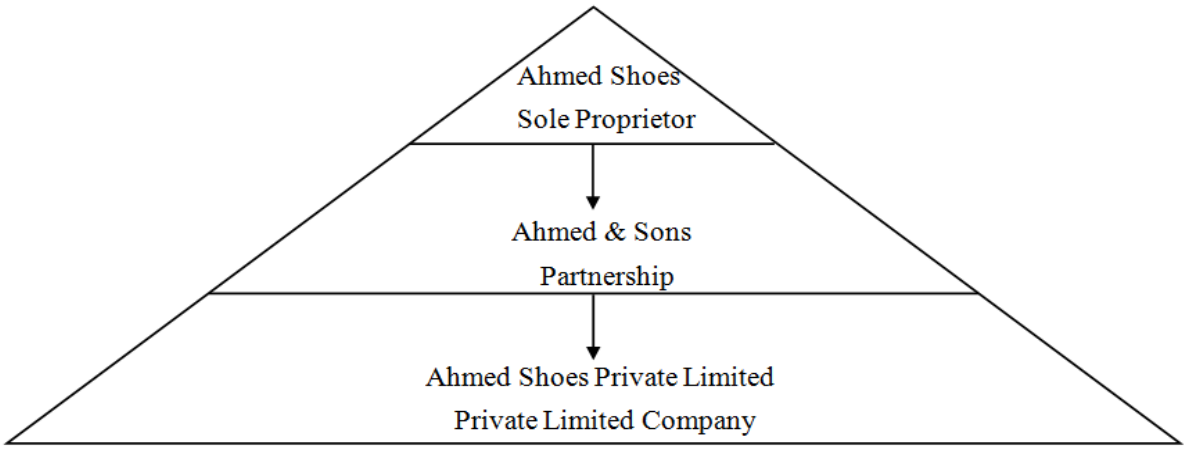

3) Statury meeting: To show the relationship of members with the business (is held only once in the whole life of the business after the commencement (necessary for publicltd.

Weaker responses were of TWO types. Type one responses only gave the definition of these meetings; like, annual meeting is held every year, statutory meeting is held at the time of formation and extra ordinary meeting is held on need basis. These responses were unable to discuss the prerequisites of these meetings. Second type of responses showed that candidates were unable to comprehend the question and explained meetings which are not specifically required by Companies Ordinance 1984, like; directors meeting, staff meeting and expert meeting, etc. which are routine meetings and not required by law.

Example:

There are 3 types of meeting:-1) Staturary meeting which is held in 6 to 7 months ago all the team join the meeting held by Companies Under Companies Ordinance 1984.
2) Odinary meeting:- It is held after 2 to 4 months ago in the business meeting Under the Companies Ordinance 1984.
3) Expert meeting:- It is held After 1 year in the business meeting Under the Companies Ordinance 1984.

Question 3:

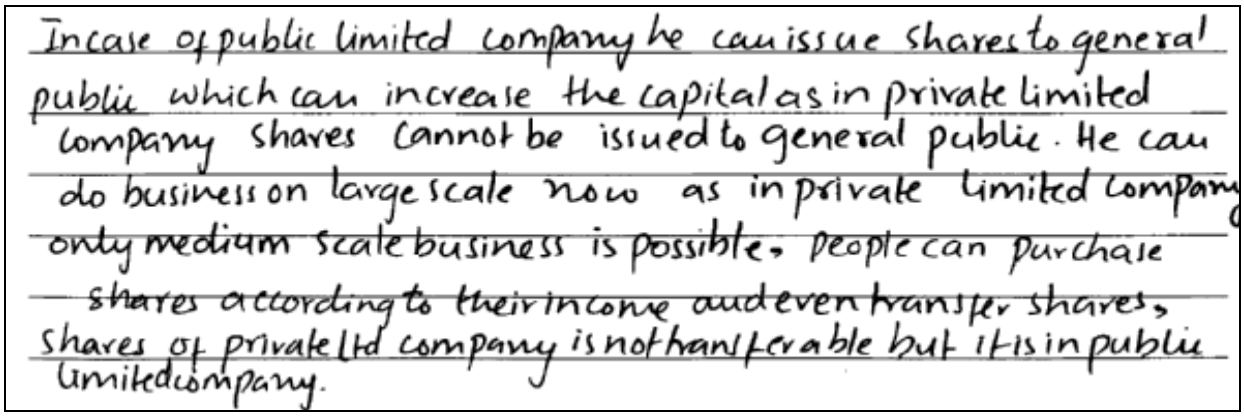

Ahmed started his business as a sole proprietor. Later on, he converted his business into partnership and then, to private limited company.

Directors of Ahmed Shoes Private Limited are planning to convert the company into a public limited company.

Explain any TWO advantages of converting Ahmed Shoes to a public limited company.

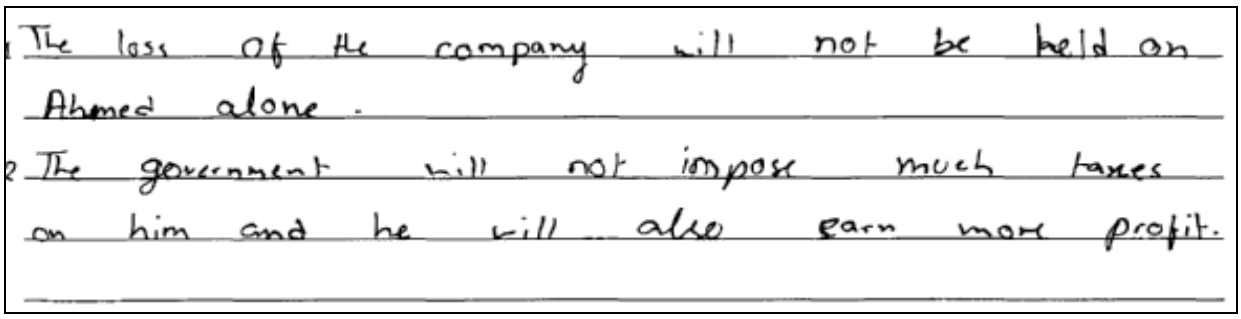

Better responses were those where the candidates were not only able to explain the advantages but they also linked it with the given situation. These responses mentioned advantages; like, generation of more capital, increase in the scope of business, higher credibility and more market share, etc.

Example:

Incase of public limited company he can issue shares to general public which can increase the capital as in private limited company shares cannot be issued to general public. He can do business on large scale now as in private limited company only medium scale business is possible. People can purchase shares according to their income and even transfer shares, shares of private ltd company is not transferable but it is in public limited company.

Weaker responses reflected that candidates were confused in the different forms of businesses. Some candidates considered Ahmed as a sole trader and wrote advantages accordingly. Few responses indicated that candidates did not relate the advantages to the situation and mentioned general advantages; such as, more profitable, more capital, less tax deduction and easy decision making.

Example:

1 The loss of the company will not be held on Ahmed alone.

2 The government will not impose much taxes on him and he will also earn more profit.

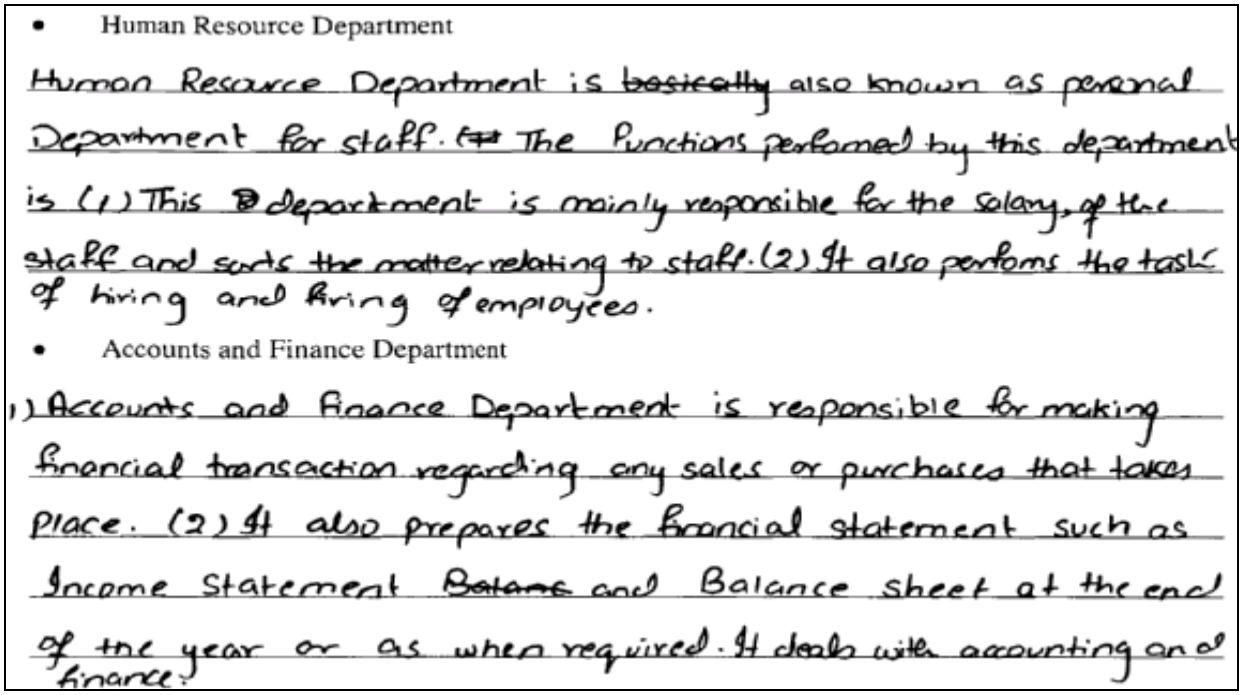

Question 4:

Explain any TWO functions performed by each of the following departments in an organisation.

- Human Resource Department
- Accounts and Finance Department

Better responses showed that the candidates had clear understanding of different departments in a business organisation. These responses were able to explain the functions of these departments which include hiring, training, devising tools for the motivation of employees, maintaining records of the business, managing financial issues of the business; like, budgeting and forecasting, and finalizing accounting records, etc.

Example:

- Human Resource Department

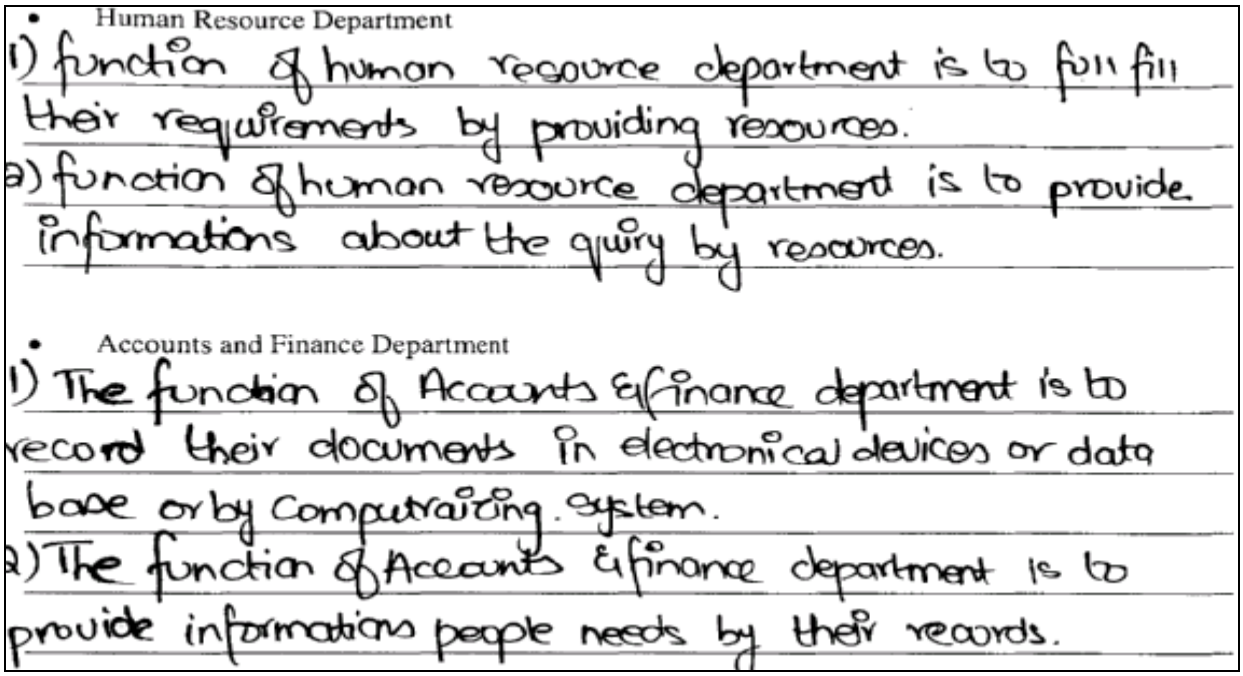

Human Resource Department is ~~basically~~ also known as personal Department for staff. The Functions performed by this department is (1) This Department is mainly responsible for the salary of the staff and sorts the matter relating to staff. (2) It also perfoms the task of hiring and firing of employees.

- Accounts and Finance Department

1) Accounts and finance Department is responsible for making financial transaction regarding any sales or purchases that takes place. (2) It also prepares the financial statement such as Income Statement ~~Balans~~ and Balance sheet at the end of the year or as when required. It deals with accounting and finance.

Weaker responses were unable to explain the functions of these departments. These responses were unclear and mentioned inappropriate functions of these departments. Few responses mixed the functions of human resource department with admin department and accounts department with management information system department.

Example:

- Human Resource Department

1) function of human resource department is to full fill their requirements by providing resources.
2) function of human resource department is to provide informations about the quiry by resources.

- Accounts and Finance Department

1) The function of Accounts & finance department is to record their documents in electronical devices or data base or by computraizing system.
2) The function of Accounts & finance department is to provide informations people needs by their records.

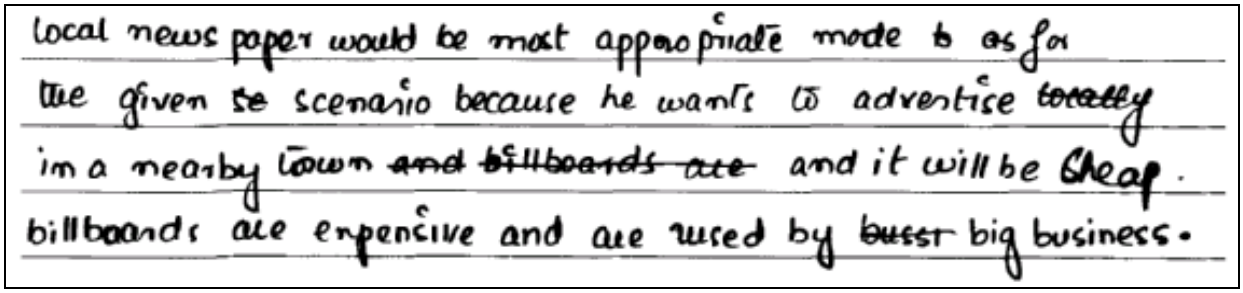

Question 5a:

Zafir is an owner of a small workshop. He sells refrigerators and also provides repair and maintenance services to its customers. He is planning to advertise his business in a nearby town through either billboards or local newspaper.

Select appropriate mode of advertisement in the given scenario. Give ONE reason for your selection.

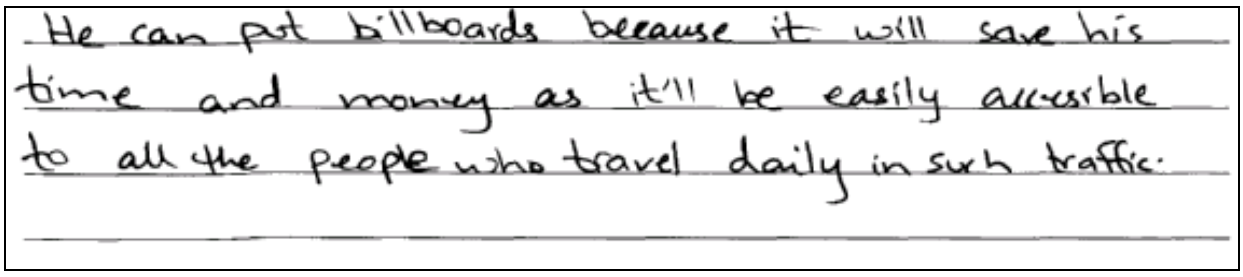

Better responses were able to identify the appropriate mode of advertisement. These responses also mentioned that because of limited resources, the owner will opt for newspaper advertisement rather than billboards. Some responses also mentioned that billboard could not be used because they are expensive.

Example:

Weaker responses showed that the candidates were unable to relate the requirement of the question with the scenario i.e. small workshop owner cannot advertise through billboards as they are expensive. Some of the responses mentioned the advantages for selecting the mode of advertisement which were correct but because of wrong identification they lost marks.

Example:

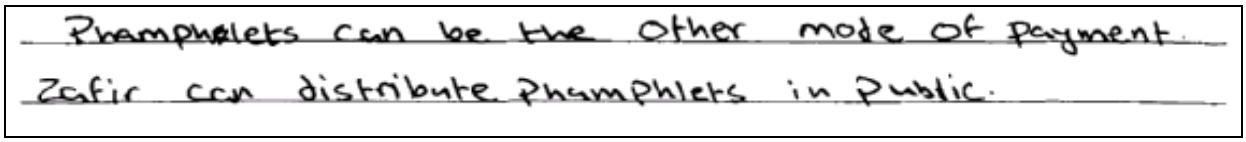

Question 5b:

Zafir is an owner of a small workshop. He sells refrigerators and also provides repair and maintenance services to its customers. He is planning to advertise his business in a nearby town through either billboards or local newspaper.

Suggest any other mode of advertisement that is suitable for Zafir's business.

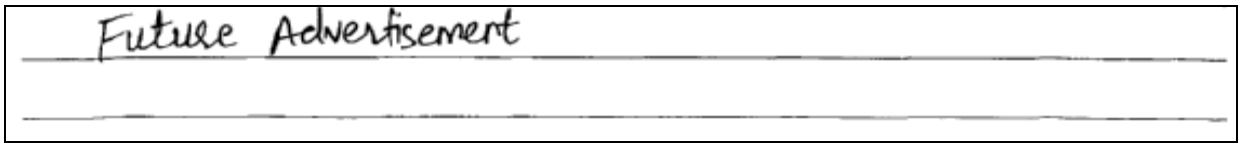

Better responses were able to suggest the alternate mode of advertisement. These responses mentioned various modes of advertisements, like, pamphlets and short text messaging service (SMS) etc. These responses also justified the reasons for their selection.

Example:

Weaker responses either wrote the wrong mode of advertisement or they wrote the mode of advertisement without any reason or justification. These responses mainly included modes such as television and outdoor marketing etc.

Example:

Question 6:

Replace the letters A, B and C with appropriate items for the given invoice issued by Eruj to her customer Ahmed Sons.

A

Bill To:

Ahmed Sons
Alpha Road
Karachi

Invoice No: 01273
Date: February 13, 2018

Item Code	Item Description	Rate	B	Amount
001	Printer machine	3,500	1	3,500
003	Hard disk	2,200	2	C
	Subtotal			7,900

Terms and Conditions:

Tax Rate

- Interest may be charged on overdue amounts
- Credit terms of 15 is applicable
  Payment other than cash must be made in the name of the business.

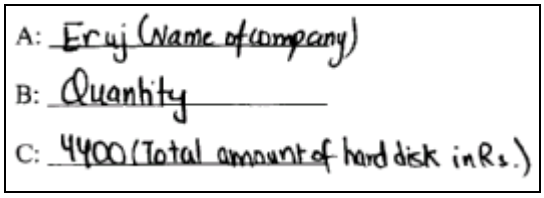

A: _____

B: _____

C: _____

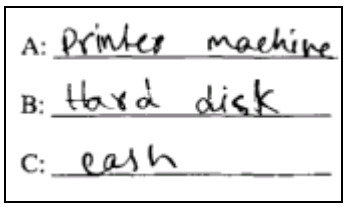

Better responses showed that the candidates have idea about invoice and its components. These responses mentioned the details as letterhead, quantity and 4,400 respectively. Some candidates also mentioned alternate names; like, invoice name of the business and unit etc. which were considered at the time of marking.

Example:

Weaker responses indicated that candidates did not have idea of how an invoice looks like and what are the key components of an invoice. These responses mentioned wrong answers; like, cash, amount, item and bill, etc.

Example:

Question 7:

Wholesalers are one of the key participants of channel of distribution; they provide various services to other participants of channel of distribution.

Mention the services provided by wholesaler to the following participants.

- Service to Manufacturer

1. _____

2. _____

- Service to Retailer

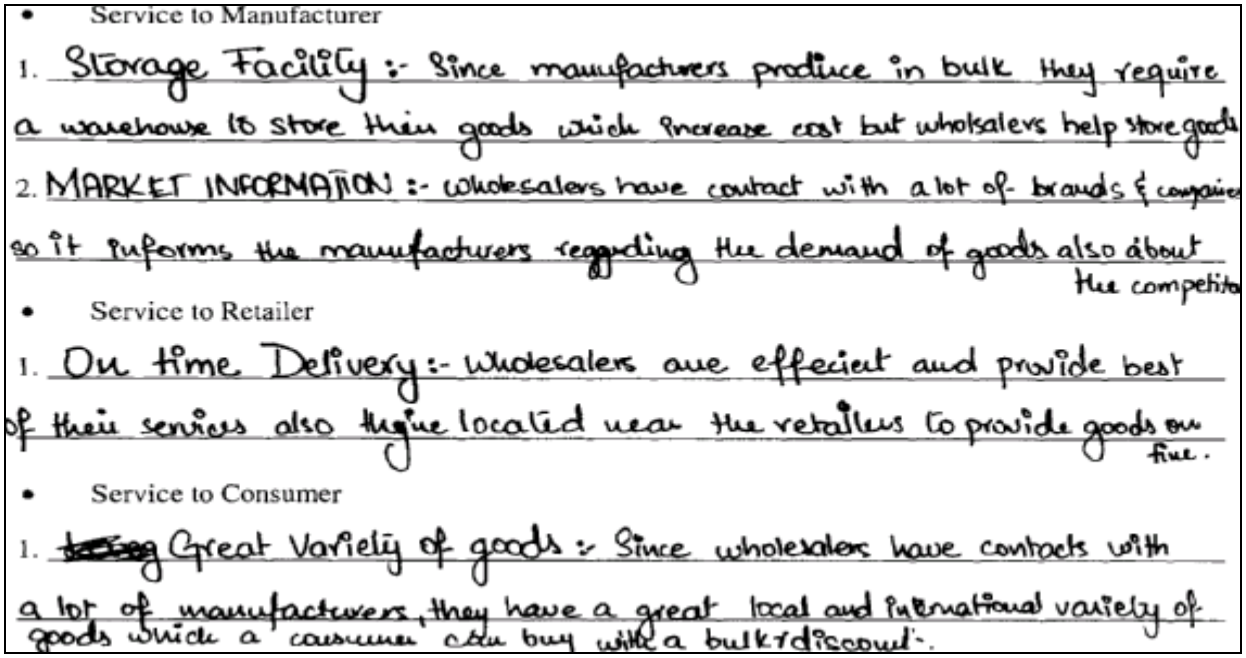

1. _____

- Service to Consumer

1. _____

Better responses showed that candidates have good understanding of channel of distribution. These responses mentioned various services provided by wholesalers to other channels of distribution, such as storage facility, inform about consumer needs, financial support, variety of products, helps in increase market share and provide goods on time etc.

Example:

- Service to Manufacturer

1. Storage Facility :- Since manufacturers produce in bulk they require a warehouse to store their goods which increase cost but wholsalers help store goods
2. MARKET INFORMATION :- Wholesalers have contact with a lot of brands & companies so it informs the manufacturers regarding the demand of goods also about the competito

- Service to Retailer

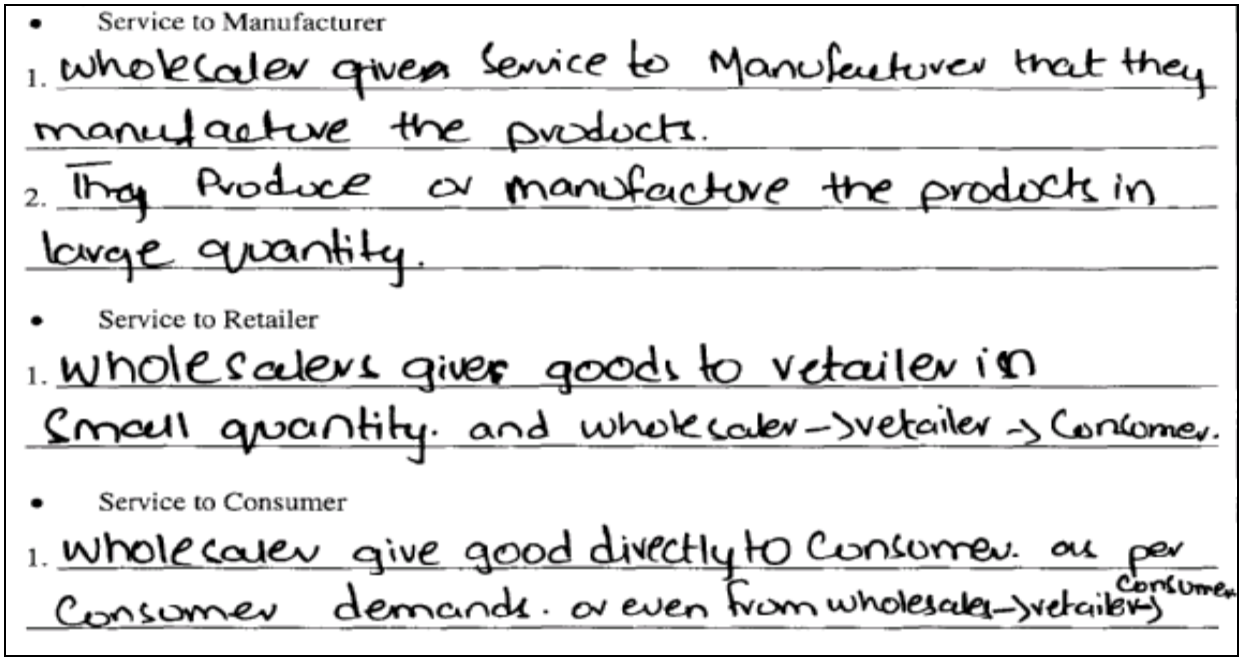

1. On time Delivery :- Wholesalers are effecient and provide best of their services also they're located near the retailers to provide goods on time.

- Service to Consumer

1. ~~[illegible]~~ Great Variety of goods :- Since wholesalers have contracts with a lot of manufacturers, they have a great local and international variety of goods which a customer can buy with a bulk discount.

Weaker responses indicated that candidates were confused about different channels of distributions. These responses mentioned irrelevant functions of channels of distribution. Some candidates instead of mentioning services provided, mentioned distribution channel. Moreover, few responses misinterpret the question and instead of mentioning services of wholesalers, wrote services provided by these channels of distribution to wholesalers.

Example:

- Service to Manufacturer

1. wholesaler gives Service to Manufacturer that they manufacture the products.
2. They Produce or manufacture the products in large quantity.

- Service to Retailer

1. wholesalers give goods to retailer in small quantity. and wholesaler -> retailer -> Consumer.

- Service to Consumer

1. wholesaler give good directly to Consumer. as per Consumer demands. or even from wholesaler -> retailer -> Consumer

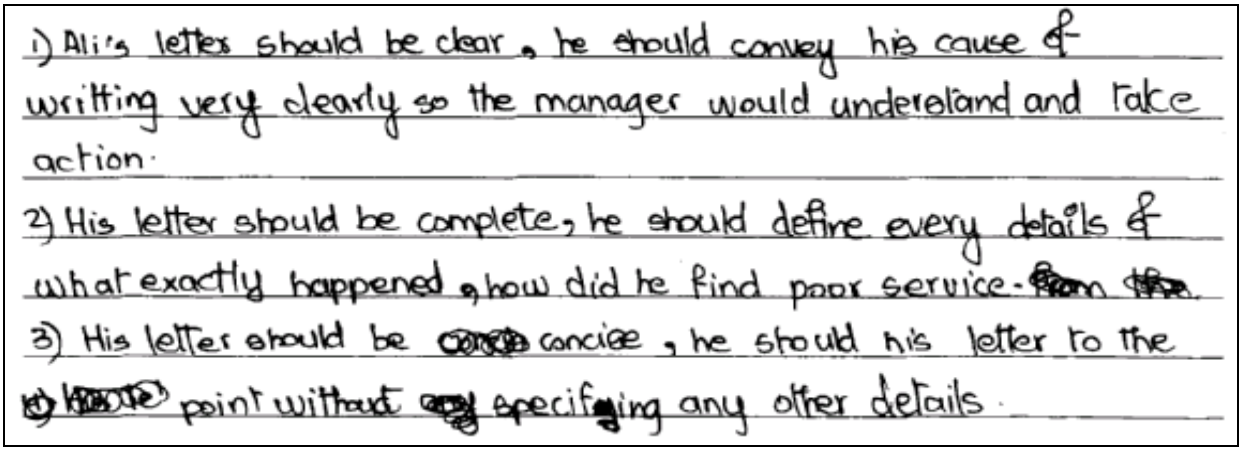

Question 8:

Ali went with his family to a restaurant. He was very upset with the service and quality of the food served. Ali wants to complain about unsatisfactory service and food by writing about his experience to the restaurant Manager.

Mention any THREE points Ali should consider while writing a complaint letter.

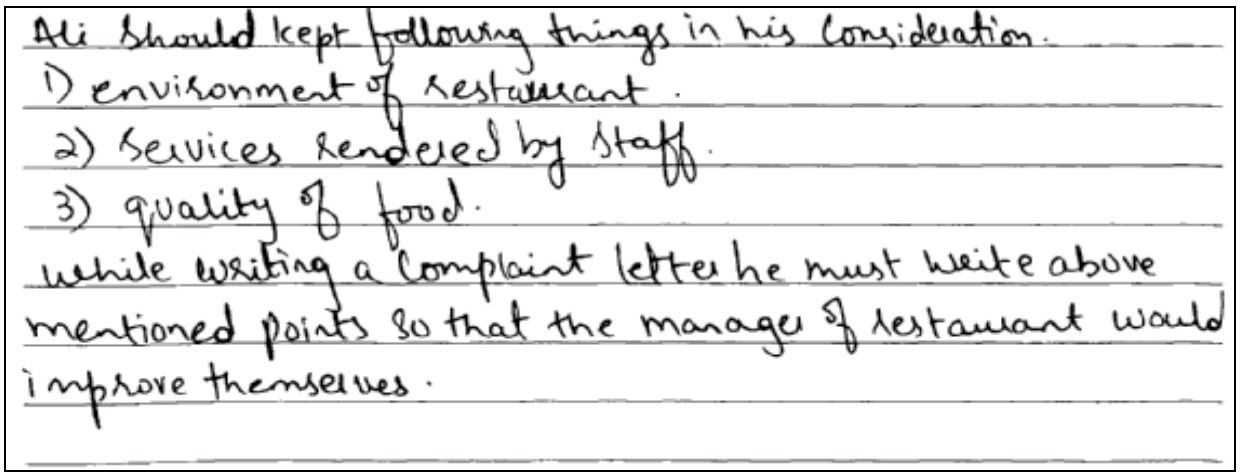

Better responses were of two types. First type of responses mentioned essentials of business writing, i.e. 7 Cs of business communication. Second type of responses instead of referring to 7 Cs mentioned points in connection to the scenario like Ali should mention factual details about quality of food and should launch his complain accordingly, instead of getting aggressive he should be polite with positive attitude.

Example:

1) Ali's letter should be clear, he should convey his cause of writting very clearly so the manager would understand and take action.
2) His letter should be complete, he should define every details of what exactly happened, how did he find poor service.
3) His letter should be concise, he should his letter to the point without specifying any other details.

Weaker responses could not relate the scenario with the solution and mentioned the points that were given in the question. These responses showed that candidates were unclear about 7 Cs of business communication. Few responses instead of writing features of complaint letter wrote features of dunning letter, which shows incorrect knowledge of the types of business letter.

Example:

Ali should kept following things in his consideration.
1) environment of restaurant.
2) Services rendered by staff.
3) quality of food.
while writing a complaint letter he must write above mentioned points so that the manager of restaurant would improve themselves.

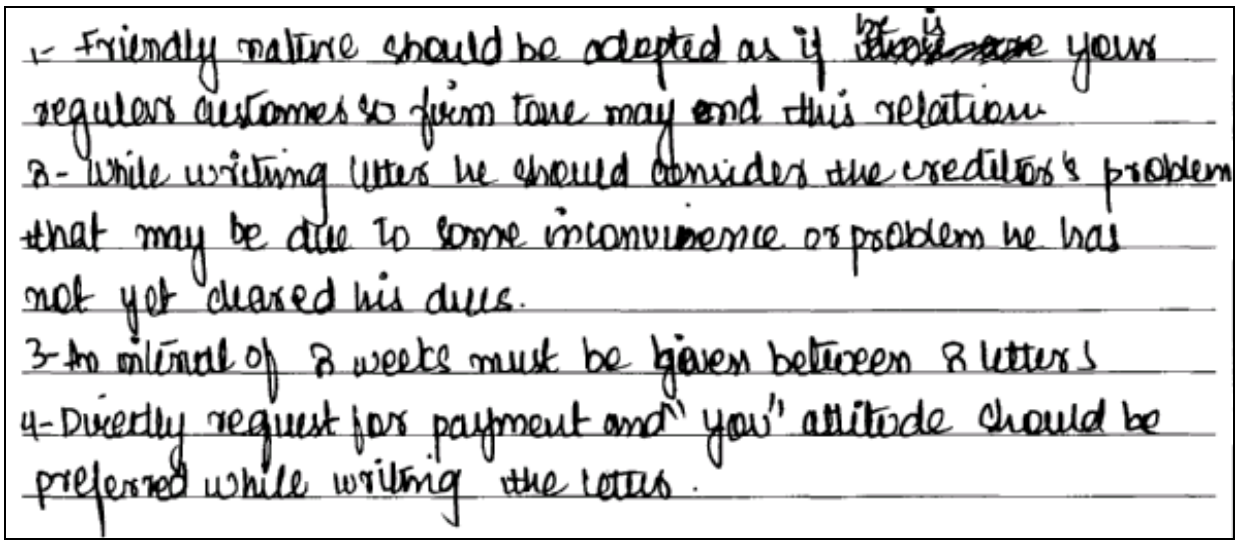

Question 9:

Basit sold goods of Rs 38,700 to Wasif on credit on April 01, 2017. The amount is still due on December 31, 2017. Basit is planning to write a dunning letter to Wasif.

Discuss any THREE features that Basit should consider for writing a dunning letter.

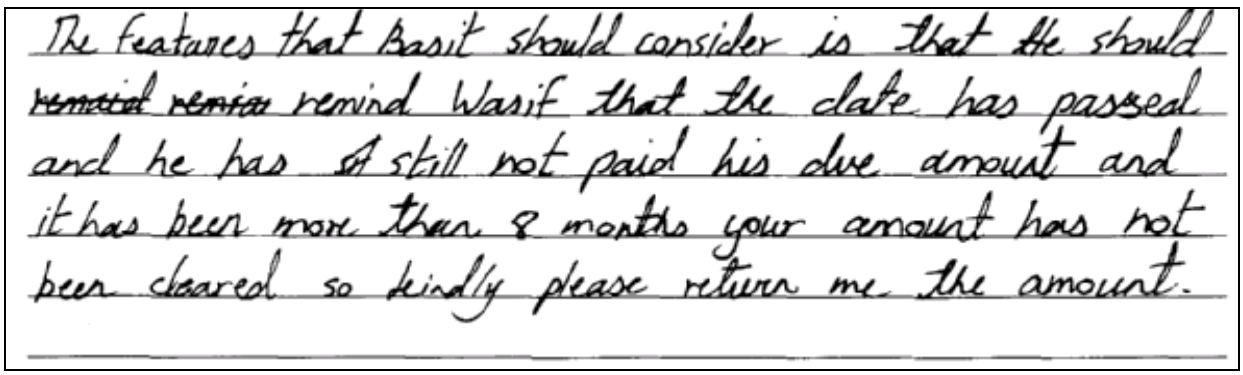

Better responses were those where candidates were able to write the features of dunning letter; like, it should be a polite reminder and should be courteous and repetitive i.e. more than one. Few responses also related the given scenario with 7 Cs of business communication and explained it accordingly.

Example:

1- Friendly nature should be adopted as if he is your regulers customes so firm tone may end this relation
2- While writing letter he should considers the creditors problem that may be due to some inconvinence or problem he has not yet cleared his dues.
3- An interval of 2 weeks must be given between 2 letters
4- Directly request for payment and "you" attitude should be preferred while writing the letter.

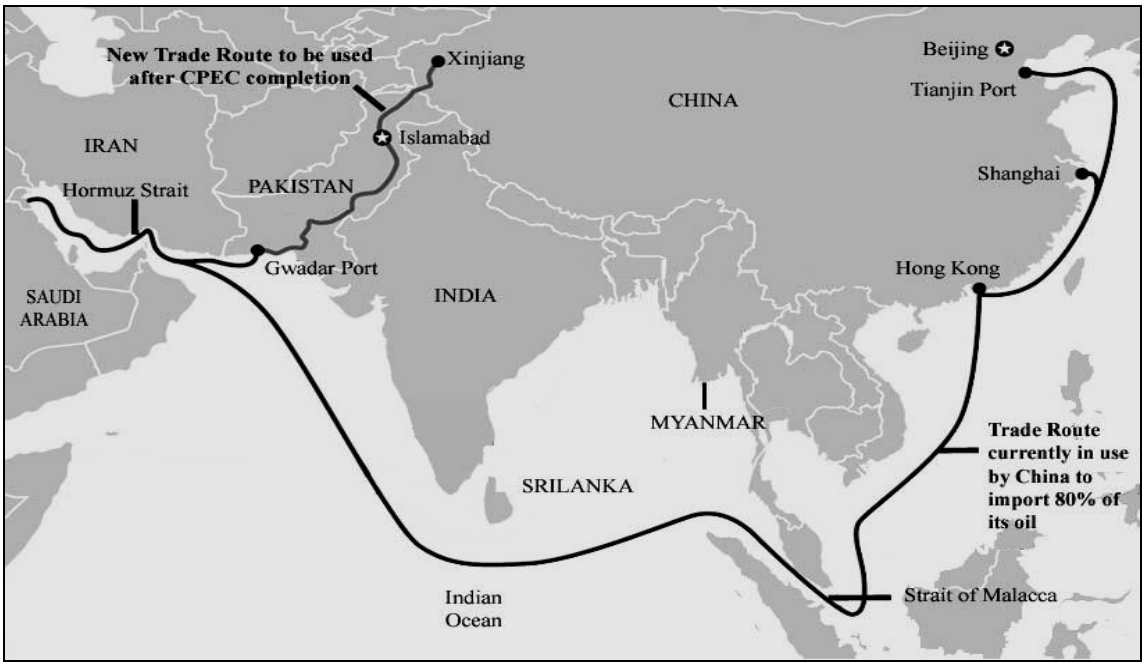

Weaker responses showed that the candidates were not clear with the type of letter and either rephrased the question or gave inappropriate response by mentioning point; like, he should give reminder call, sue the client etc. Few responses instead of writing features, wrote the main body part of a dunning letter.

Example:

The features that Basit should consider is that he should remind Wasif that the date has passed and he has still not paid his due amount and it has been more than 8 months your amount has not been cleared so kindly please return me the amount.

Question 10:

China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC) is a framework of regional connectivity that will have many benefits for China and Pakistan.

Discuss any FOUR benefits of new trade route shown in the given map for Pakistan and China.

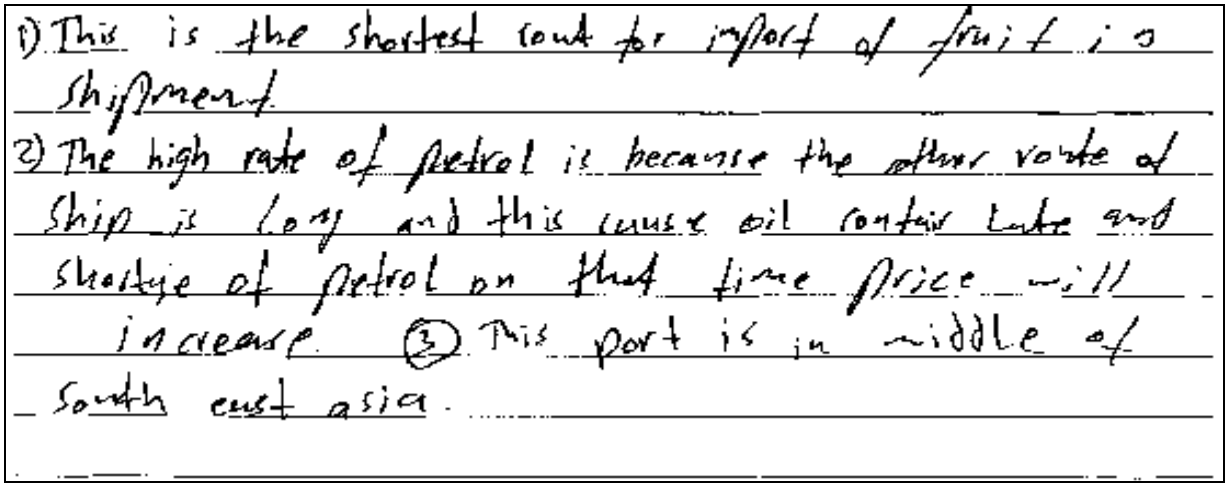

Better responses reflected that candidates were aware of the current affairs and were able to analyse the impact of these current affairs with the relevant field. Here candidates mentioned advantages; like, increase in trade opportunities, better relationship between the countries, decrease in cost, better employment opportunity and shorter route, etc. with reference to Pakistan and China.

Example:

1) china will get a huge market to sell their products through this route
2) A large no. of People (7,00,000) will get employed bcoz so many trades will come into being
3) New roads and infrastructure facilities will develop for pakistan and transportation will be easier.
4) China will get Oil in a cheap way/less cost effective way from iran & Saudi Arabia.
5) China and pakistan relation will be good and also will be good with other countries.

Weaker responses did not connect the advantages with the given scenario and mentioned the general advantages of the new trade route; like, ease of international trade and short route. Few responses mentioned irrelevant points such as chances of opening new business and less chances of terrorism etc.

Example:

1) This is the shortest route for import of fruit is shipment.
2) The high rate of petrol is because the other route of ship is long and this cause oil reach late and shortage of petrol on that time price will increase. (3) This port is in middle of South east asia.

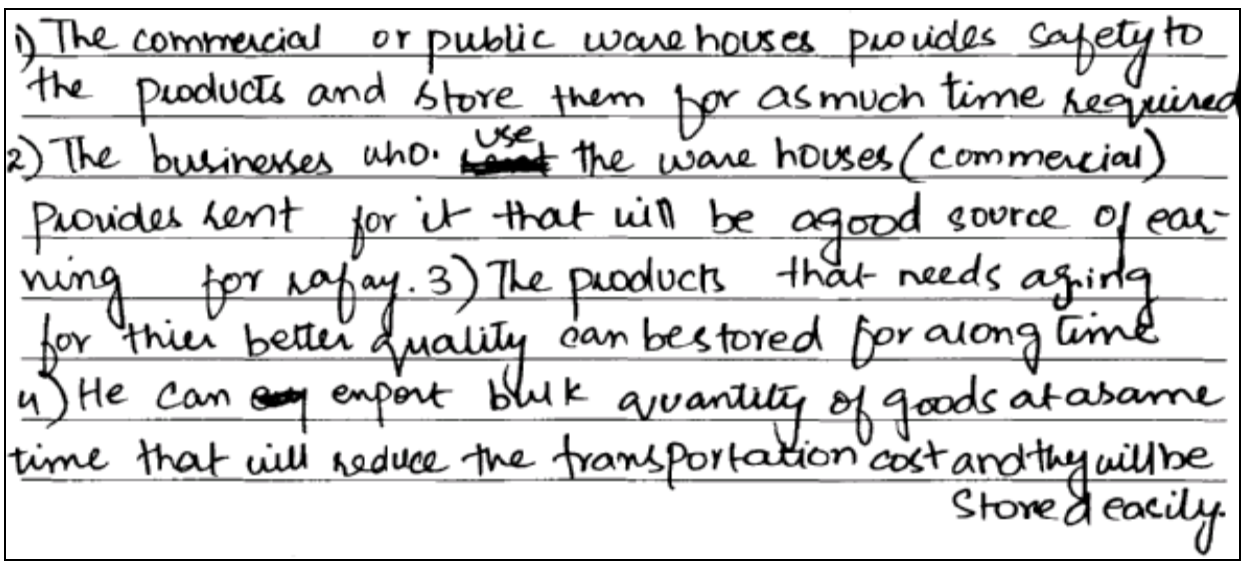

Question 11:

Rafay is an owner of an export business. His friend advised him to open a commercial warehouse for storing his own as well as goods of other businesses.

Explain any FOUR benefits of commercial warehousing to Rafay.

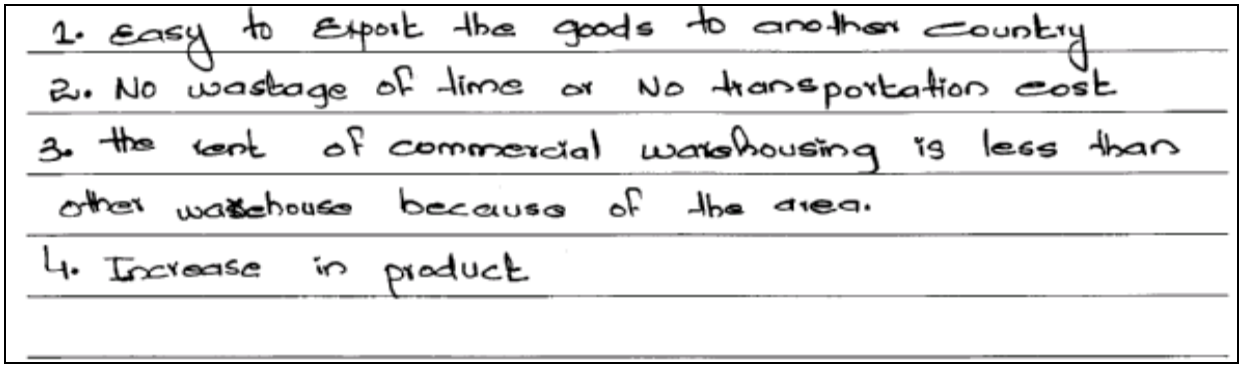

Better responses indicated good understanding of the concept tested. Candidates were able to explain various advantages of warehousing such as bearing of risk, price stabilization, financial assistance and movement of goods, etc.

Example:

1) The commercial or public ware houses provides safety to the products and store them for as much time required
2) The businesses who use the ware houses (commercial) provides rent for it that will be a good source of earning for Rafay. 3) The products that needs aging for thier better quality can be stored for a long time
4) He can export bulk quantity of goods at a same time that will reduce the transportation cost and they will be store d easily.

Weaker responses showed that the candidates lack the understanding of the command words. These responses instead of explaining these advantages, listed the advantages which also indicated lack of comprehension skills. Few responses only mentioned the general advantages of warehousing, these responses did not relate their answers to Mr Rafay.

Example:

Extended Response Question (ERQs)

Question 12

These questions offered a choice among part a, b and c. In question 12, part a was about feature of sole proprietor and its advantages, part b was related to advantages and disadvantages of partnership business and part c was related to difference between shares and debentures. Majority of the candidates attempted option a and b and did well.

Question 12 a:

Talal is a sole owner of a business that provides software services to different businesses in town.

In order to expand his business further, he is considering the following options:

- Convert his business into partnership by admitting his friend Nisar.
- Open another software house in a nearby town by borrowing money from bank.

i. Explain ONE feature of sole owner business.
ii. If you were in Talal's place, which option would you select? Justify your choice with THREE reasons.

Better responses reflected that candidates have good understanding of type of business. In part (ii) most of the candidates opted for converting their business into partnership. In response to justification part candidates included advantages such as more capital generation, distribution of work, interest cost will be saved and ease of managing business.

Example:

i. ~~Limited Capital~~ Entire Profit: Since the sole trader is the only owner of his business he enjoys the benefit of having the entire profit.

ii. If I were in Talal's place I would convert my business into partnership by admitting my friend Nisar.

a) The capital would increase as Nisar would contribute some money & it won't be a liability for the business.

b) Better decisions can take place since Nasir would also be an owner. It is a saying that two minds are better than one mind. Chances of wrong decisions & mistakes will be very less.

c) The work load and responsibilities will be divided. Since, there are two owners now both will jointly carry out all the business ventures.

Weaker responses indicated that candidates were unable to comprehend the question and wrote irrelevant points. These responses included points like unlimited liability, division of profit and easy to dissolve which are not point of justification and were not considered while marking. Few responses mentioned wrong advantages of partnership in response to justification.

Example:

c) Small business

- open another software house in nearby town by borrowing money from Bank Because his Bussiness Expanded due to the open new software.
- No documents is required for get the permission from goverment.
- No rules and regulation to follow
- Unlimited liability

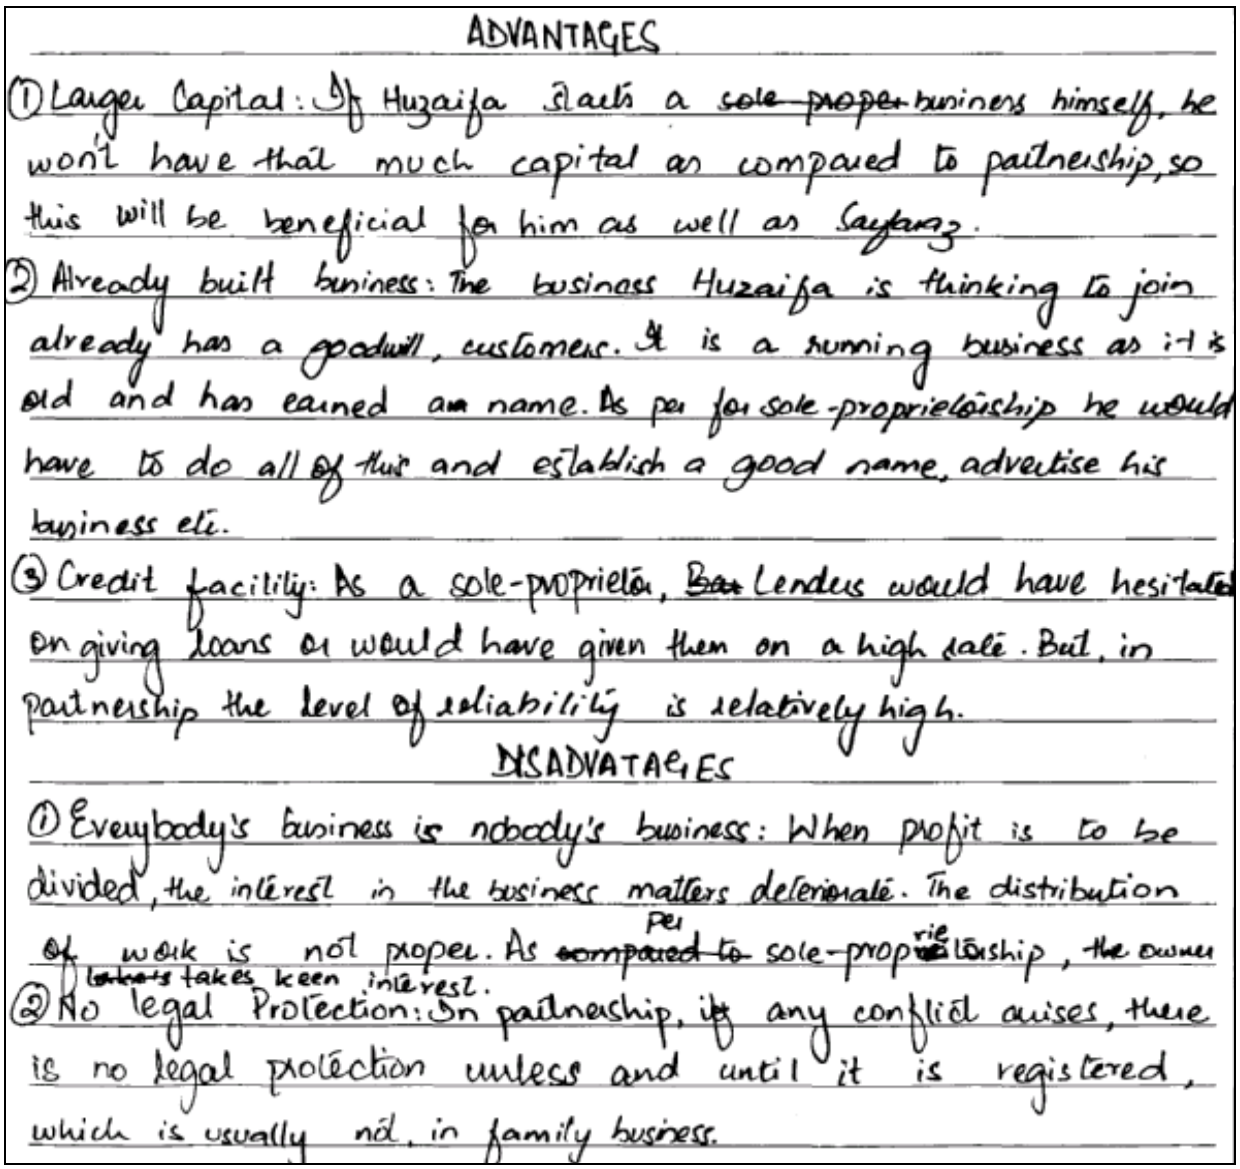

Question 12b:

Huzaifa, after completing his graduation in commerce, is planning to do business rather than doing job. His brother advised him to start a joint business with his cousin Sarfraz, who is an owner of a furniture outlet for last five years.

In light of the given scenario, discuss THREE advantages and TWO disadvantages of having a joint business for Huzaifa.

Better responses reflected that candidates have good information about partnership business. These responses met the demand of the question well by discussing advantages; such as more capital, ease to expand business, better decision making, shared role and responsibilities and better market standing etc. These responses also connected the given advantages and disadvantages with the given situation.

Example:

ADVANTAGES

① Larger Capital: If Huzaifa starts a ~~sole proper~~ business himself, he won't have that much capital as compared to partnership, so this will be beneficial for him as well as Sayfan.

② Already built business: The business Huzaifa is thinking to join already has a goodwill, customers. It is a running business as it is old and has earned a name. As per for sole-proprietorship he would have to do all of this and establish a good name, advertise his business etc.

③ Credit facility: As a sole-proprietor, ~~Bank~~ Lenders would have hesitated on giving loans or would have given them on a high rate. But, in partnership the level of reliability is relatively high.

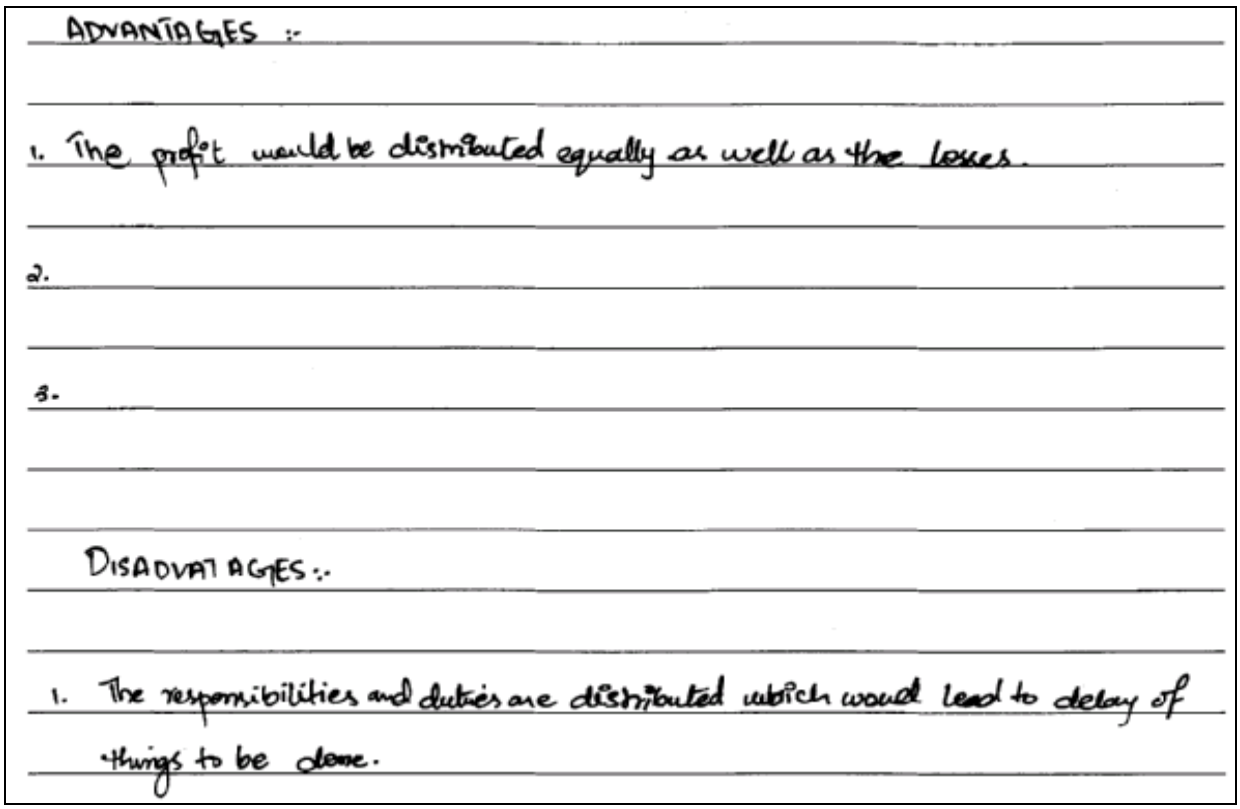

DISADVATAGES

① Everybody's business is nobody's business: When profit is to be divided, the interest in the business matters deteriorate. The distribution of work is not proper. As ~~compared to~~ per sole-proprietorship, ~~the owner~~ ~~labours~~ takes keen interest.

② No legal Protection: In partnership, if any conflict arises, there is no legal protection unless and until it is registered, which is usually not in family business.

Weaker responses showed that many candidates were unable to comprehend the question. These responses indicated that candidates got confused by the word 'joint business' in the question and mentioned the advantages and disadvantages of joint stock company instead of partnership business. Few responses showed incomplete knowledge of the concept test and failed to meet the number of required advantage and disadvantages. Some responses got confused between advantages and disadvantages and wrote opposite features.

Example:

ADVANTAGES :-

1. The profit would be distributed equally as well as the losses.

2.

3.

DISADVANTAGES :-

1. The responsibilities and duties are distributed which would lead to delay of things to be done.

Question 12c:

Shares and debentures both are sources of finance for a limited liability business, but both are different from each other in various ways.

Differentiate between shares and debentures on the basis of the following. (Attempt any FIVE.)

Basis for Comparison	Shares	Debentures
Meaning
Status of holders
Form of return
Payment of return
Voting rights
Conversion
Repayment in the event of winding up

Better responses were able to distinguish between both the sources of finance for a joint stock company. These responses also indicated that candidates have clear idea about the nature and working of these modes of finance. Few responses also elaborated the difference instead of giving one word answer.

Example:

Basis for Comparison	Shares	Debentures
Meaning	Shares is the ownership certificate of a Joint stock Company.	Debentures are the loans provided by creditors to a Joint stock company.
Status of holders	They are known as share-holders and are the owners of business	They are known as debenture holders. They are not owners but creditors of JSC.
Form of return	Share-holders receive divident	Debenture holders receive Interest on loan.
Payment of return
Voting rights	shareholders are given voting rights and say in matters of company	Debunture holders are not given any say and not given voting rights in the matters of company
Conversion	They can't be converted to debuntures.	It can be converted to shares.
Repayment in the event of winding up	They would be given amount according to their investment in profit and will give money according to their investment in case of loss.	It will be given its loan and interest in the first place whether there is profit or loss.

Weaker responses were of two types: First type of responses showed incomplete knowledge of the concept tested. This was because of the basis of difference given in the question which restricted the answer candidates have learned. Second type of responses reflected inappropriate knowledge of the two modes of finance as these responses mentioned differences in the opposite columns.

Example:

Basis for Comparison	Shares	Debentures
Meaning	Who invest in a big company their Share.
Status of holders
Form of return
Payment of return
Voting rights	Don't have voting rights	Have voting rights
Conversion
Repayment in the event of winding up	Do not get the Piority	Get the first Piority

Question 13

These questions offered a choice between part a and b. Question 13, Part a was based on measures to overcome barriers of communication whereas part b was related to factors of production and its characteristics. Candidates attempted both the question in almost same proportion and did well.

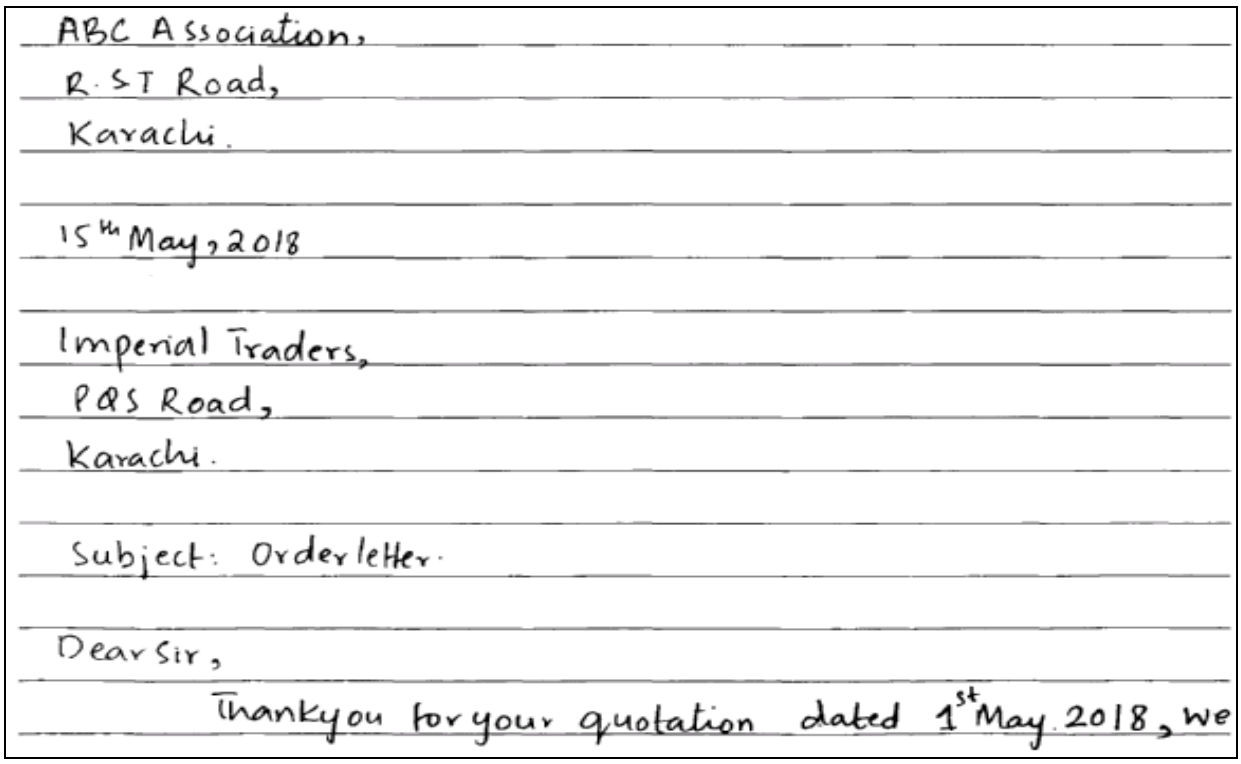

Question 13a:

Consider yourself as a purchase officer. Draft a purchase order for the following electronic items to Imperial Traders for the home appliances of your company's guest house.

Items Required	Quantity
Electronic Iron	02
Washing Machine	01
Air conditioner 1.5 ton	02
Television	03

Better responses showed that candidates wrote letter with proper format and presentation and they also included the appropriate details; like, expected date of delivery, mode and time of payment and quantity and brand that is needed, etc. to support the details in the given situation. These responses made appropriate use of business writing principles.

Example:

ABC Association,
R.ST Road,
Karachi.

15th May, 2018

Imperial Traders,
P&S Road,
Karachi.

Subject: Order letter.

Dear Sir,

Thankyou for your quotation dated 1st May 2018, we would like to buy the following items from your store for the purpose of our guest house.

Items Required	Quantity
Electronic Iron	02
Washing Machine	01
Airconditioner 1.5 ton	02
Television	03

We would request you to send the best quality material at your earliest. Please pack them in strong case and send us by passengers train. The payment will be made if the items received ~~satisfied~~ are in best quality.

Yours Faithfully,

A.B.C

Weaker responses showed that candidates were either unable to manage time or they lack comprehension skills due to which many candidates just copy-pasted the table given in the question. Few responses indicated that candidates have incomplete or inappropriate knowledge of the format and presentation of letter writing format and wrote it abruptly.

Example:

Imperial Traders
M.T Khan Road Karachi

15-May-2018

Items Required	Quantity	Amount
Electronic Iron	02	1200
Washing Machine	01	5000
Air conditioner 1.5 ton	02	40,000
Television	03	80,000
	Total	126500

Sign:

Question 13b:

A group of students are searching for information regarding a company for their Class Presentation. As a member of the group, write a letter to Ms Aliya, the public relations director, of a well-known multinational company, and ask for information about her company.

Your letter should focus on the profit, market share and financial status of the company.

Better responses indicated that candidates were able to draft an inquiry letter properly. These responses mentioned the key and specific details needed for the presentation. These responses showed that the candidates have good command over 7Cs of written communication. Necessary details included by the candidates were market share, average profit and rate of return for a specific period, share price and expected future price of shares and profit.

Example:

ABC School

XYZ road Karachi

Karachi

15-May-2018

Nestle

Ms Aliya

Director Public Relations

Nestle Company

Dear Madam

It is a great opportunity of writing this letter on behalf of my fellow students to you.

As well all know that Nestle is one of the biggest Multinational companies, we want to collect some information regarding this company for our class presentation.
It will be your kindness that you will share some information about the company. As It is one of the biggest multinational companies so that profit would also be in huge amount. We want to know the annual profit of the company. The sharres of Nestle are increasing weekly or sometimes monthly. Which is a great news for the share holders of Nestle. We want to know that in coming 3-4 years where do you think your share price will be, Will it be increasing or decreasing. The last thing that we want to know is the financial status of your company. Is it stable or not and if it is stable then how many years you see the company stable.
I promise you that this information would be confedential and won't be leaked out.
Looking forward towards your positive response

Your's Sincerely

Weaker responses indicated that candidates were unable to mention necessary details in connection to the given situation and loose marks. Improper format and presentation also resulted in deduction of marks during e-marking as marks are awarded for both format and content.

Example:

A, B, C
Karachi
Dated May: 15: 2018

Dear miss Aliya:

May I invite your intention we will pleased give a little inforformation about the company.
This is our class prestation and we hope you dont mind to share the information about Profit, market share and financial Status of the company.
we will be very thankfull to you